CAVALIER

1983

Above and clockwise: Our mascot the Knight.
The last day of school for the seniors

Amy Fitzmaurice — Editor
Wyle Williams — Assistant Editors
Cheryl Hicks
Jeff Rayhill
Dana Brunk — Staff Members
Kristin Lark
Todd Kunkel
Penny Kurtz
Amy Fitzmaurice — Photographers
Jeff Rayhill
Victor Buntz
Victor Buntz — Advisor

1983
Cavalier
Volume 17
South Holt R-1
Oregon, Mo.

Table of Contents and Index

Title Page	1
Contents	2
Foreword	3
Introduction	4-8
Activities	9
Student Council	10-11
National Honor Society	12-13
Knight Life	14-15
Cavalier	16-17
Future Homemakers of America	18-19
Lettermen's Club	20-21
Cheerleaders	22-23
Wrestling Cheerleaders	24
Musicians	25
Marching Band	26-27
Concert Band	28-29
Contest and Ratings	30-31
Choir and Ratings	32-33
Pep Band	34
Athletics	35
Football	36-39
Basketball (boys and girls)	40-47
Wrestling	48-49
Track	50-51
Dedication to coaches	52
Entertainers	53
Assemblies	54-55
Sock Hops	56-57
Spirit Week	58-59
Homecoming	60-61
Christmas Dance	62
Future Homemakers of America Week	63
Sweetheart Dance	64
Prom	65-67
Career Day	68
Junior High	69
Junior High Christmas Dance	70
Junior High Spring Dance	71
Junior High Football	72
Junior High Track	73
Junior High Basketball (boys and girls)	74-75
Grade Seven	76-77
Grade Eight	78-79
Junior High Cheerleaders and Student Council	80
Instructors	81
Personnel	82-83
Board of Education	84
Administration	85
Faculty	86-90
Personalities	91
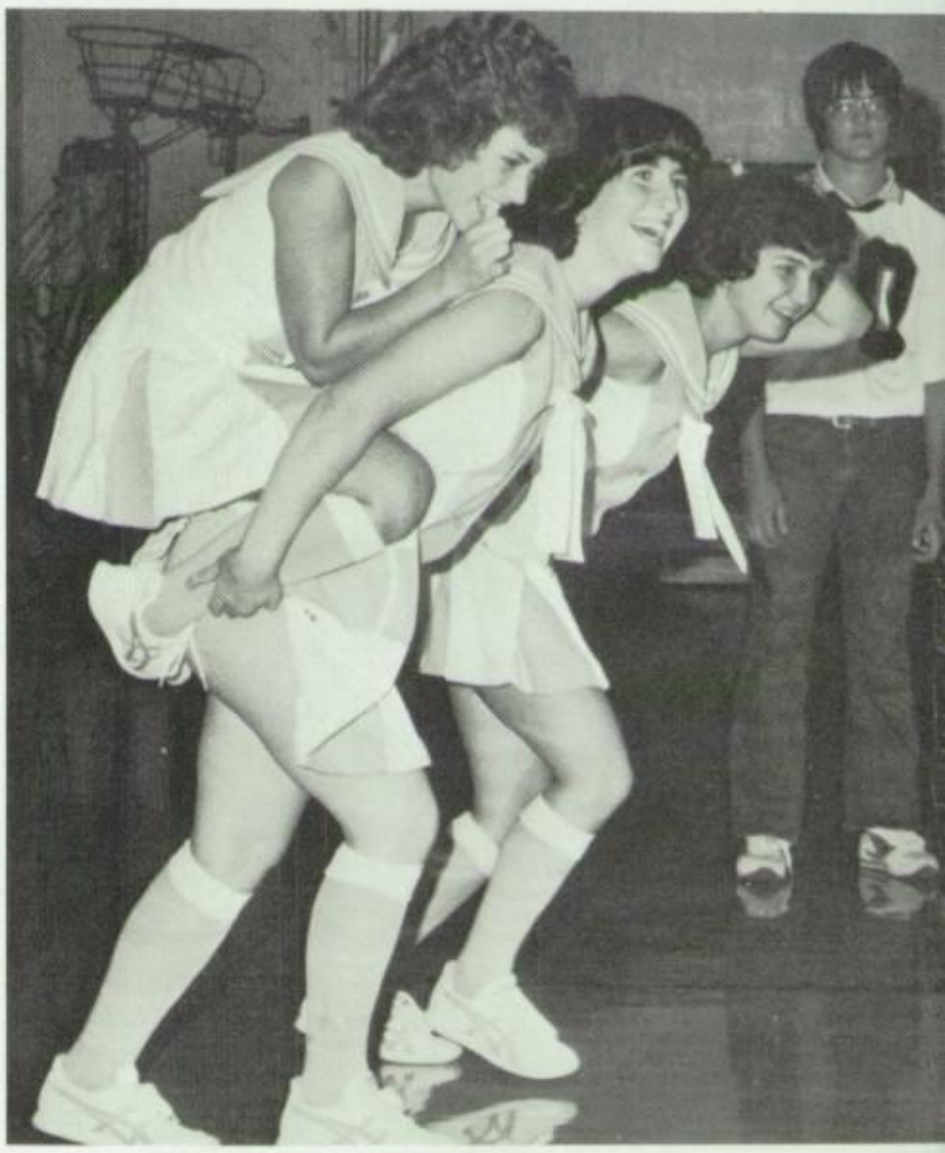
Freshmen	92-93
Sophomores	94-95
Juniors	96-97
Seniors	98-105
Senior Trip	106-107
Graduation	108-109
Denouement	110-111
Finale	112



Top and clockwise: The audience is pleased with a costume of a freshman. Shelly Scroggins and Carla Bender put on a skit for a pep assembly. Linda Wilson shows off her skills on the dictaphone.

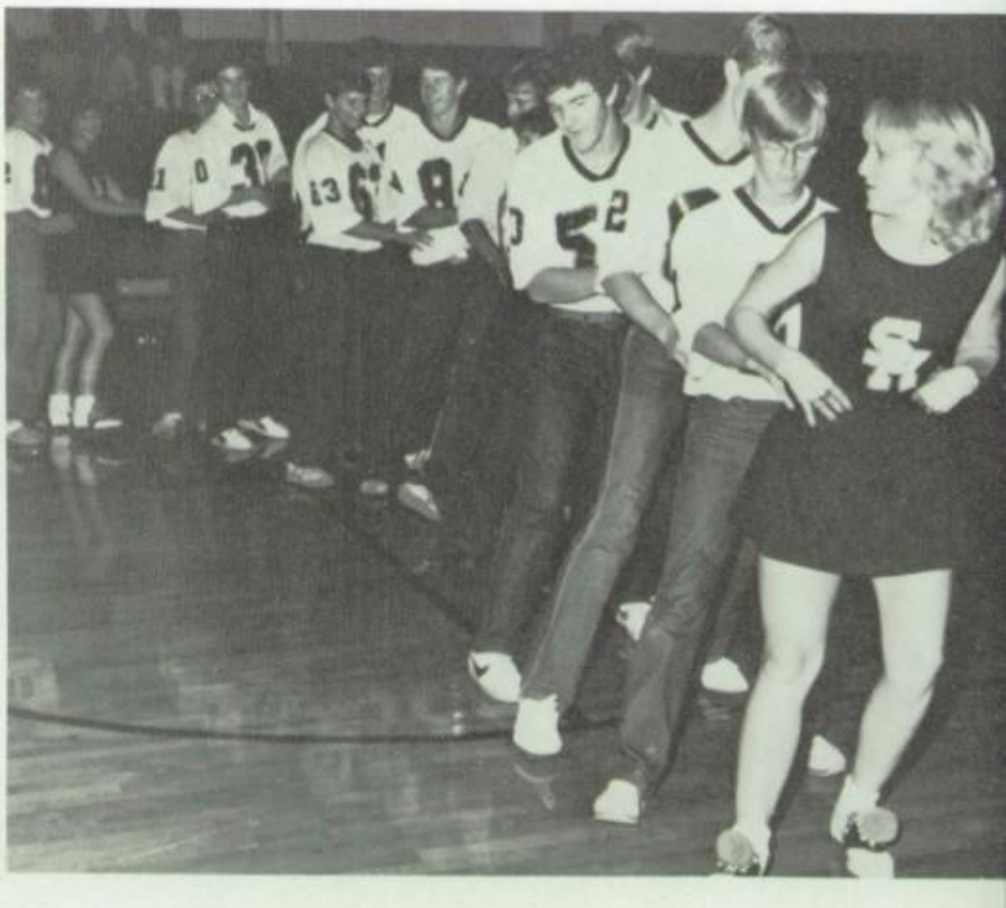
Each year the halls are filled with eager students. All of which having set new goals and dreams for the year. As they struggle through the ups and downs, the victories and defeats, and the year itself, they strive to achieve these goals and make their dreams become realities. In making these events happen, memories of the good times and the bad times we had with our friends—laughing and crying—are imprinted in our minds forever.

It is the hope of the CAVALIER staff that we capture those memories, to save in pictures those events that have made us into the people we are today.

Let's now enter the halls of South Holt High School and look at how those dreams became realities.

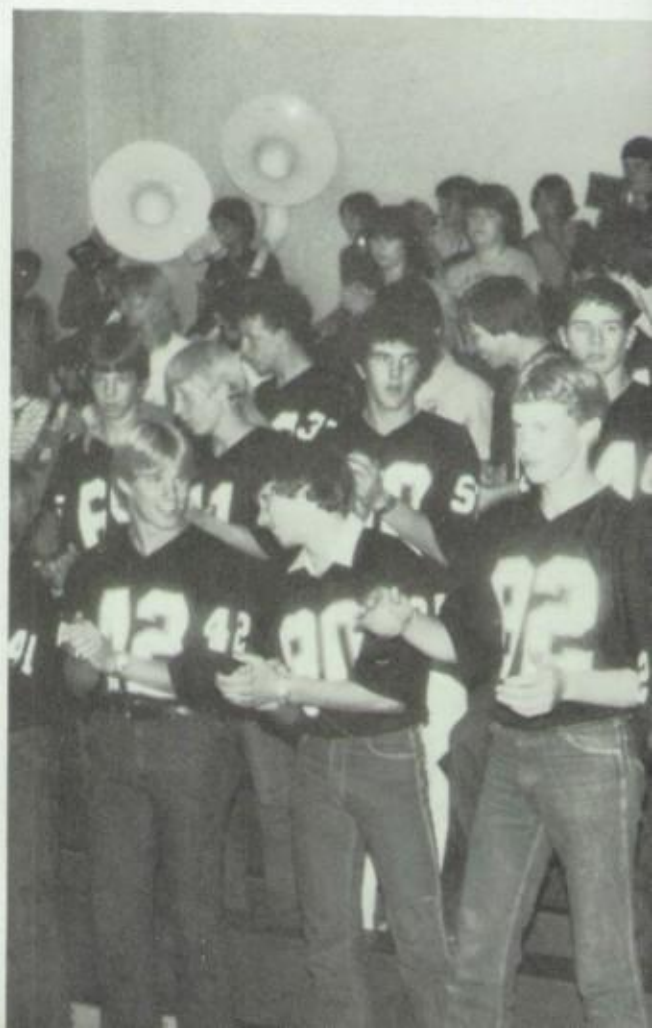
Amy Fitzmaurice—Editor

Above and clockwise: Rhonda Hunziger "leaps" with excitement during a pep assembly. James Dudeck is shown with some munchies during the Christmas Dance. Lending a "sit" on the junior class dunking booth is Russell Slusher. Kelly Steeby and Becky Normile take a break from their classes. Wyle Williams explains to freshman Eric Huntsman the proper way to treat a senior.



We've traveled a long way together...

Above and clockwise: Junior Gillenwater, Richard Greene, Jeff Phelan, and Edwin Patterson listen to a discussion during a meeting. Danny Weber seems confused by a magician's tricks. Sondra Snapp leads a train of football players. Waving from their top row seat at an assembly are Anna Book, Sherry Buckles, Lora Scroggins, Amy Fitzmaurice, and Dana Brunk. The student body joins in during a fight song. James Dudeck and Mark Howell work on a shop project.



To achieve all that is possible
We must attempt the impossible.
To be all that we can be
We must dream of being more.

...And there have been a lot of good times!

Top left and clockwise: Lori McWilliams mummifys Sue Cook during a contest. Penny Kurtz works with an experiment. Anna Book, Dana Brunk, and Lora Scroggins take a breather following a parade. Ryan Radley clowning around again.

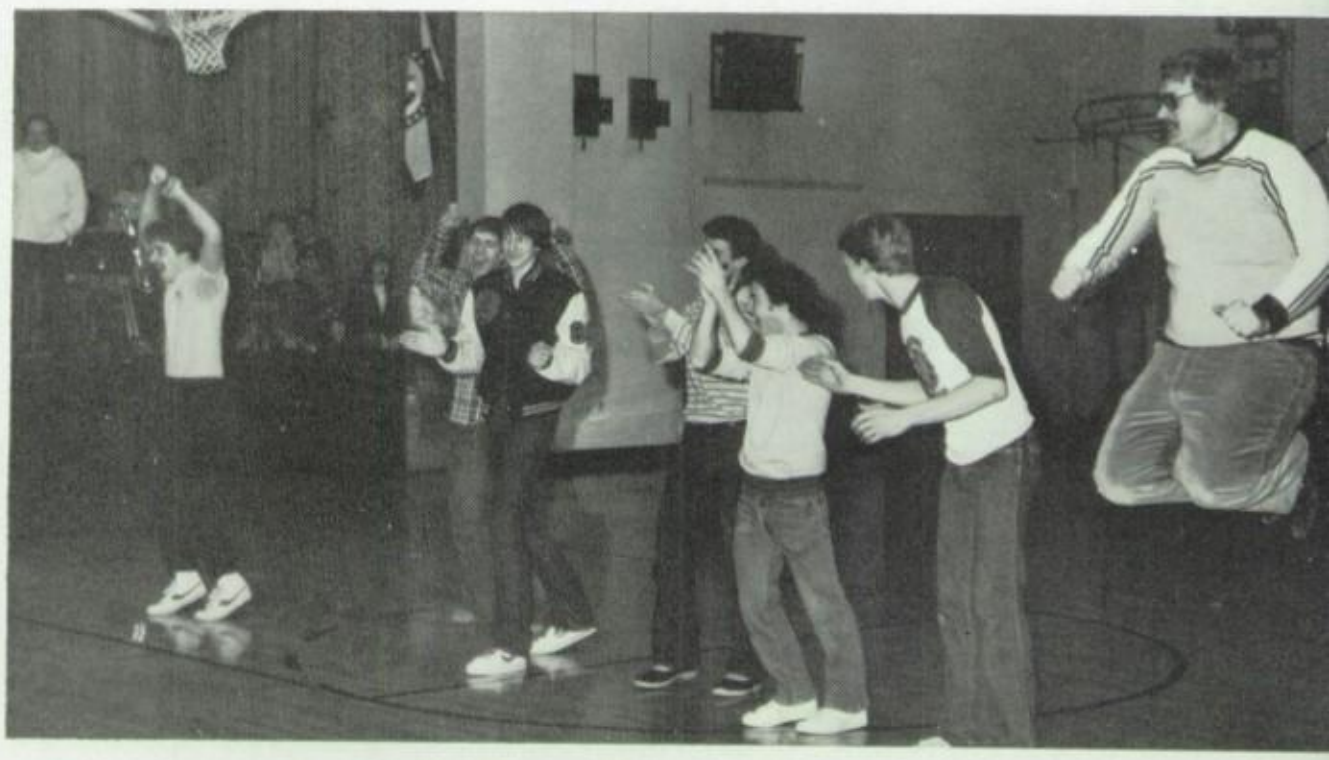
Remember the dreams we dreamed together...

Above and clockwise: Sherry Buckles and Amy Fitzmaurice lead the band in a corner on the football field during rehearsal. Amy Hughes cheers for the wrestling team. The cheerleaders form a pyramid. Spencer Sisk grabs a bite at a dance.

Below and clockwise: Kyle Carmean puts together a radio. Greg Delp shows he has spirit while limping along beside the band. Majorettes Amy Fitzmaurice and Sherry Buckles prepare to hault the band during a street performance. Marcia Weber, Carri Thompson and Heidi Fitzmaurice show off the cake they baked for a birthday party.

...And all the joys we have shared!

I wish you well my friend...



Right and clockwise: The five starters from the boys team, plus coaches Ehlers and Barker show excitement after winning a contest. Carri Thompson dresses "crazy" for Homecoming week. Rhonda Hunziger brightens the windows during Christmas. Tracey Scroggins sings a solo for the crowd. Susie Steeby boards the bus for home.

ACTIVITIES

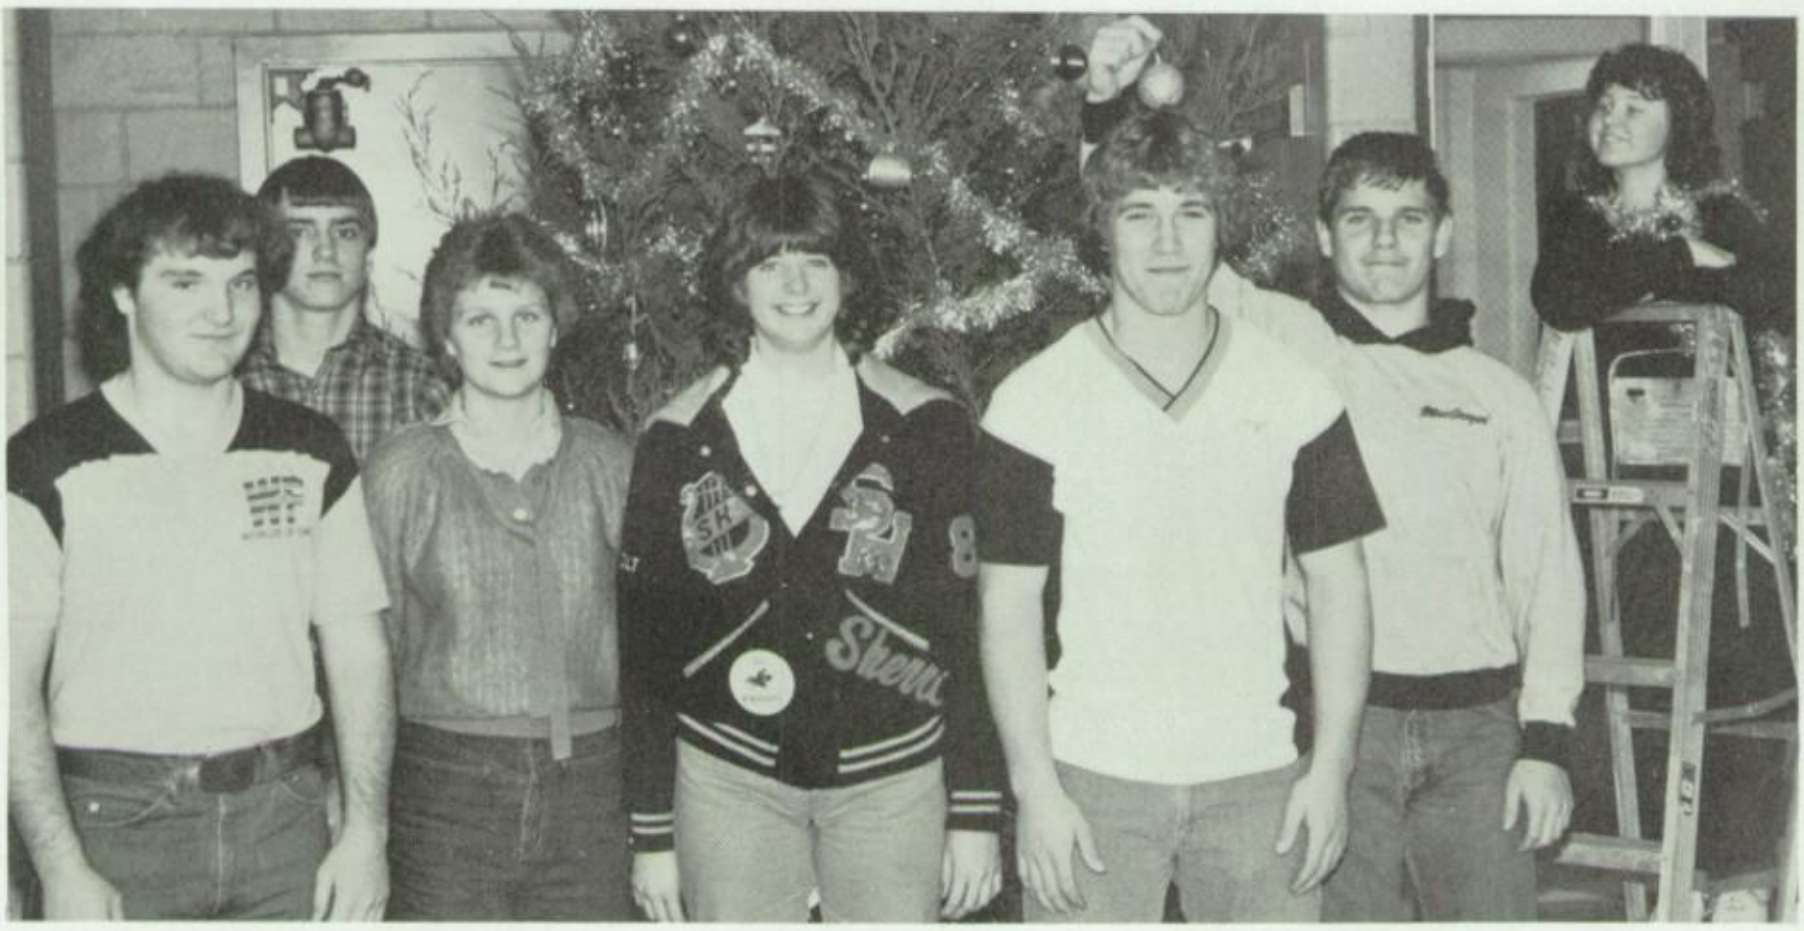
Left and clockwise: Cheryl Hicks describes the emblem of the National Honor Society during the installation. FHA officers, seated left to right: Diann Pierson, Sherry Buckles, President Amy Fitzmaurice, and Patty Hunziger. Standing: Mrs. Betty Ann McComb, Kristin Lark, Anna Book, Sondra Snapp, and Dana Brunk.

COUNCIL AIDS STUDENT BODY

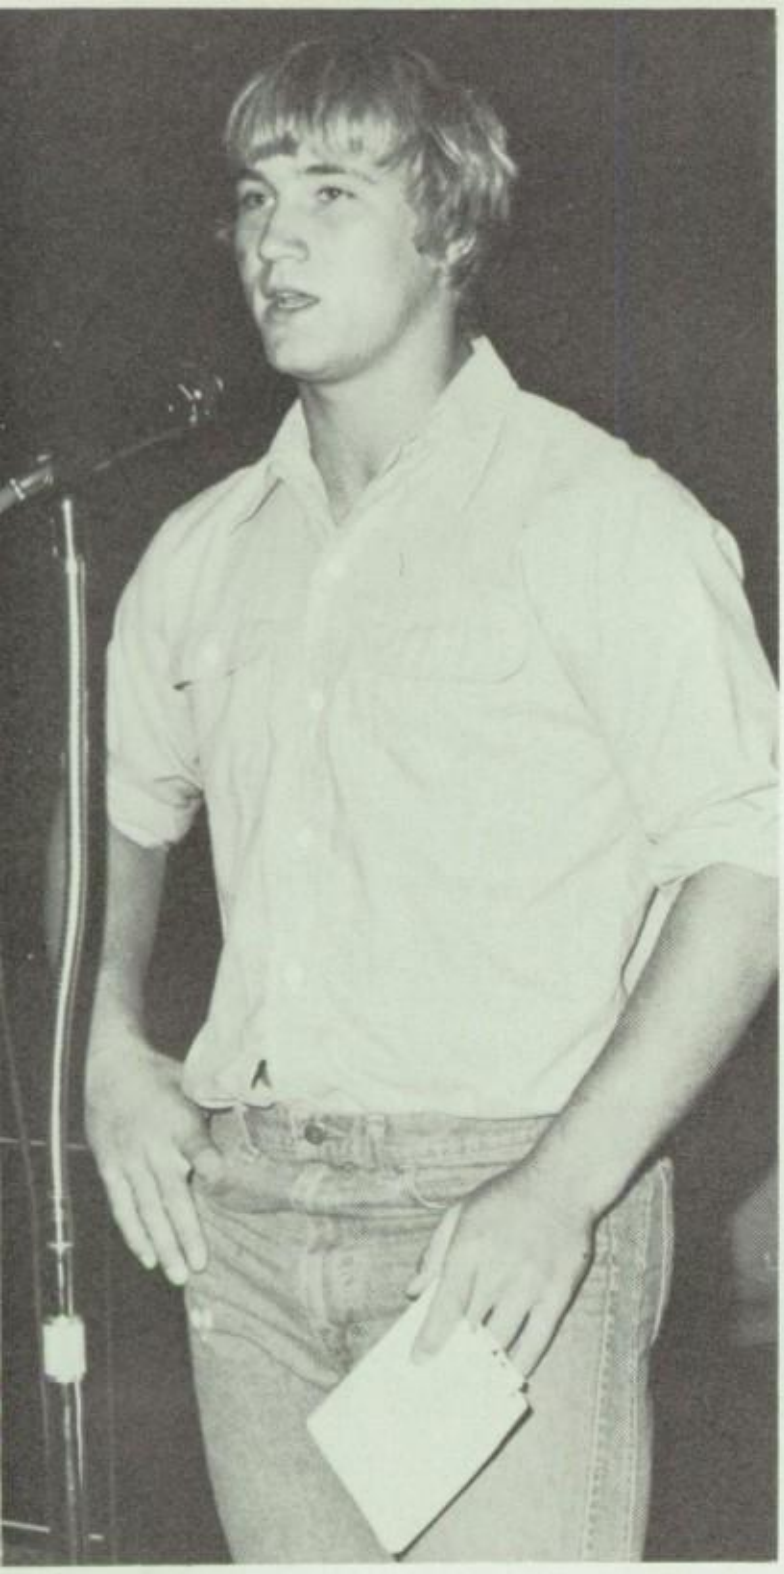
The student council completed a very successful year. Under the leadership of Albert Atkins-advisor, Russell Slusher-President, John Sommer-Vice-President, Sherry Buckles-Secretary, Wyle Williams-Treasurer, Dana Brunk, Jeff Cotton, Maurice Noellsch, Heidi Fitzmaurice, Mark Howell, and Julie Phelan, they presented a rewarding Christmas Dance. The band 'Tempest' from Maryville, Missouri, played the top songs of the times while punch and cookies were served. The refreshments were prepared by the Home Economics Department. The theme for the Christmas Dance was "The Magic of Christmas."

Other duties of the student council were manning the concession stand during games and the pop machine during the lunch hour, pickup up trash on the school lawn, and sponsoring the "Back to School Dance" in the fall. This latter activity is when freshmen are initiated into high school in a formal manner.

From the money earned during the year the student council was able to award five $100 scholarships to five lucky seniors to help them attend college. As a reward for their efforts Mr. Atkins accompanied the student council on a trip to St. Joseph, Missouri, in the spring.



Above and clockwise: Russell Slusher and Wyle Williams discuss the next song as Sherry Buckles looks on. Members of the council decorating for Christmas are; John Sommer, Maurice Noellsch, Dana Brunk, Sherry Buckles, Russell Slusher, Jeff Cotton, and Heidi Fitzmaurice. Russell Slusher hands over the gavel to the 1983-84 president, Jeff Cotton.



Left and clockwise: Heidi Fitzmaurice hangs a bulb on the tree. Russell Slusher introduces a guest speaker. Sherry Buckles proves she can make change to Lora Scroggins. Mark Howell and Jeff Cotton toy with the new stereo. Mark Howell adds another 30¢ to the council fund.

An Active Group

The Theta Sigma Phi Chapter of the National Honor Society inducted fifteen new members and nine provisionary members on March 8. Members are chosen by scholarship, character, leadership, and service. The senior members conducted the ceremony stating the goals and standards of the group.

The NHS took a trip April 15. They toured the Truman Library, visited the zoo after having a picnic lunch in Swope Park, went shopping, and later had dinner at Gojo's, a Japanese steak house.

Above and clockwise: Mrs. Jim Williams serves punch at the NHS induction ceremony. Roger Cromer lights his candle.

Above: The senior National Honor Society members. Left to right: Front row, Dennis Prussman, Edwin Patterson, Wyle Williams, Patty Hunziger, Sherry Matthews, Cheryl Hicks, Kelly Steeby, back row, Amy Fitzmaurice, Lora Scroggins, Joyce Moore, John Sommer, Richard Greene Roger Cromer, Richard Wilson, and Jeff Rayhill.

Above: The junior National Honor Society members. Left to right: Front row, Jeff Cotton, Dana Brunk, Susie Steeby, Carol Dudeck, Julie Hall, Penny Kurtz, Tracy Hurst, back row, Darin Crider, Todd Kunkel, Kyle Carmean, Steven Hicks, Ryan Radley, Jeff Huntsman, and Paul Plummer.

Above: Left to right: Front row, Carol Buckles, Mary Ann Howell, Debbie Hunziger, Lisa Meyer, Heidi Fitzmaurice, Mitch Williams, Maurice Noellsch, Richard Ottman, Diann Pierson.

Above: Lora Scroggins pins a carnation on Kyle Carmean.

Dana Brunk checks the file cabinet for copies of the Knight Times.

The KNIGHT TIMES

The journalism class produced the weekly KNIGHT TIMES this year. The space for this paper was provided by the TIMES OBSERVER. The class wrote their own stories, and students set their copy on the TIMES OBSERVER'S photo-typsetter and later proofread and pasted it up.

The editor for the paper changes every six weeks. The KNIGHT TIMES features the Roving Reporter and the Castle Comment, which is a column written by the teachers. Each individual in the class has his or her own special duties and stories to write.

Above: The journalism class. Seated is Anna Book. Left to right: Dana Brunk, Kristin Lark, Penny Kurtz, and Tracy Hurst.

Left and clockwise: Mrs. Waller, the journalism class advisor. The journalism class had a guest speaker, Jennette Swackhamer, who told of her work as a translator in V'Cameroons. Tracy Hurst studies papers of importance.

Cavalier Staff Works Hard

At the first of the '82-'83 season, the Cavalier Staff took a trip to Maryville for instruction on yearbook production.

After seeing how the annual should be constructed, the Cavalier staff worked through the year after school, on their free time, and in study halls finishing the yearbook.

The staff elected Amy Fitzmaurice as editor and Victor Buntz is the advisor. Seven other members are on the staff.

The staff worked extremely hard in completing the '82-'83 yearbook, and we hope it gives you many hours of enjoyment.

Above and clockwise: Mr. Buntz takes time for a picture. The 1982-83 CAVALIER staff is from left to right: Dana Brunk, Kirstin Lark, Todd Kunkel, Amy Fitzmaurice, Penny Kurtz, and Jeff Rayhill. (Not shown, Cheryl Hicks and Wyle Williams.) Cheryl Hicks adds pictures to a layout.

Left and clockwise: Amy Fitzmaurice helps Dana Brunk past up picture identifications. Penny Kurtz and Kristin Lark look at a yearbook at the Yearbook Workshop. Jeff Rayhill takes pictures at all angles. Todd Kunkel typing copy.

FHA Has Successful Year

The 1982-83 Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America had a year filled with much enthusiasm and hard work.

Once again the Chapter had 100 percent membership at the Regional Meeting.

The group had many money-making projects such as a car wash, concession stands, and selling french fries at football games. They collected money for the American Heart Association for a community project, and in the spring they hosted the annual Sweetheart Dance, one of the highlights of the school year.

The FHA trip, which was enjoyed at Kansas City, began with breakfast at Denny's in St. Joseph. Then, it was on to Independence Center for five fun-filled hours of shopping before going to Tiffany's Attic Dinner Theater to see the play "Busybody," starring Miss Billie Bird.

Other things the chapter did were to have an initiation for all new members, and they also held a combination installation and family night potluck dinner.

Above and clockwise: Amy Fitzmaurice, president of FHA, presides over one of the FHA meetings as officers Sondra Snapp, Sherry Buckles, Patty Hunziger, Kristin Lark, and Diann Pierson listen intently to what she has to say. Pam Elliott is taken by surprise on Punk Rock Day during FHA week. Dana Brunk receives the president's gavel from outgoing president Amy Fitzmaurice at installation.

Left and clockwise: Sherry Buckles is astonished at how clean she got the car she was working on at the car wash, while Anna Book is still working on her part of the car, and Amy Fitzmaurice and Dana Brunk seem to be having a water fight in the background. The 1982-83 FHA officers, from left to right: Kristin Lark, Sondra Snapp, Anna Book, Sherry Buckles, Amy Fitzmaurice, Dana Brunk, Lora Scroggins, and Diann Pierson. Advisor Mrs. Betty Ann McComb has on her most familiar smile.

Lettermen's Club Has Profitable Year

Once again the Lettermen's Club had a very profitable year. Under the leadership of President John Sommer, Vice-President Brett Derr, Secretary Amy Fitzmaurice, and Treasurer Junior Gillenwater, they manned the concession stand at the Junior High Tourney and held their annual fruit sale. The money they earned was used to purchase additional weights for the weight machine.

To become a member of this organization you must be an athlete and have lettered in a sport at least one year. It is considered an honor to be able to join.

Left and clockwise: Coach Ehlers presents Brett Derr with an award at the Athletic Banquet. The Lettermen's Club poses for a picture. Members of the boys 3200-meter relay team, Shane McWilliams, Danny Weber, Wyle Williams, Edwin Patterson and Bob Williams, are ready to leave for the state finals.

Above and clockwise: Jeff Rayhill and Amy Fitzmaurice help out in the concession stand during the Junior High Tournament. Kirby Meyer loads his fruit orders. Jeff Huntsman serves a Coke.

Cheerleaders Promote School Spirit

In March 1982, six girls were selected to be varsity football and basketball cheerleaders for the 1982-83 seasons.

They were judged on a point system. Points ranged from 1-5 in each category, 5 being the best. They were judged on their performance of an individual cheer, a group cheer, three jumps, three stunts, and the fight song, as well as on their personality, smiles, enthusiasm, voice control, and appearance. The six girls received the highest amount of points were the new cheerleaders.

Judges for the tryouts included members of the teaching staff and citizens from the community.

Immediately after their selection, the new cheerleaders under the leadership of their sponsor, Mrs. Barbara Williams, began working to raise money for new cheerleading equipment. They held a skating party, a swimming party, and a pop bottle drive. They also detassled corn, sold booster items, and did odd jobs, such as typing, babysitting, yard work, and cleaning.

The girls were rewarded for their hard work in the fall, when they received new uniforms, emblems, and shoes.

The cheerleaders also worked hard to learn and perfect new cheers, routines, skits and pyramids to use during games and in pep assemblies and perform crowd-raising cheers, and to raise school spirit at South Holt all through the year.

Above and clockwise: Tracey Scroggins poses "incognito" by the rocket during the burning of the effigy. Mrs. Williams presents Sondra Snapp with a balloonogram from the other cheerleaders after the traditional "pieing of the senior cheerleader." Carla Bender makes ice cream to serve the football team after the Black and Gold Game.

Left and clockwise: Kristin Lark catches Rhonda Hunziger after a free-throw cheer. The varsity cheerleaders pose in their new uniforms. Shelly Scroggins smiles for the camera after a cheer.

Cheerleaders Encourage Wrestlers

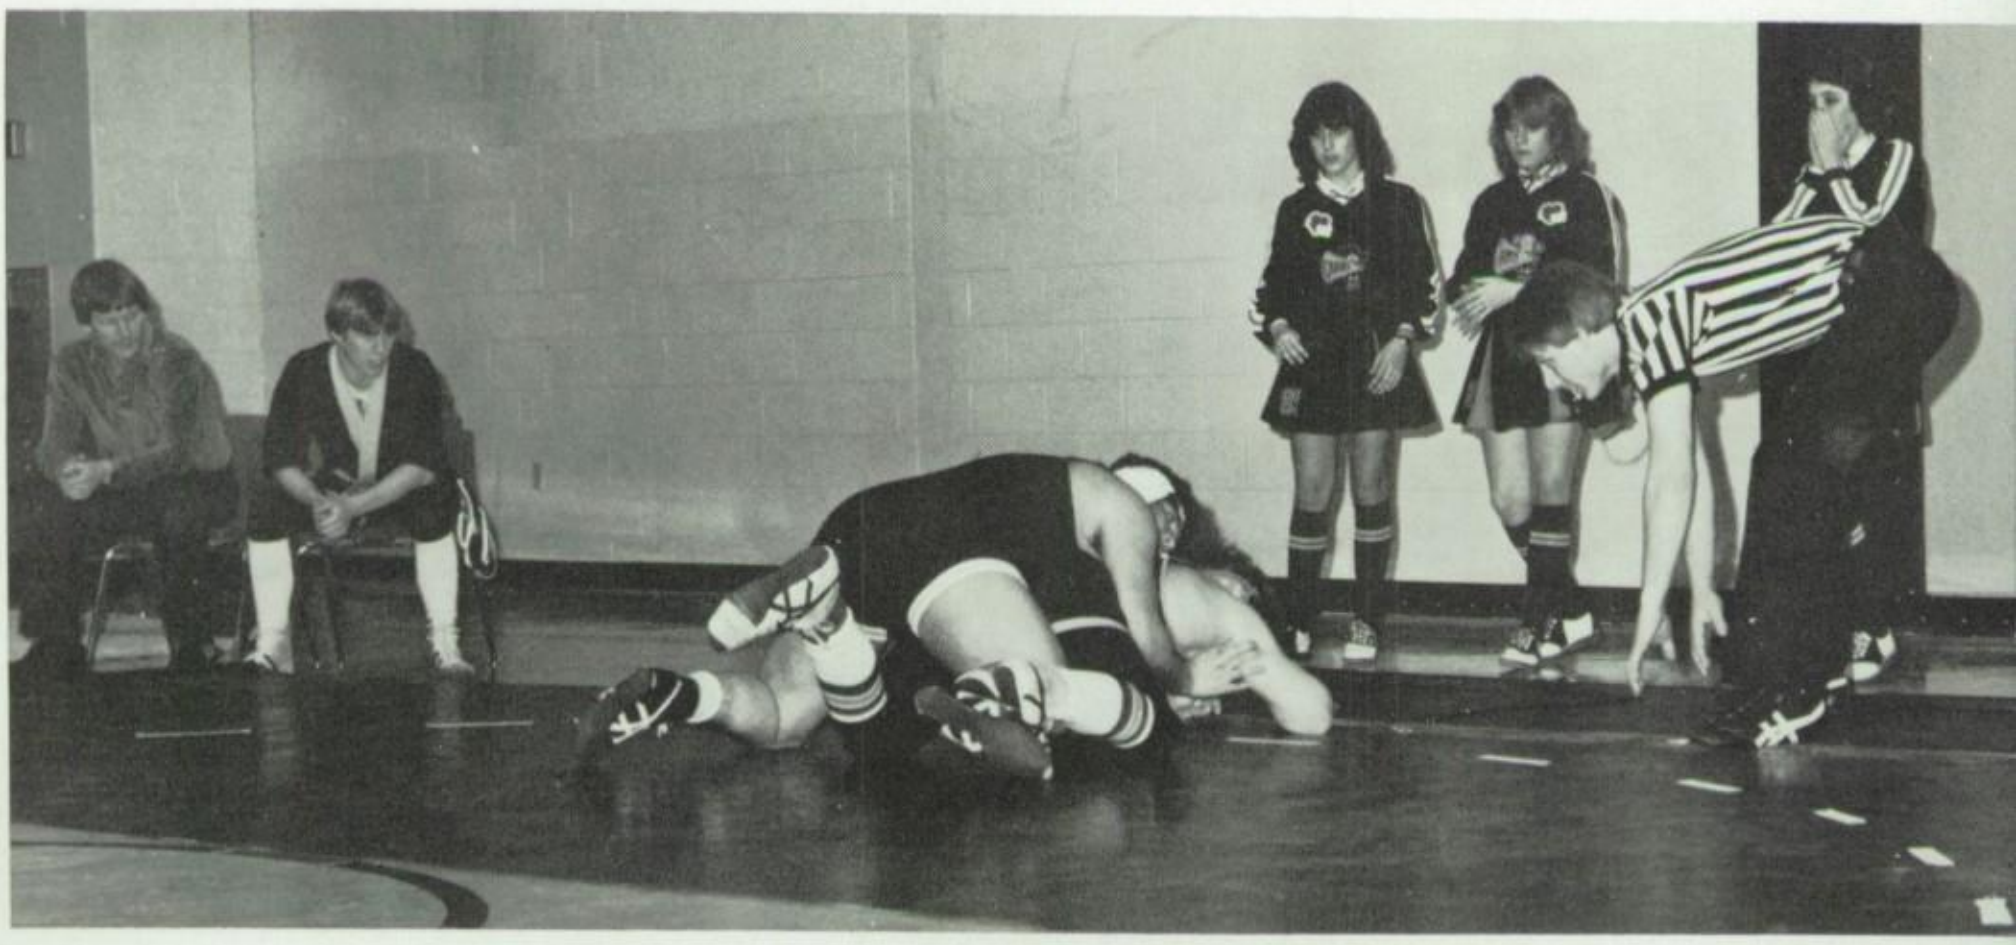
Early in the fall, a tryout session was held to select wrestling cheerleaders for the upcoming season.

Nine nervous and excited girls performed one stunt, one jump, an individual cheer, a group cheer, and the pompon routine in front of a panel of judges consisting of teachers, coaches, and the retiring head cheerleader.

Three girls were selected for the squad. They were Carri Thompson, captain; Amy Hughes, and Julie Phelan. Their advisor was Miss Lydia Youngman.

This was the fourth year for wrestling cheerleaders at South Holt. These girls have done an excellent job encouraging the wrestling team with pep assemblies, locker signs, and leading cheers at all home and away meets.

Right and clockwise: Cheerleaders in action. The 1982-83 Wrestling Cheerleaders pose for a picture. The cheerleaders watch a match in progress.



MUSICIANS

Above and clockwise: Penny Kurtz confidently finishes her solo. The field band stands at attention while waiting for the next command. The chorus practices in front of an audience in preparation for contest.

Marching Band Does It's Job

The marching band, under the direction of Charles Shanks, worked hard to perform well on the field and street.

During football season the field band, majorettes, twirlers, and flag corps attended rehearsals at seven-thirty almost every school morning. Then, on the nights of home football games, the group would show their achievement of the week—a good routine, which would boost the spirits of the South Holt football team and fans.

The street band earned a second place trophy in the Missouri Western State College Homecoming Parade. The band also marched in the Holt County Autumn Festival Parade, the South West Iowa Band Jamboree in Clarinda, Iowa, and the Northwest Missouri State University Homecoming Parade.

Above and clockwise: Majorettes Sherry Buckles and Amy Fitzmaurice take time out before a half-time show. The South Holt Marching Band on the march at the Missouri Western State College Homecoming Parade. The drummers keep the beat for the band. Becky Normile concentrates on her routine during the parade. Rhonda Hunziger and Susie Steeby show their excitement before a half-time show.

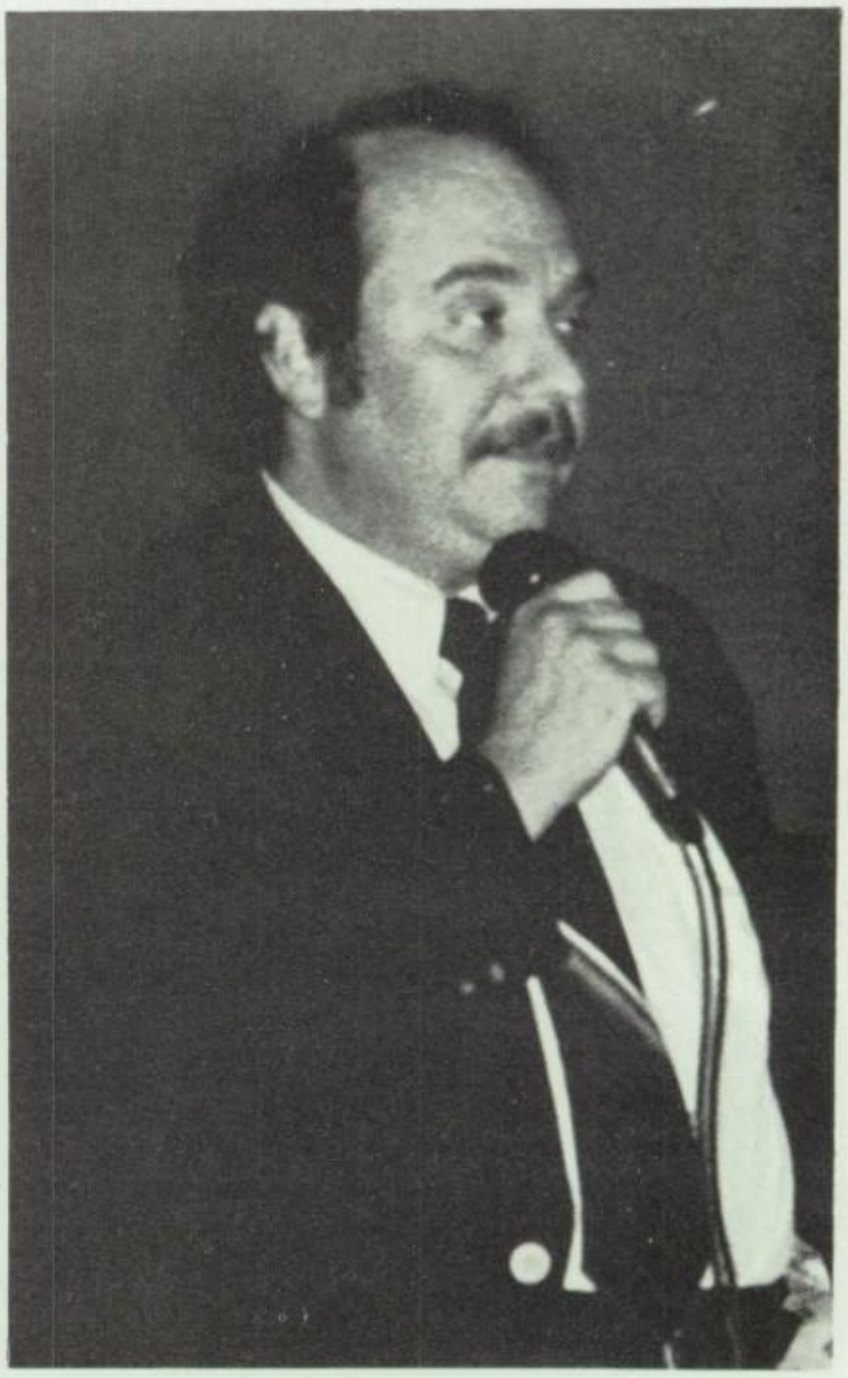
Left and clockwise: Twirlers Kelly Steeby and Becky Normile before a show. Instructor Charles Shanks intensely directs the band. Back to front: Flag corps members Heidi Fitzmaurice, Joann Hoover, Mona Markt, Debbie Hunziger, Anna Book, Dana Brunk, and flag captain Lora Scroggins.

Concert Band Presents Enjoyable Concerts

The concert band, under the direction of Charles Shanks, presented three concerts.

The Christmas Concert was held in December, shortly before Christmas break. The Pre-Contest Concert, which gives students an opportunity to perform material in practice for the District Music Contest was held in March. The Spring Concert, which was the final concert for the senior band members, was held in May.

Above and clockwise: Trombone players making beautiful music at the Christmas Concert. The band performs in their new uniforms. Tympony player, Greg Delp, concentrates on his music.



Left and clockwise: The flute trio performs at the Spring Concert. Sherry Buckles performs her contest solo. Mr. Shanks makes an announcement during a concert. Jeff Rayhill shows off his new band uniform.

Fifteen Students Perform at State

This year's contest band was amoung the most successful in South Holt's history.

The band, under the direction of Charles Shanks, participated in the District Music Contest held at NWMSU April 7. They received a I rating with their performance of "Zodiac," and "Chorale and Jubiloso."

Five solos and three ensembles received I ratings, which qualified them for the State Music Contest, which was held April 29 on the campus of MU in Columbia.

The group, which included fifteen students, two accompanists, instructor Charles Shanks, bus drivers, and those who qualified for the State Contest with vocal solos and ensembles, left immediately after school April 28. They spent the night at the Regal 8 Motel in Columbia so they would be rested for the contest the next day.

The group returned home April 29 after the last ratings came in. The Brass Sextet, and Jenny Rayhill's euphonium solo received the ultimate rating, a I at State.

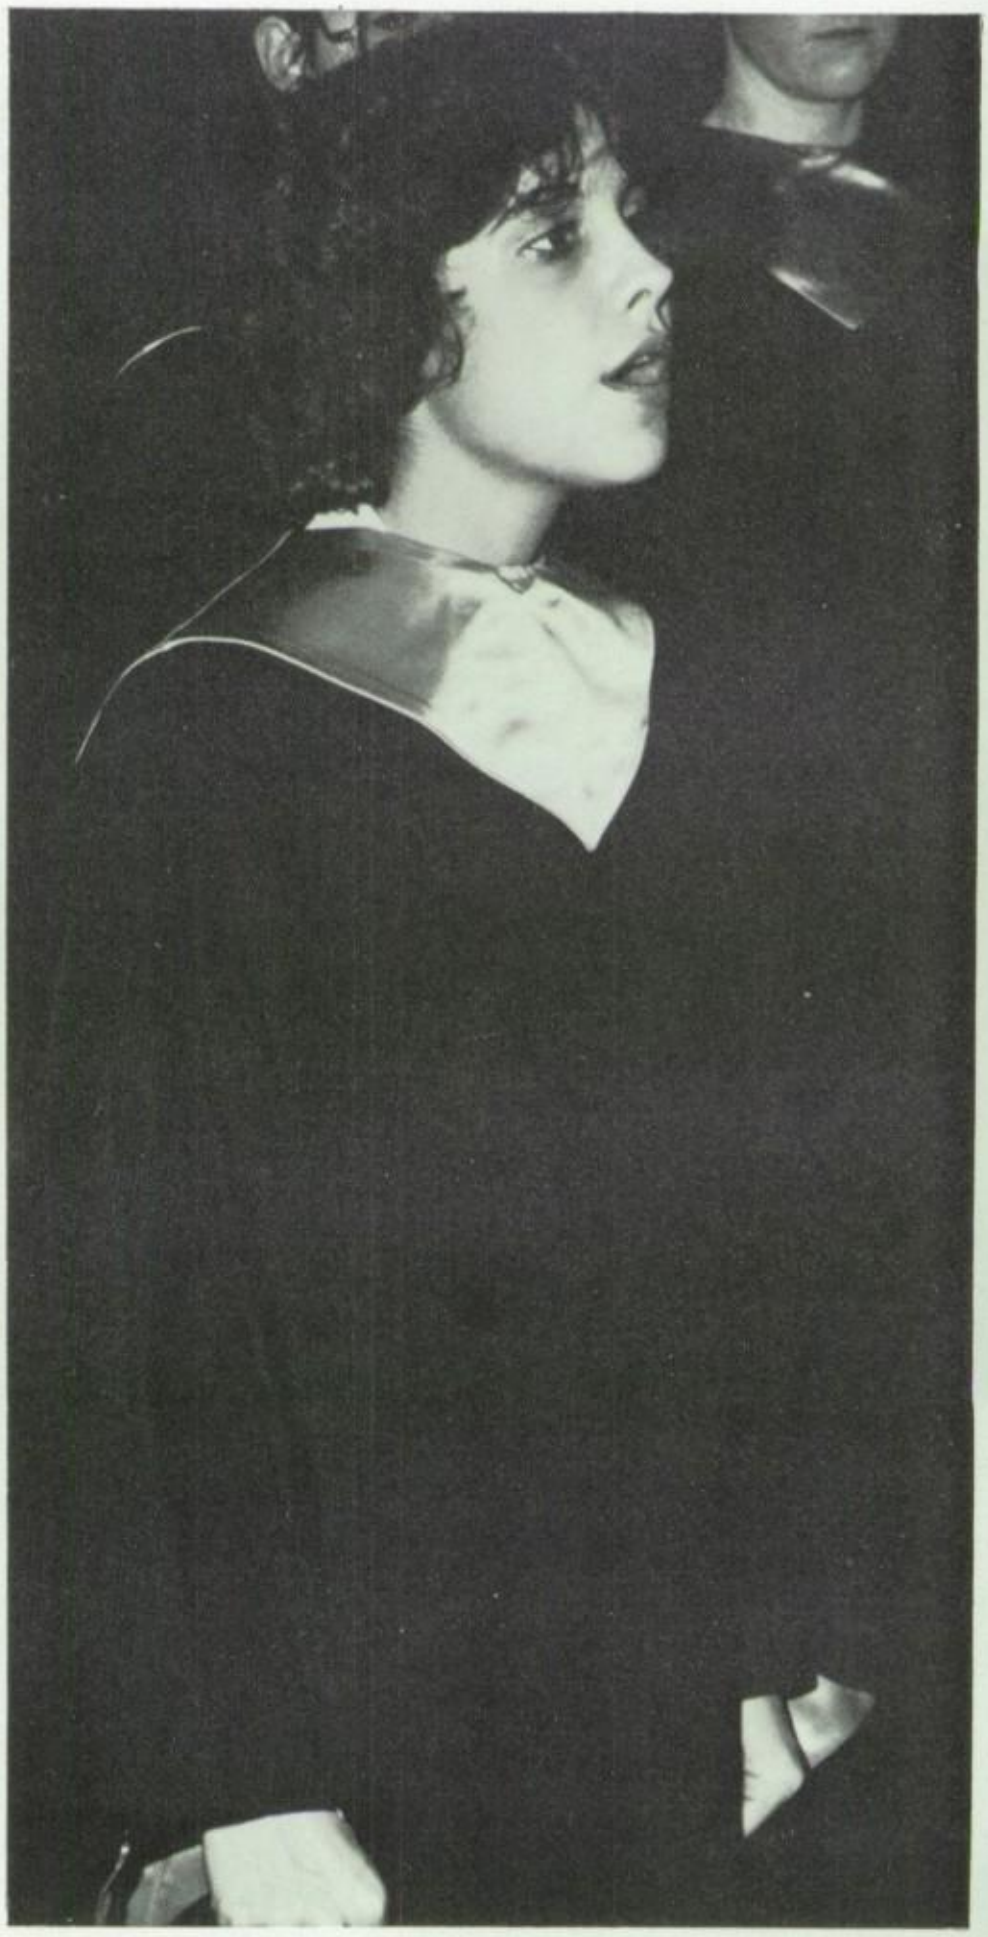
Instrumental District and State Music Contests

Trombone
John Sommer	I II
Clarinet
Sherry Buckles	I III
Piccolo
Penny Kurtz	I II
Saxophone
Shelly Scroggins	I II
Euphonium
Jenny Rayhill	I I
Tuba
James Dudeck	II
Brass Sextet
John Sommer	I I
Jeff Cotton
Maurice Noellsch
Carol Dudeck
Todd Kunkel
Jenny Rayhill
Flute Trio	I II
Lisa Lark
Penny Kurtz
Rhonda Hunziger
Flute Quartet	I II
Penny Kurtz
Kristin Lark
Julie Phelan
Amy Hughes
1st Trumpet Quartet	II
Jeff Cotton
Maurice Noellsch
Tracy Hurst
Todd Hall
Brass Quartet	II
Jeff Huntsman
Stephen Hicks
Alex Fink
James Dudeck
2nd Trumpet Quartet	II
Donna Luce
Kelly Kunkel
Scott Kunkel
Aaron Parsons
Mixed Clarinet Quartet	II
Amy Fitzmaurice
Sherry Buckles
Pam Elliott
Colette Sommer

Left and clockwise: Shelly Scroggins performs her saxophone solo at the Pre-Contest Concert. The fifteen student who qualified for the State Music Contest pose before leaving for Columbia. Penny Kurtz performs her piccolo solo. The clarinet quartet, from left to right, Colette Sommer, Sherry Buckles, Amy Fitzmaurice, and Pam Elliott.

Vocal Music Rates High

The vocal music department, directed by Miss Anne Innes, worked throughout the year to develop tone and harmony pleasing to the ear. At the end of the year their work paid off as they all earned 'I' and 'II' ratings in the district contest at Northwest Missouri State University in Maryville. The three entries that made the trip to the University of Missouri at Columbia to enter the state music contest came home with an 'I,' a 'II,' and a 'III.'



Above and clockwise: Girls trio –3, Carla Bender, Mona Markt, and Lynn Brock (II at State). Tracey Scroggins (I at State).

District and State Vocal Music Contest

Girls Trio –1 — I III
- Sherry Buckles
- Lisa Lark
- Sondra Snapp

Girls Trio –2 — I II
- Lynn Brock
- Carla Bender
- Mona Markt

Girls Trio –3 — II
- Susie Steeby
- Patty Hunziger
- Rhonda Hunziger

Girls Trio –4 — II
- Rhonda Hughes
- Tracey Scroggins
- Joyce Moore

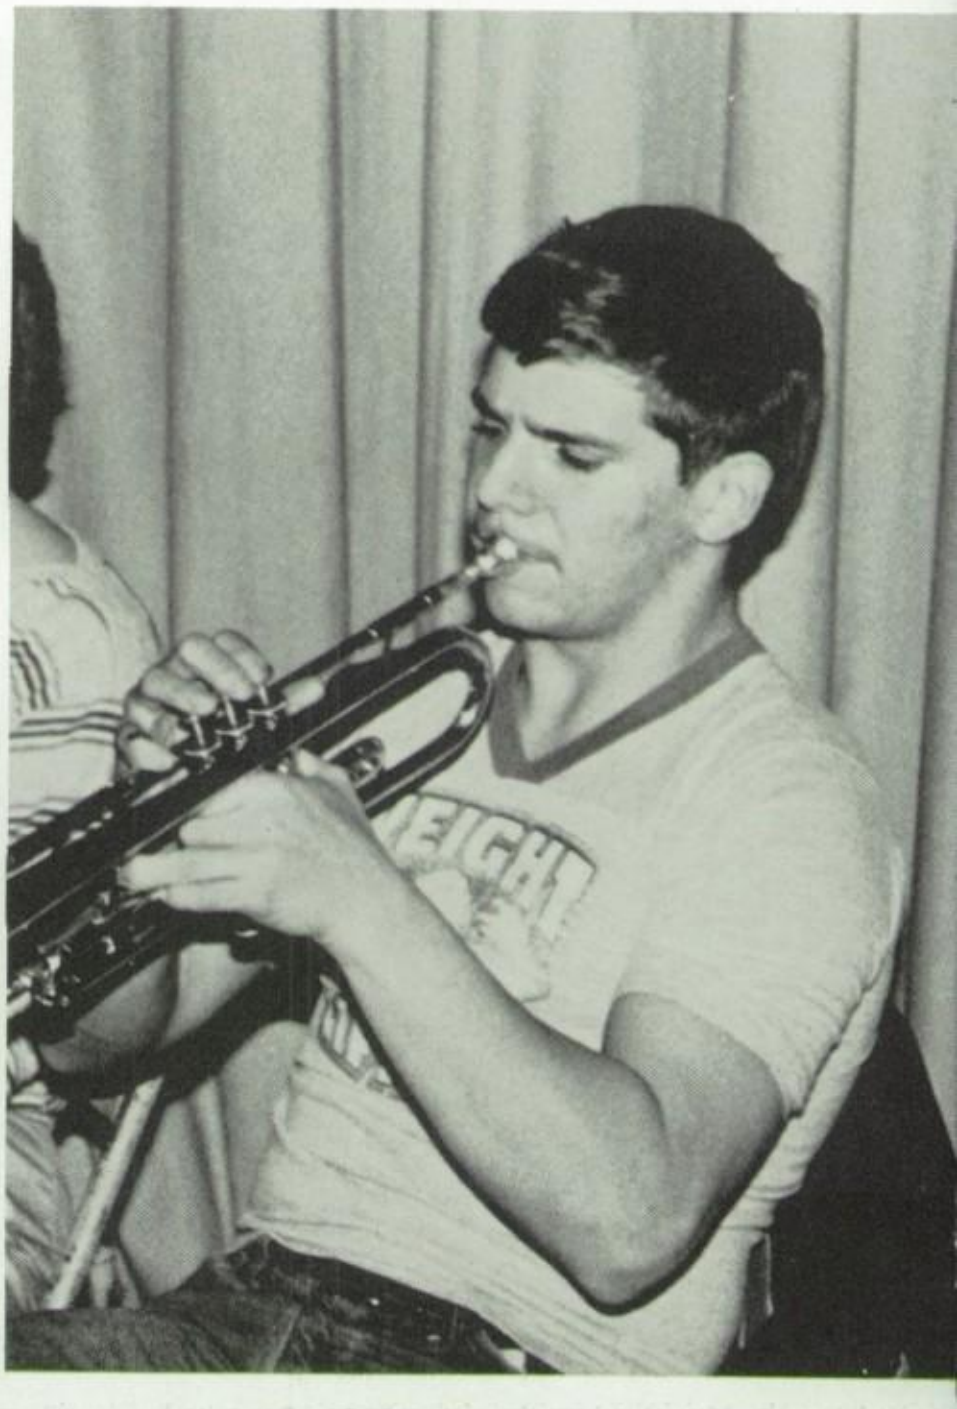
Vocal Solos
- Tracey Scroggins — I I
- Sondra Snapp — II
- Lisa Lark — II

Above and clockwise: Miss Anne Innes, Vocal music teacher. Girls Trio –1, Sondra Snappp, Lisa Lark, and Sherry Buckles (III at State). Vocal students on their way to the State Contest having received the top rating at District. Front row: Lisa Lark, Sondra Snapp, Sherry Buckles, Tracey Scroggins, Ellen Sommer (accompanist). Back row: Colette Sommer (accompanist), Carla Bender, Lynn Brock, and Mona Markt.

PEP BAND ADDS ENJOYMENT

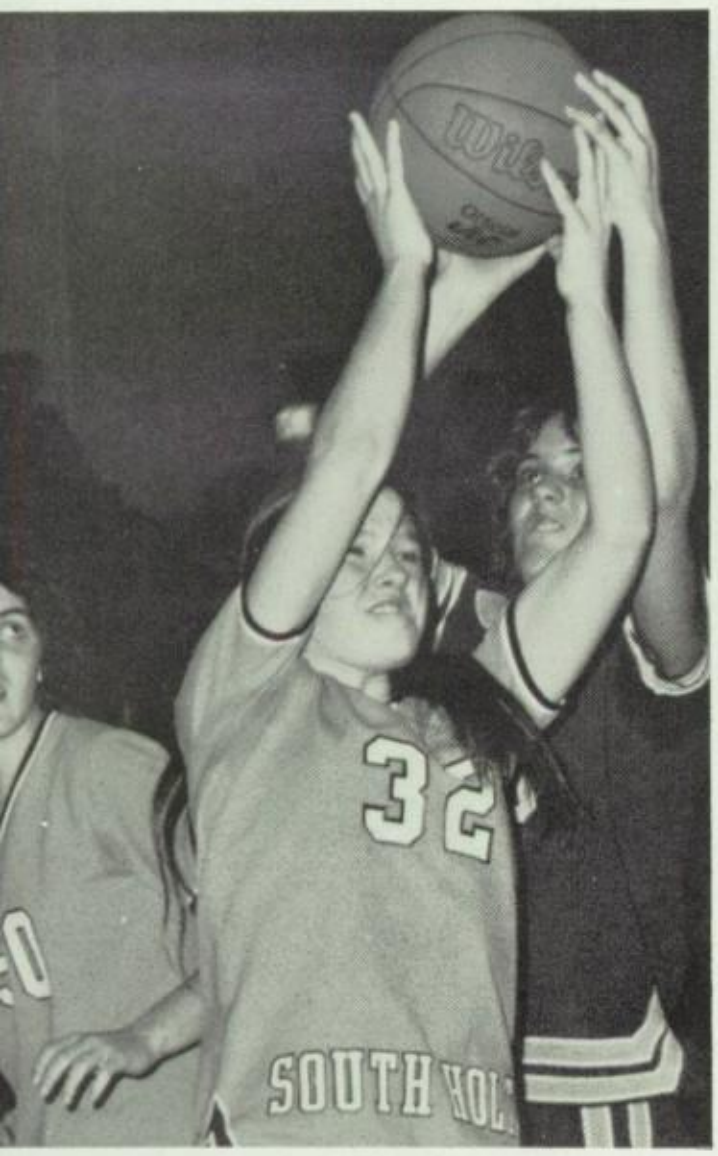
The pep band performed during the half time of the boys home basketball games and at pep assemblies. This added excitement brought enthusiasm and spirit to the crowds of fans that entered the gymnasium. Kelly Steeby, a baton twirler, also performed.

These added attractions brought much enjoyment to the games throughout the year.



Above and clockwise: Jenny Rayhill adds "pep" to the band on her trumpet. Julie Phelan, Pam Elliott, Susie Steeby, and Colette Sommer contribute to the woodwind section. Jeff Cotton blasts a tune during a half time show. A row of trombonists, Craig Buckles, Alex Fink, Jeff Huntsman, and John Sommer, along with the rest of the band add an air of excitement to the games.

ATHLETICS

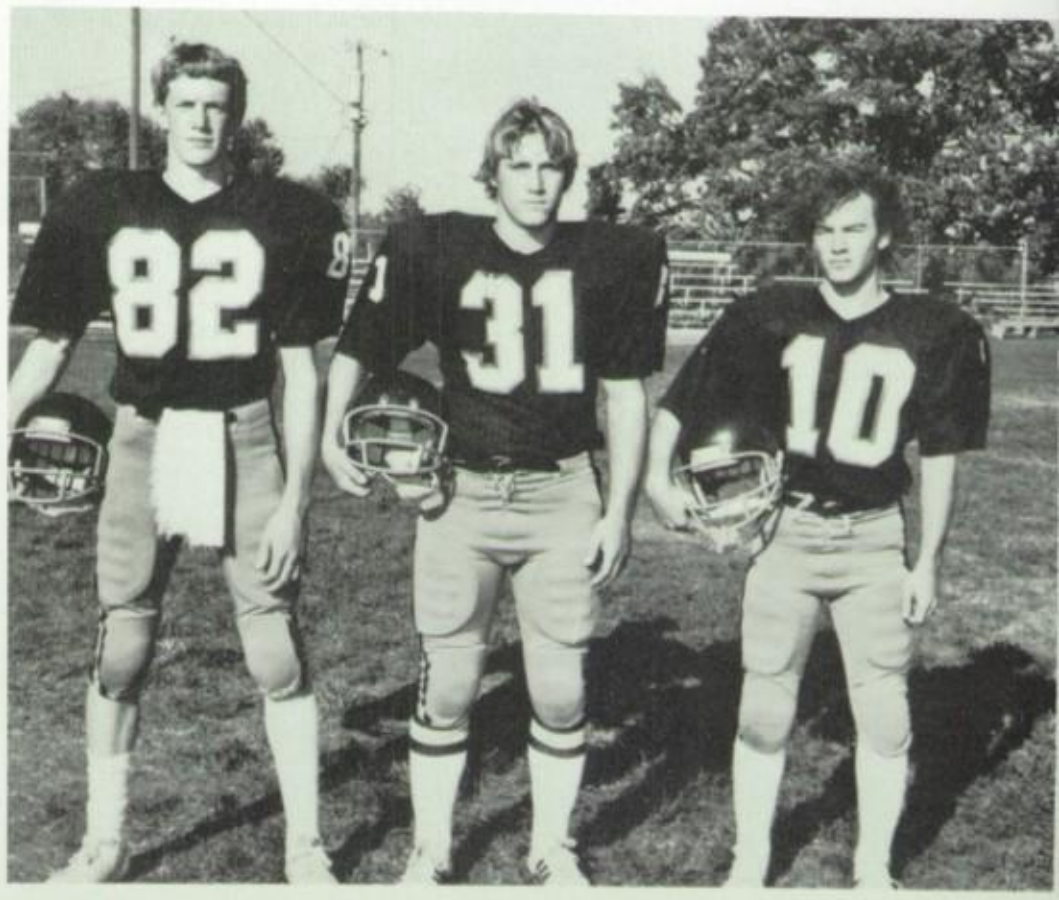


Above and clockwise: Straining for a rebound is Amy Fitzmaurice. The senior football players line up for a 'pic.' Shane McWilliams finishes 1st as the last leg in the two-mile relay team. Jeff Rayhill triumphs over a match.

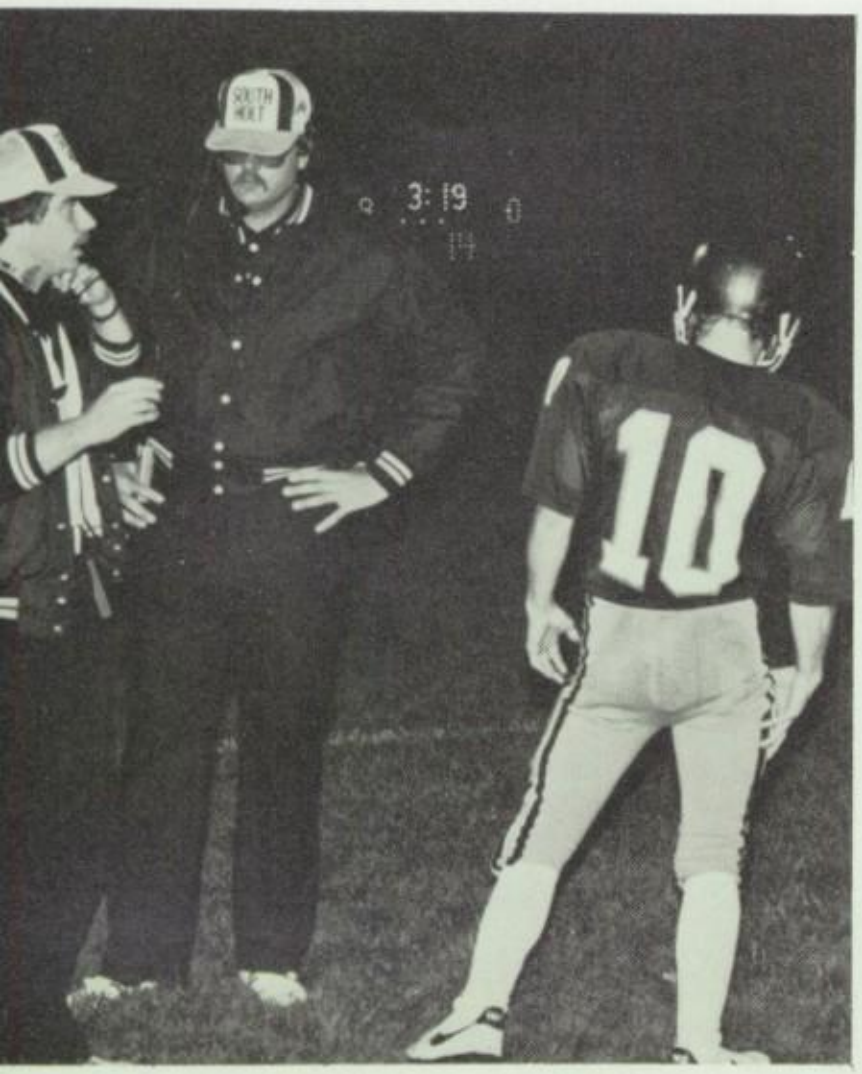
Knights Enjoy Winning Season

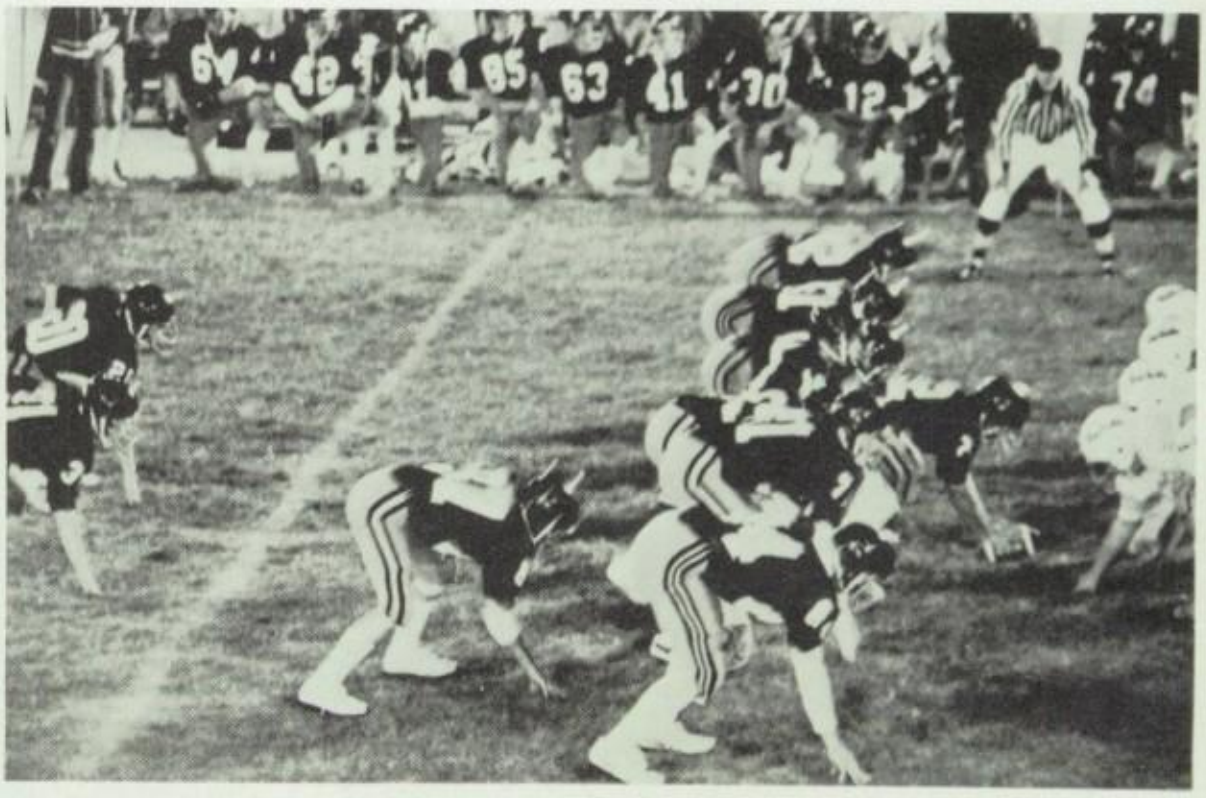
In 1982 the South Holt football program fielded the largest squad of players in recent years. Twenty-nine players with twelve seniors produced a winning season (5-4). The team used a veer offense and a tenacious defense to keep their opponents in a constant state of frustration. The team was coached by Terry Ehlers, head coach, and Craig Barker. They were assisted by Larry Jones, who watched each game from the press booth and talked with the coaches on the field by radio. Sam Wharton scouted for the team and Roger Cromer assisted Kevin Connell with video taping each game.

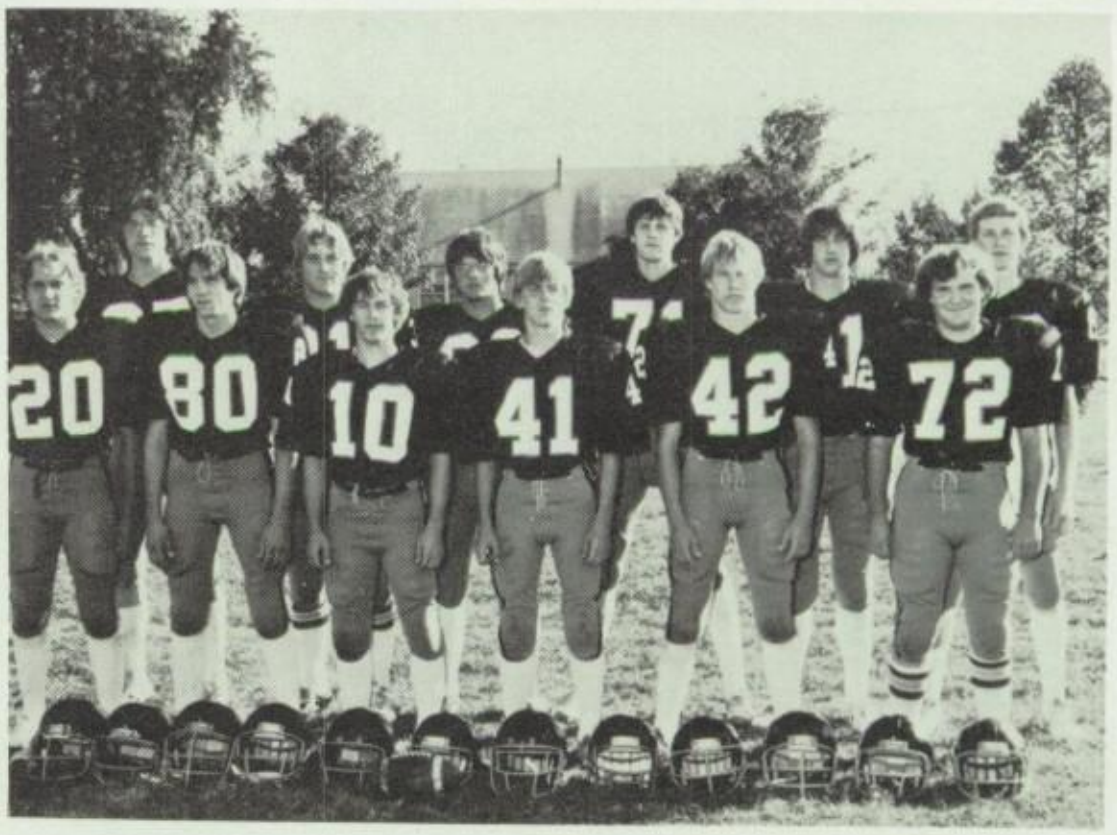
Front row, left to right: Jeff Phelan, Kirby Meyer, Dennis Prussman, Richard Greene, Wyle Williams, Greg Delp, Jeff Rayhill, Edwin Patterson, John Sommer, Russell Slusher. Second row: Craig Buckles, Steve Hicks, Jeff Huntsman, Ryan Radley, Jeff Cotton, Junior Gillenwater, Mitch Williams, Danny Weber, Brett Derr. Third row: Richard Ottman, Steve Meyer, Alex Fink, Brett Scroggins, Mark Nickols, DeWayne Carroll, Maurice Noellsch, Andy Kurtz. Fourth Row: Coach Terry Ehlers, Todd Hall, Jimmy Elder, Joe Prussman (manager), assistant coaches Craig Barker and Larry Jones.

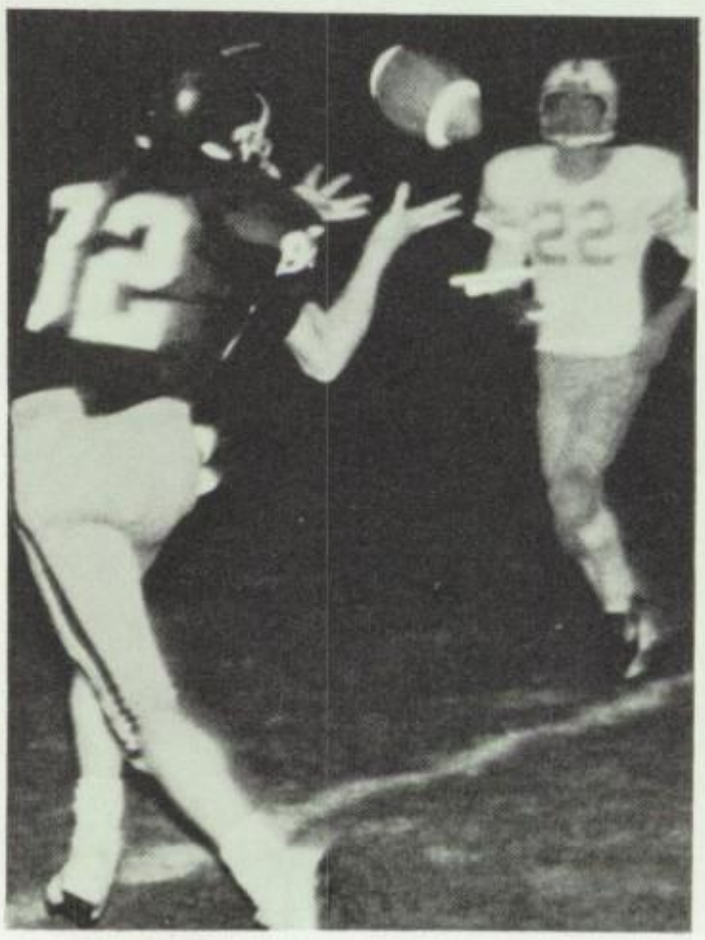


Tricaptains Wyle Williams, Russell Slusher, and Dennis Prussman.





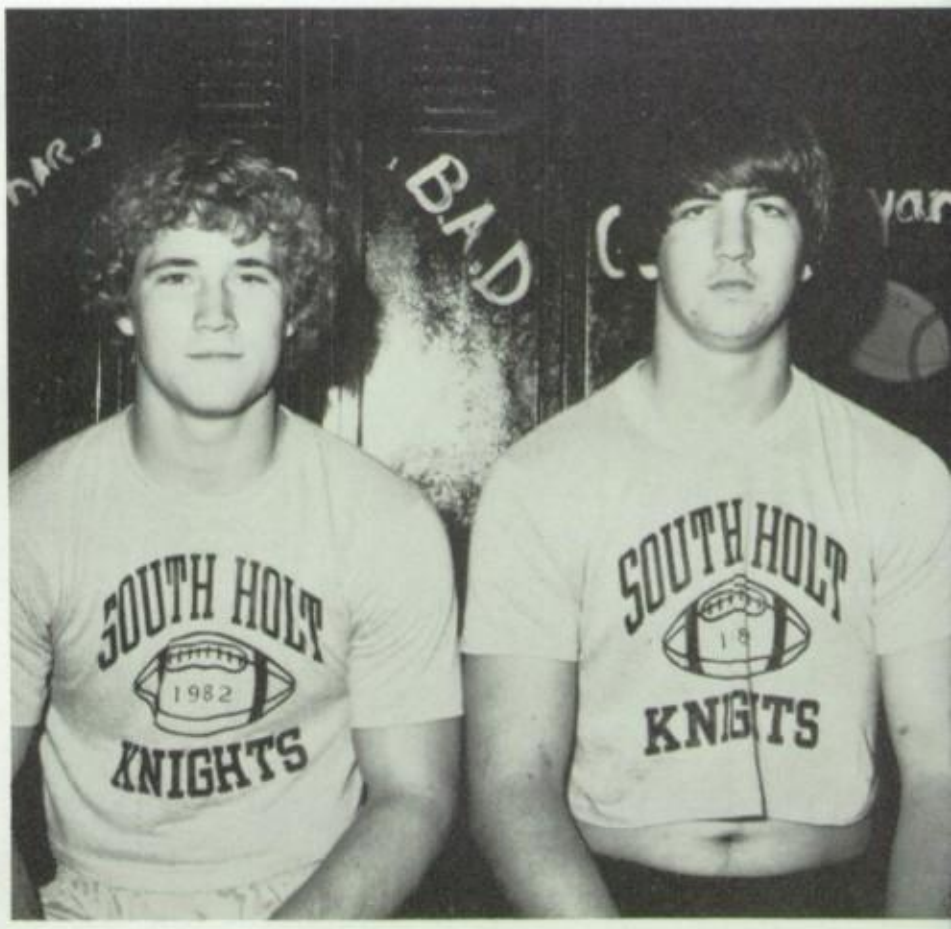




Above and clockwise: Junior Gillenwater picks up a kick-off and goes 99 yards for a touchdown. Dennis Prussman checks with coaches Ehlers and Barker concerning the strategy for the next play. The South Holt team lines up for the snap. Senior football players, Junior Gillenwater, Jeff Phelan, Edwin Patterson, Russell Slusher, Dennis Prussman, Richard Greene, Greg Delp, Brett Derr, Jeff Rayhill, Kirby Meyer, John Sommer andWyle Williams. Wyle Williams pulls in a pass.

Slusher, Meyer, Williams Receive High Recognition

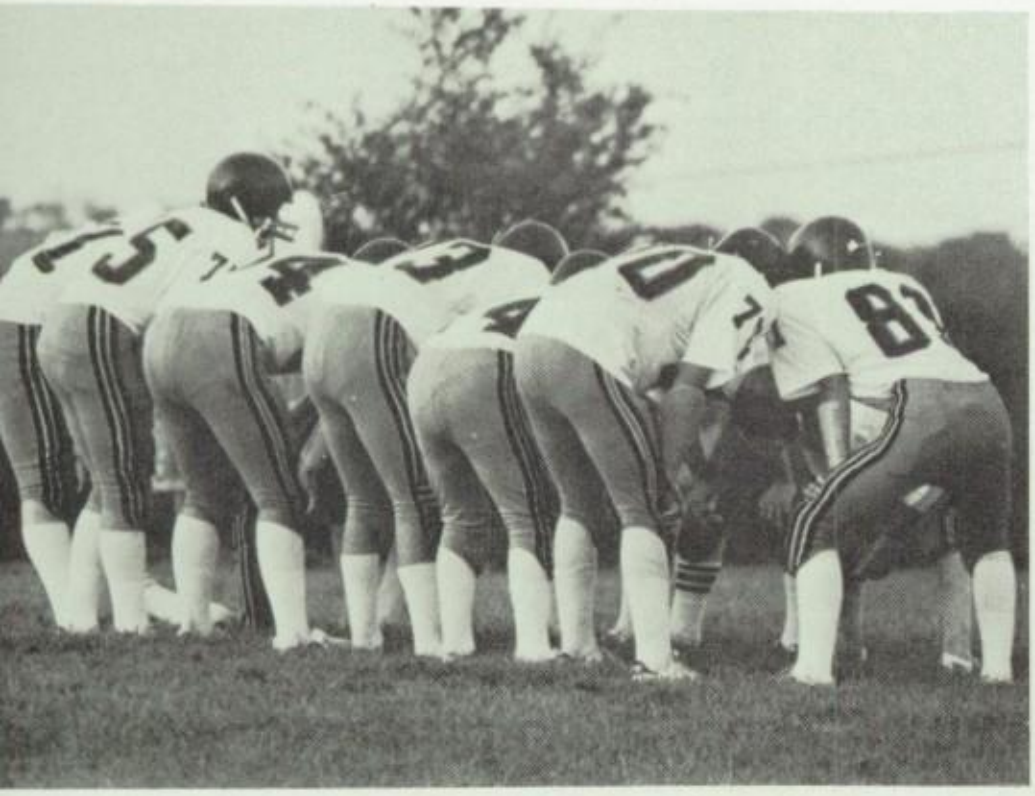
Two senior football players, Russell Slusher and Kirby Meyer, were chosen to represent South Holt on the All-Conference team. Russell made both offensive and defensive units. Kirby was on the defensive team. Wyle Williams, another senior member, was chosen as an offensive end on the All-District team. These three were not the only standouts, every member of the team that did his part to make the year successful is in a class by himself.

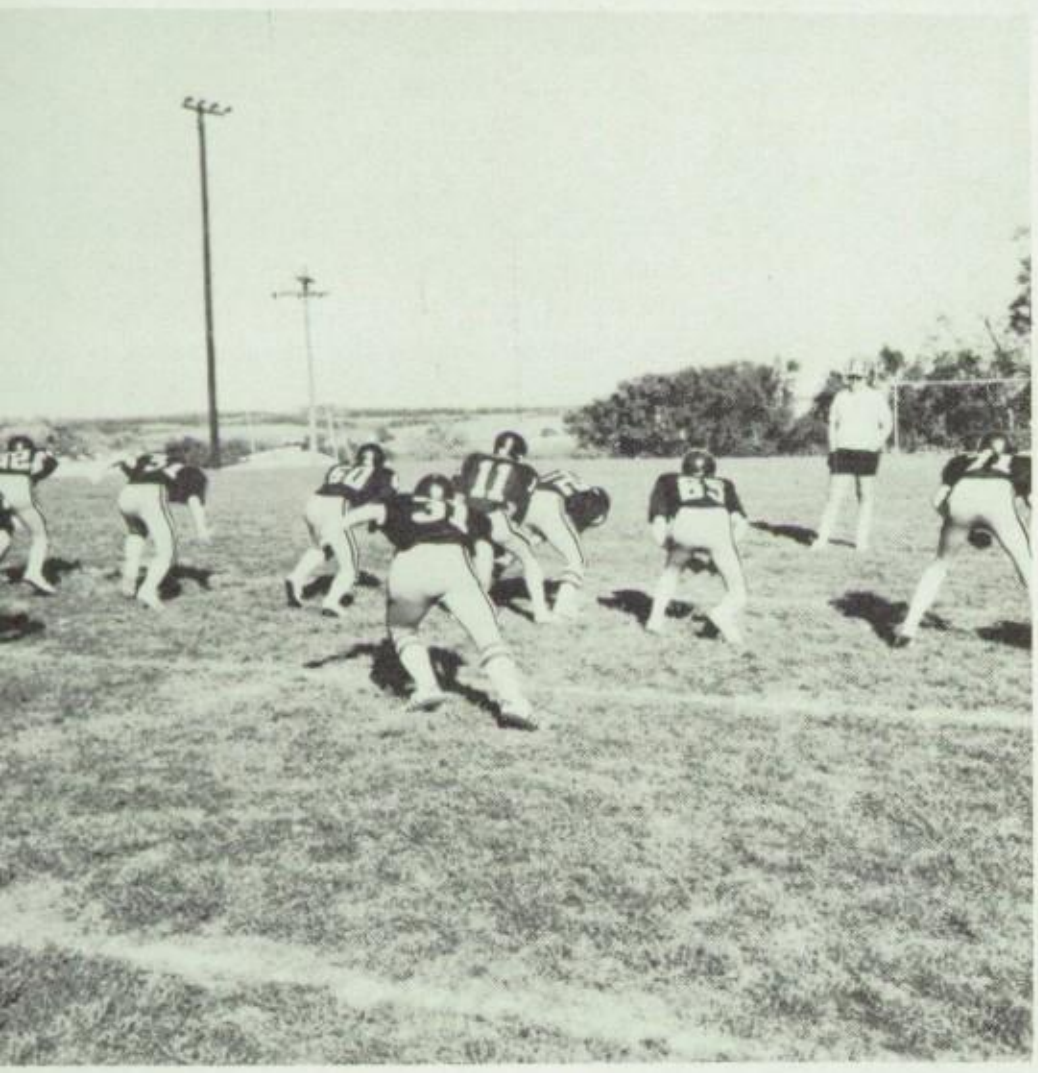


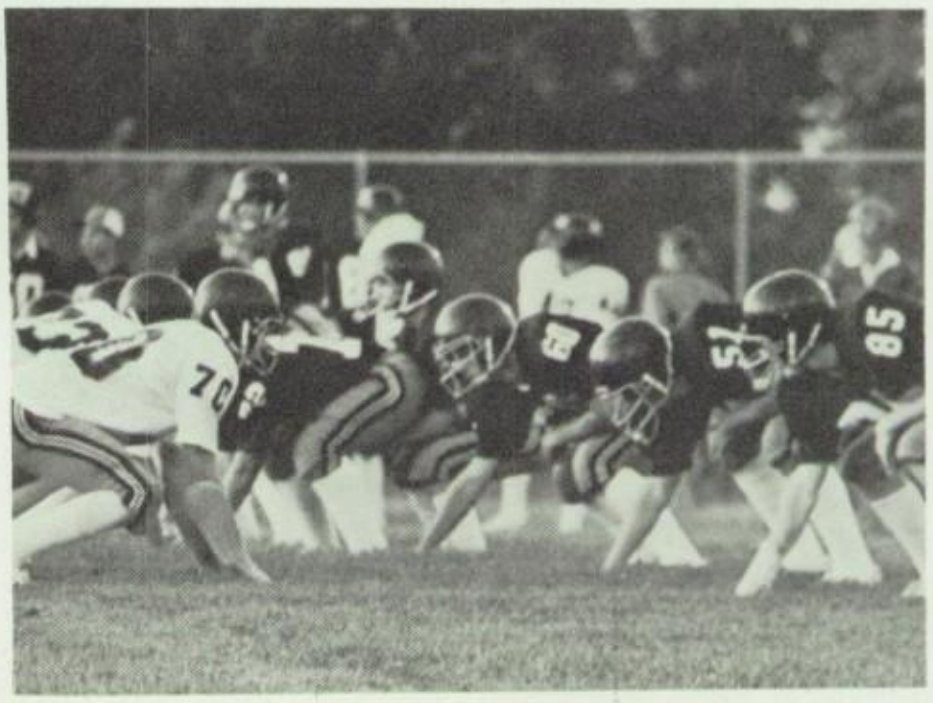
Above and clockwise: Coach Ehlers gives instruction to the players before a game. Wyle Williams, All-District selection, poses for a picture. Russell Slusher and Kirby Meyer, All-Conference selections, pose for a picture.

Varsity Football Record

South Holt		Opponent
14	Fairfax	28
33	Craig	8
37	Dekalb	0
0	Rock Port	28
15	North Nodaway (OT)	14
7	Tarkio	14
0	Nodaway Holt	27
31	Mound City	6
35	West Nodaway	16







Junior Varsity Football Record

South Holt		Opponent
34	Craig	8
14	Tarkio	0
16	Mound City	8
6	Nodaway Holt	0

Above and clockwise: Mitch Williams, J.V. quarterback, runs players through plays. J.V. team huddles for a play. Knights look eye to eye in the yearly 'Black and Gold' game. Virgill Carroll, J.V. running back, looks for openings on a sweep play.

Girls Varsity basketball team. From left to right: front row: Penny Kurtz, Lora Scroggins, Dana Brunk, Heidi Fitzmaurice, Becky Weis, Carla Bender, and Shelly Scroggins. Back row: Joanne Hoover, Lynn Brock, Sherry Buckles, Diann Pierson, Anna Book, Marcia Weber, Sondra Snapp, Amy Fitzmaurice and Coach Larry Jones. Not pictured, Assistant Coach Terry Ehlers.

Varsity Achieves Teamwork

The Lady Knights worked very hard at improving their basketball playing skills. They showed a lot of pride in their games and sportsmanship was outstanding. They had 3 wins and 17 losses. This may not be a lot of wins, but statistics showed they played very good basketball. Many of their games were lost by just a few points. These are the tough ones to loose. So close, but so far away.

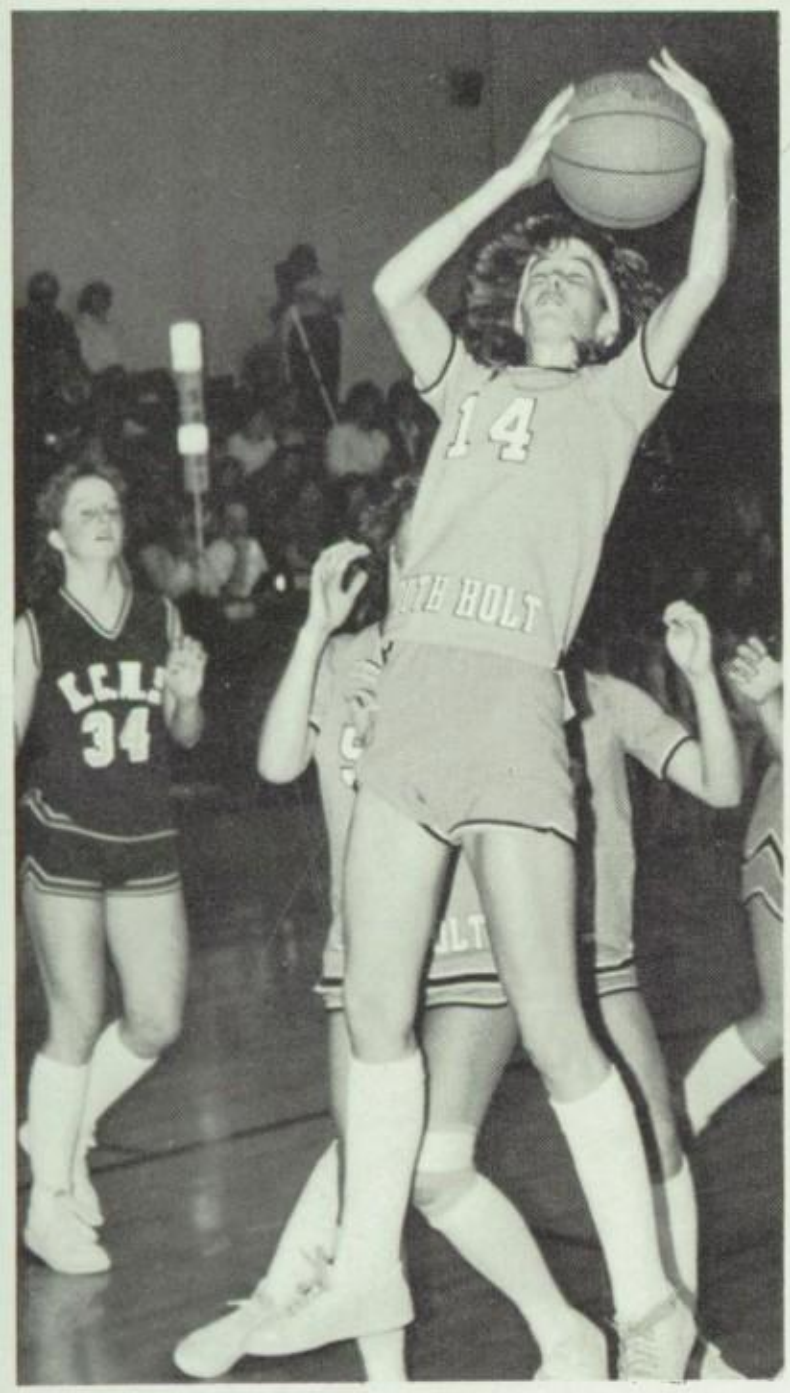
The starting five players are listed on the Conference standings at least once under various things. All these girls played as a "team" and that is an important asset in many sports.

Their attitudes were very good and returning girls are looking forward to a bigger and better season next year.

Above and right: Amy Fitzmaurice shooting a free throw. Dana Brunk going in for a left-handed lay-up.

Book Receives All-Conference

Anna led the Lady Knights with total scoring points of 170 during the 1982-83 season. She was the 12th leading scorer in the conference averaging 8.5 points per game.



Above and right: Anna Book jumps high for a rebound. Anna Book holding her 275 Conference patch. Sherry Buckles tips the ball.

Girls Varsity Scores

South	Holt	Opponent
26	North Platte	39
25	Rock Port (Mound City Tourney)	35
29	North Andrew	43
35	King City	36
26	Rock Port	46
28	Tarkio	47
38	North Nodaway	31
40	Stewartsville	41
34	Nodaway Holt	35
38	Union Star (King City Tourney)	28
31	Cameron (King City Tourney)	50
42	Maysville (King City Tourney)	60
38	South Nodaway	64
44	Mound City	31
35	Fairfax	39
27	Mid Buchanan	56
49	Craig	60
45	Dekalb	48
34	West Nodaway	47
44	West Nodaway (Regionals)	55

J.V. Shows Potential

The junior varsity had a very successful season. The team had 3 wins and 4 losses. Their potential looks very good for next season and years to come.

Above and right: Shelly Scroggins waits anxiously for the tip off. J.V. girls after a win over Mound City.

Girls J.V. basketball team. From left to right: front row: Joanne Hoover, Carla Bender, Teresa Crider, Donna Luce, Mona Markt, Shelly Scroggins, Becky Weis, and Heidi Fitzmaurice. Back row: Assistant Coach Terry Ehlers, Diann Pierson, Lynn Brock, Joyce Klaasmeyer, Lisa Meyer, Debbie Hunziger, Marcia Weber, and Coach Larry Jones.

Girls J.V. Scores

South Holt		Opponent
28	North Andrew	23
34	Mound City	28
37	West Nodaway	36
23	Rock Port	37
21	Fairfax	41
26	Craig	31
20	Tarkio	38

Hunziger Most Improved

Debbie Hunziger was awarded the Most Improved Player. This player is chosen by the whole girls team and is given in memory of Terri Slusher.

Debbie's name is inscribed on the plaque, which is in the trophy case in the high school hallway.

Above and clockwise: Debbie Hunziger receiving Most Improved Player award from Coach Larry Jones. Heidi Fitzmaurice shoots the ball out of reach from her opponents. Lynn Brock gets ready for the tip off.

The 1982-83 South Holt Knights varsity basketball squad is shown above. Front row from left to right: Stephen Hicks, Shane McWilliams, Dennis Prussman, Russell Slusher, Edwin Patterson, Danny Weber, Tracy Hurst, and Maurice Noellsch. Back row from left to right: Assistant coach Terry Ehlers, Mitch Williams, Kirby Meyer, Wyle Williams, Brett Derr, Ryan Radley, Dennis Buckles, Todd Kunkel, and coach Craig Barker.

Knights See Tough Conference Action

After graduating a host of seniors, the 1982-83 South Holt Knights found themselves in a rebuilding year. Coached by Craig Barker, the Knights proved a willingness to work hard and showed a competitive spirit to win. Because of these good qualities the school pride soared in pep assemblies and at the ballgames.

Facing some tough veteran teams in the conference, the Knights suffered some heart-breaking losses early in the season. But the Knights put together a solid offense along with a tenacious full-court press and would not accept defeat.

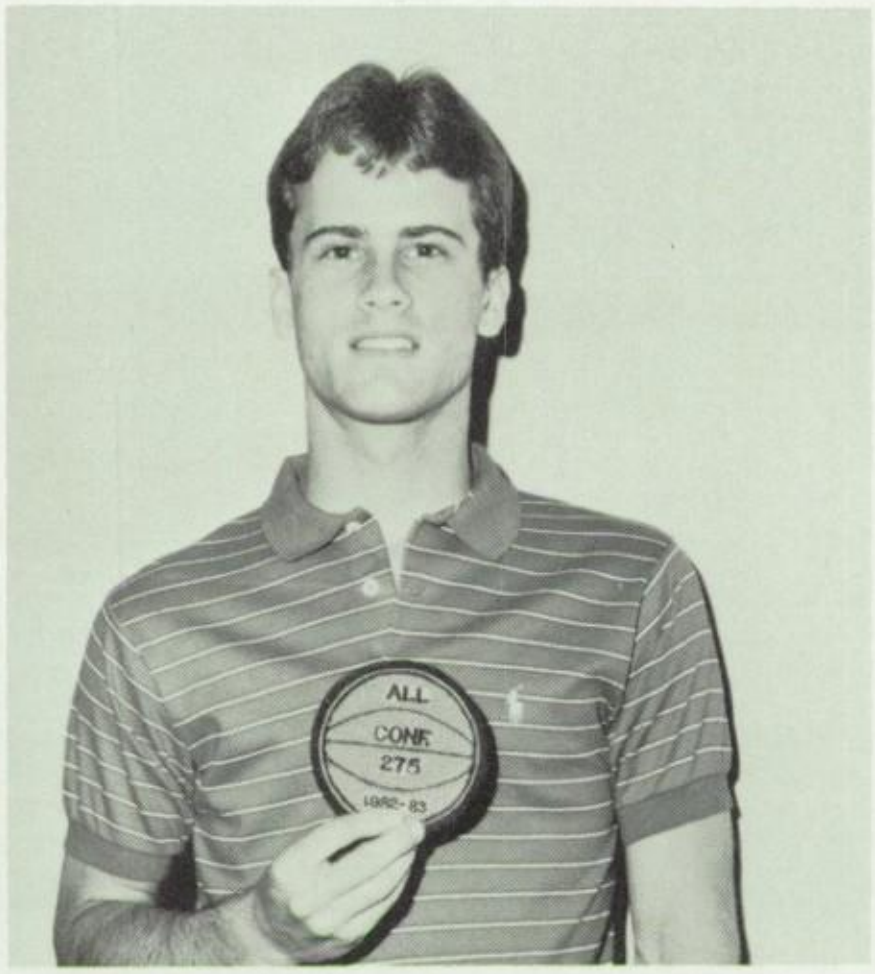
By season's close the Knights gained respect throughout the conference by winning three of their last four contests. They now have built a reputation for themselves, and a foundation for the coming year.

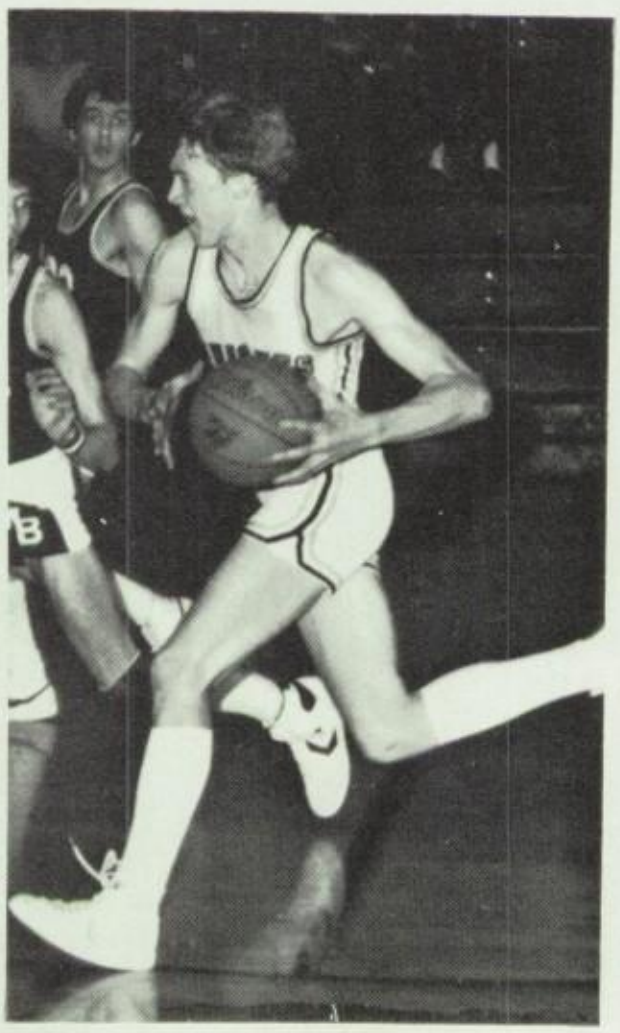
Left and clockwise: Russell Slusher gets a jump-shot under the basket. Ryan Radley goes up for the tip.

Kunkel All-Conference
Williams Hon. Mention

Todd Kunkel, a junior, was selected o the 275 All-Conference first team. He led the Knights in scoring with an verage of 14.4 points per game and a otal of 331 points for the season. Todd lso had the best freethrow percentage vith 63%.

Wyle Williams, a senior, was named onorable mention. He led the Knights n assists and steals with 76 and 46 re- pectively. Wyle was the second lead- ng rebounder for the Knights with .4 rebounds a game.





Left and clockwise: Dennis Buckles trying to grab the rebound. Todd Kunkel shoots a jumpshot at the freethrow line. Todd Kunkel holding his All-Conference patch. Wyle Williams driving toward the basket.

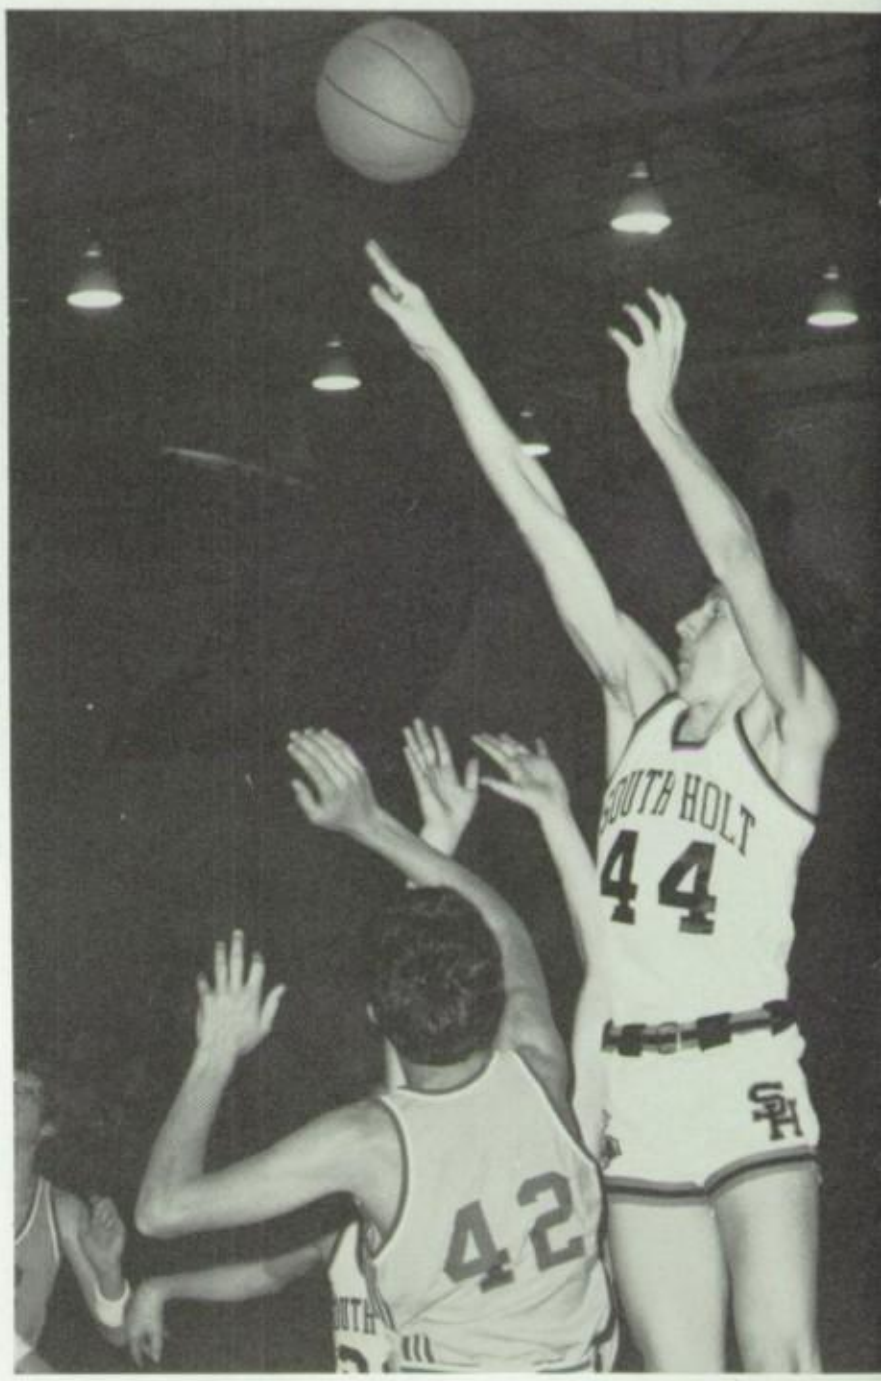
BOYS VARSITY SCORES

SOUTH HOLT		OPPONENT
48	North Platte	64
54	Tarkio (Mound City Tourney)	62
60	North Andrew	43
62	King City	34
74	Rock Port (2 O.T.)	75
47	North Platte (Le Blond Tourney)	68
58	Craig (LeBlond Tourney)	64
50	Tarkio	58
64	North Nodaway	55
89	Stewartsville	56
80	Union Star (King City Tourney)	38
47	Pattonsburg (King City Tourney)	50
48	Dekalb (King City Tourney)	61
39	Nodaway Holt	40
64	South Nodaway (O.T.)	65
39	Mound City	67
46	Fairfax	66
59	Mid-Buchanan	41
53	Craig	61
64	Dekalb	53
78	West Nodaway	54
49	Nodaway Holt (Regionals)	38
42	Mound City (Regionals)	45

JV Works Hard

The 1982-83 junior varsity boys basketball team was coached by Terry Ehlers. The team consisted of juniors, sophomores, and freshmen. These young Knights showed a lot of spirit in practice and in games. This paid off in that they won.

The purpose of junior varsity is to prepare the younger players for the varsity team in coming years. The players go through the same drills, plays, and conditioning that the varsity does. Then when the season is through the young Knights are ready for the varsity team.

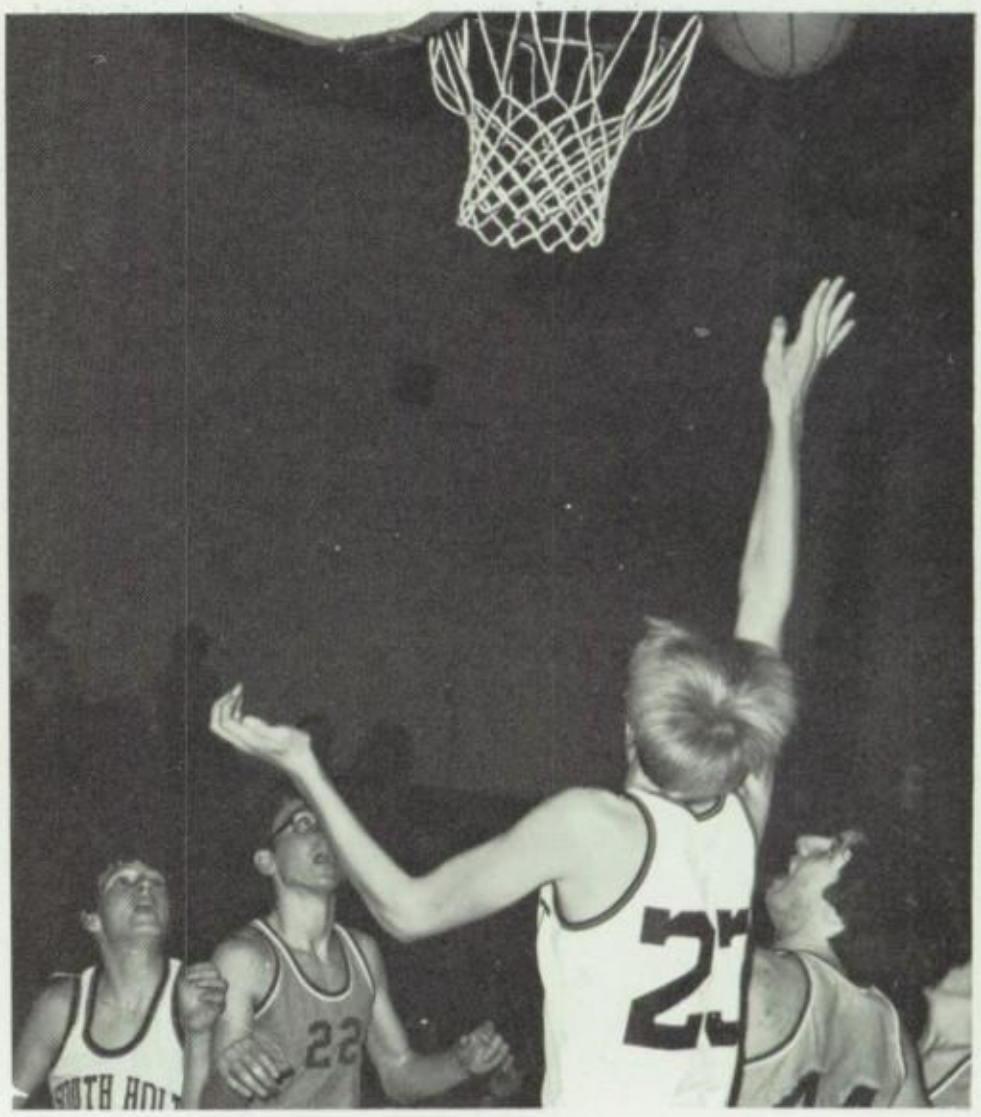


Above and clockwise: Danny Weber and Mark Nickols bring the ball across midcourt. J.V. tipoff. Dennis Buckles shooting a jumpshot.

The 1982-83 junior varsity basketball team. They are front row, left to right: Randy Hill, Kelly Kunkel, Aaron Luce, Mark Nickols, and Richard Ottman. Back row, left to right: Todd Hall, Steven Meyer, Shawn Guyer, Coach Terry Ehlers, Eric Huntsman, David Baker, and Brett Scroggins. Not shown, Craig Lark.

Boys J.V. Scores

South Holt		Opponent
44	North Andrew	37
39	Mound City	44
46	West Nodaway	20
43	Rock Port	42
39	Fairfax	28
45	Craig	34
39	Tarkio	31



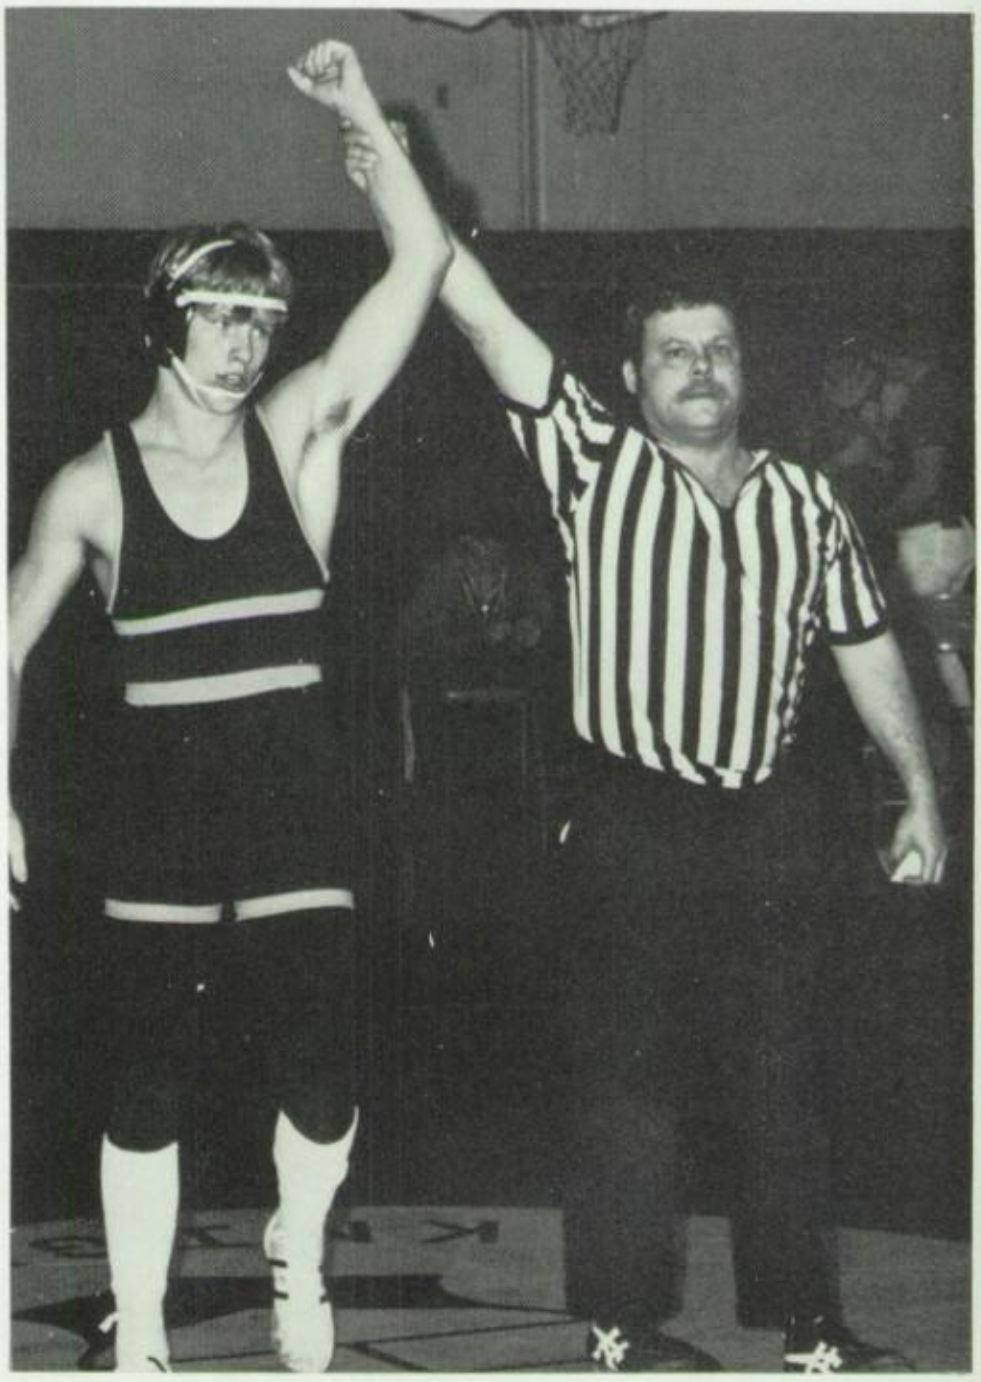
Right: Mitch Williams gets off a shot.

The 1982-83 Wrestling Team. Left to right: Steve Howell-manager, Spencer Sisk, Jimmy Elder, Jeff Huntsman, Jeff Rayhill, DeWayne Carroll, Kyle Carmean, Sam Wharton-Coach.

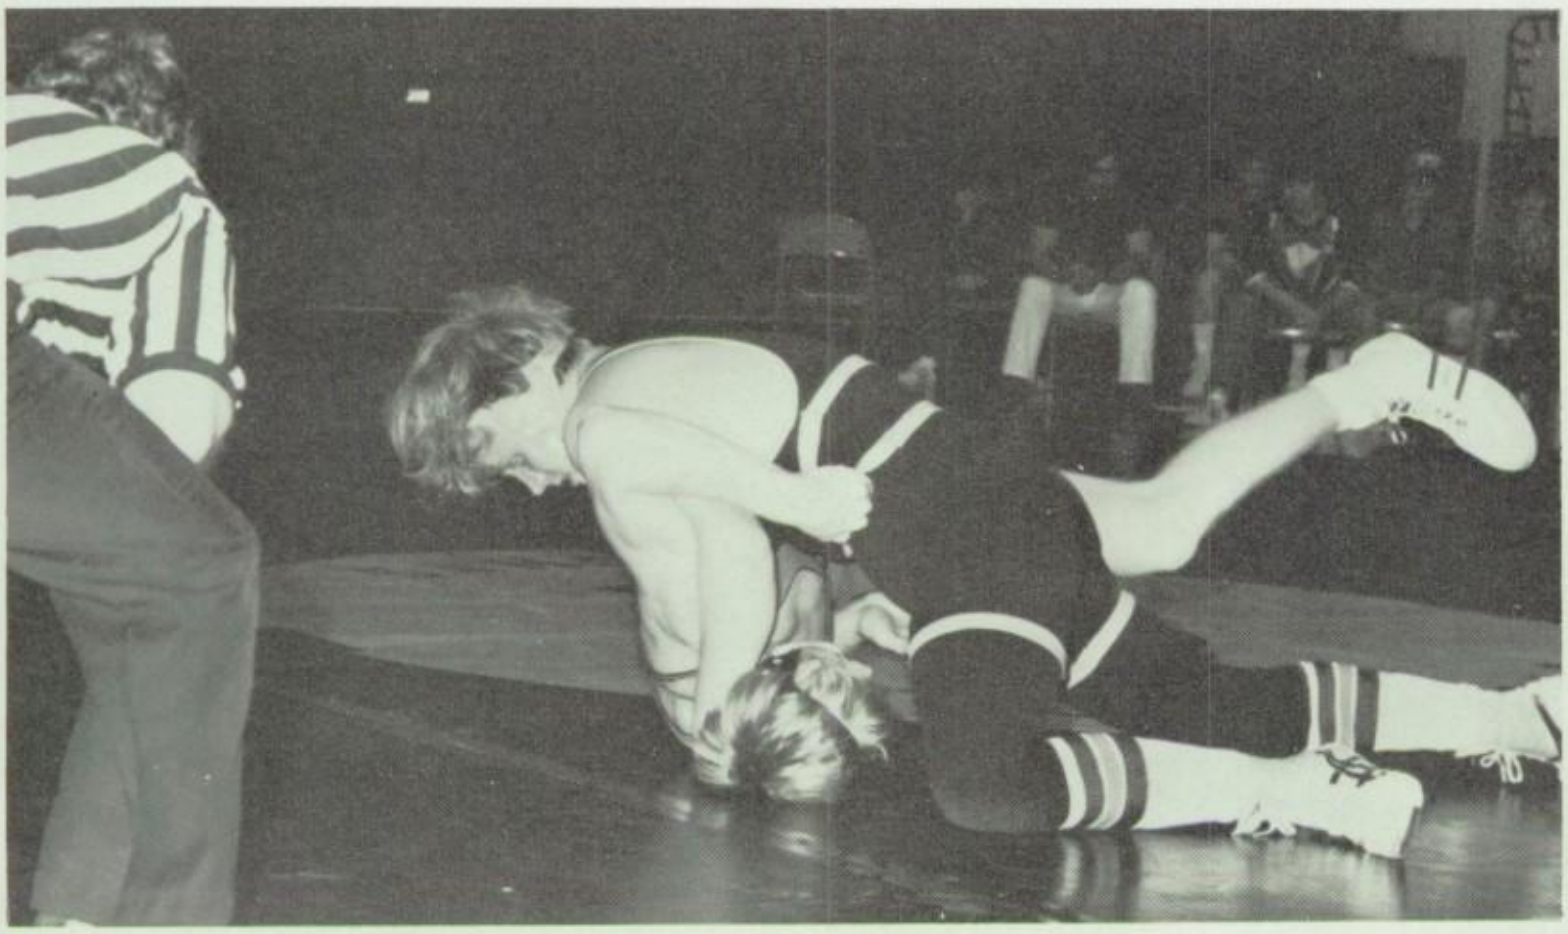
Grapplers Improve Individually

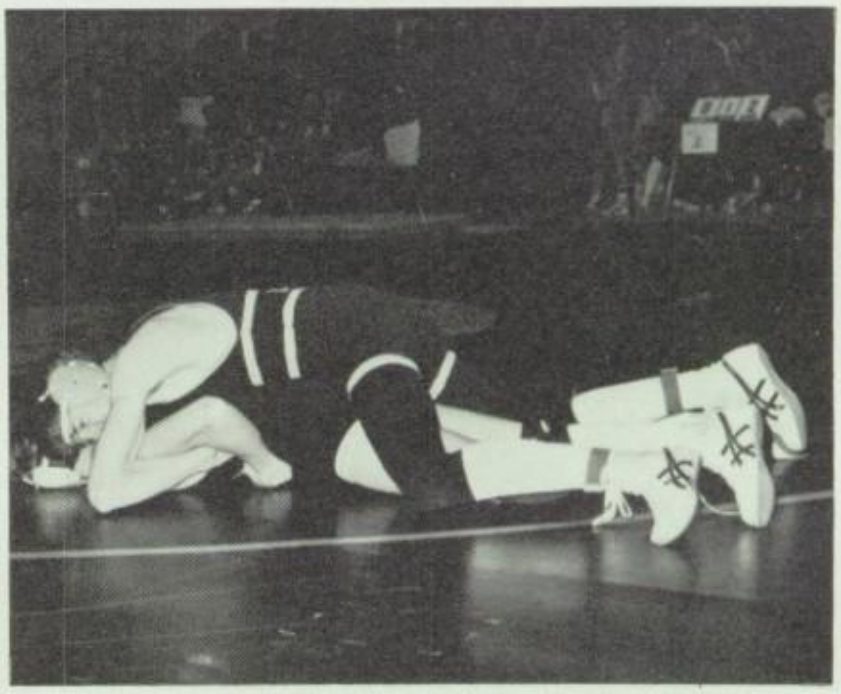
The South Holt wrestling team, coached by Sam Wharton, had only six members. This made team competition nearly impossible, because in every meet seven weight classes were forfeited, which put the team up to forty points behind their opponent before the meet even started.

Some of the team members were near the same weight, which put even more pressure on them individually and as a team. Several of the team members had to lose weight inorder to make a different weight class, or compete against others to go in their own weight class. Losing weight brought on the problems of weakness and sickness for those involved. Absences of wrestlers from meets contributed to the team's disadvantages.



Team Captain Jeff Rayhill is victorious in his wrestling match.





South Holt Individual Records

Weight		Won	Lost
138	Jeff Rayhill-Captain	18	6
Hwt.	Kyle Carmean	16	8
132	Jeff Huntsman	9	12
145	DeWayne Carroll	15	11
126	Spencer Sisk	2	13
132	Jimmy Elder	0	8

Above and clockwise: Jeff Rayhill congratulates Kyle Carmean on his victory. Kyle Carmean tries to pin his opponent. DeWayne Carroll asks Coach Wharton for advice. Jeff Huntsman tries to put a pinning combination on his opponent.

Two-Mile Relay Team Places at State

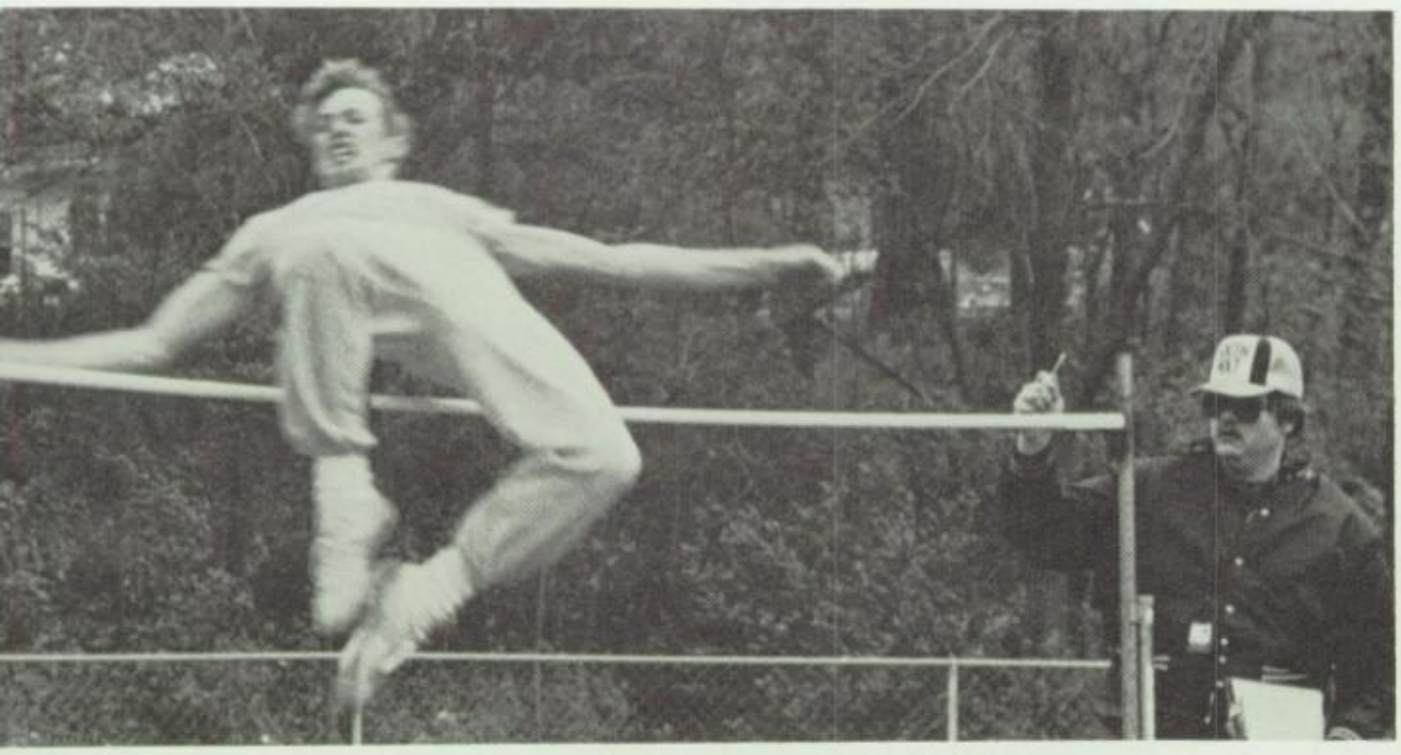
The 3200-meter relay team consisting of Wyle Williams, Edwin Patterson, Danny Weber, and Shane McWilliams was South Holt's pride and joy. The 3200-meter relay team went undefeated through the season, and placed fourth in the state. Other qualifies in the state track meet were Shane McWilliams, who placed eighth in the 800-meter run, and Wyle Williams, who competed in the high jump.

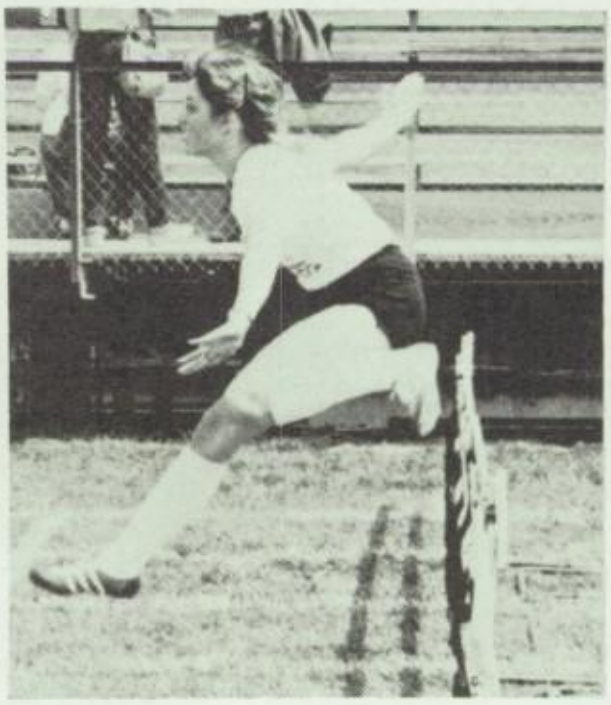
There were 16 girls out for track this year. These girls placed sixth in the conference. Also placing at the conference track meet were Dana Brunk, second in the 200-meter hurdles and third in the 100-meter hurdles; and Anna Book, third in the triple jump.

The improvement made by South Holt's track team was tremendous. All of these fine youg athletes are expected to do bigger and better things next year.

The 1982-83 South Holt boys track team is shown above. Front row, left to right: Kelly Kunkel, Richard Ottman, Maurice Noellsch, Mark Nichols, Alex Fink, Edwin Patterson, Shane McWilliams, and coach Craig Barker. Back row, left to right: Craig Buckles, Virgil Carroll, Randy Hill, Mitch Williams, Wyle Williams, Danny Weber, Russell Slusher, and Jeff Huntsman.

The 1982-83 South Holt girls trach team is shown above. Front row, left to right: Michelle Ringler, Heidi Fitzmaurice, Shelly Scroggins, Becky Weis, Tracey Scroggins, Rhonda Hunziger, Dana Brunk, and manager Kristin Lark. Back row, left to right: Marcia Weber, Diann Pierson, Lynn Brock, coach Craig Barker, Debbie Hunziger, Anna Book, Lora Scroggins, Amy Fitzmaurice, and Sherry Buckles.





Left and clockwise: Sunbathing at a track meet. Amy Fitzmaurice lands in the sand. Wyle Williams crosses the bar as Mr. Ehlers measures the height. Maurice Noellsch starts out of the blocks. Mr. Barker, Edwin Patterson, Wyle Williams, Danny Weber, and Shane McWilliams ready to leave for the state track meet. Debbi Hunziger goes over a hurdle.

A COACH'S WORK IS NEVER DONE

A coach's work is never done; in fact it's a 24-hour job. Many people don't realize how much time and energy is spent in being a coach, not to mention the never-ending sea of players' pains, complaints, headaches, and long hours. This position may seem simple to many, but the truth is, it's one of the most tiring, yet worthwhile! Not only must a coach endure long practices that seem to be getting him nowhere, but they must also wrap ankles, knees, and various other injuries day after day, excite the students at pep assemblies, psych the players before games, listen to boastful parents, and be one step ahead of the opponent at all times. Don't get me wrong, a coach's job is not totally a royal pain. There's nothing like the thrill of bringing home a victory, especially from an arch rival, or watching a group of clumsy octopuses turn into winning athletes; knowing it was all because of their efforts. The fun they have watching and laughing as players struggle to do things right. The pride felt when the season's over and they can look back and discover it wasn't so bad after all. And last but not least the everlasting friendships made. True, they spend a lot of extra hours helping the team, with very little credit, and true, they may get a little upset with the sometimes amusing antics of their athletes, and yes, they get a little tired once in a while and maybe even a little grouchy, but in the long run I think they all might agree it's one of the most rewarding positions you could ever hold, and maybe even the most amusing—at times!

I've often wondered where they get their will power and their strength to keep on going when it seems like the world's falling apart on the court, but then I guess that's what makes them so special.

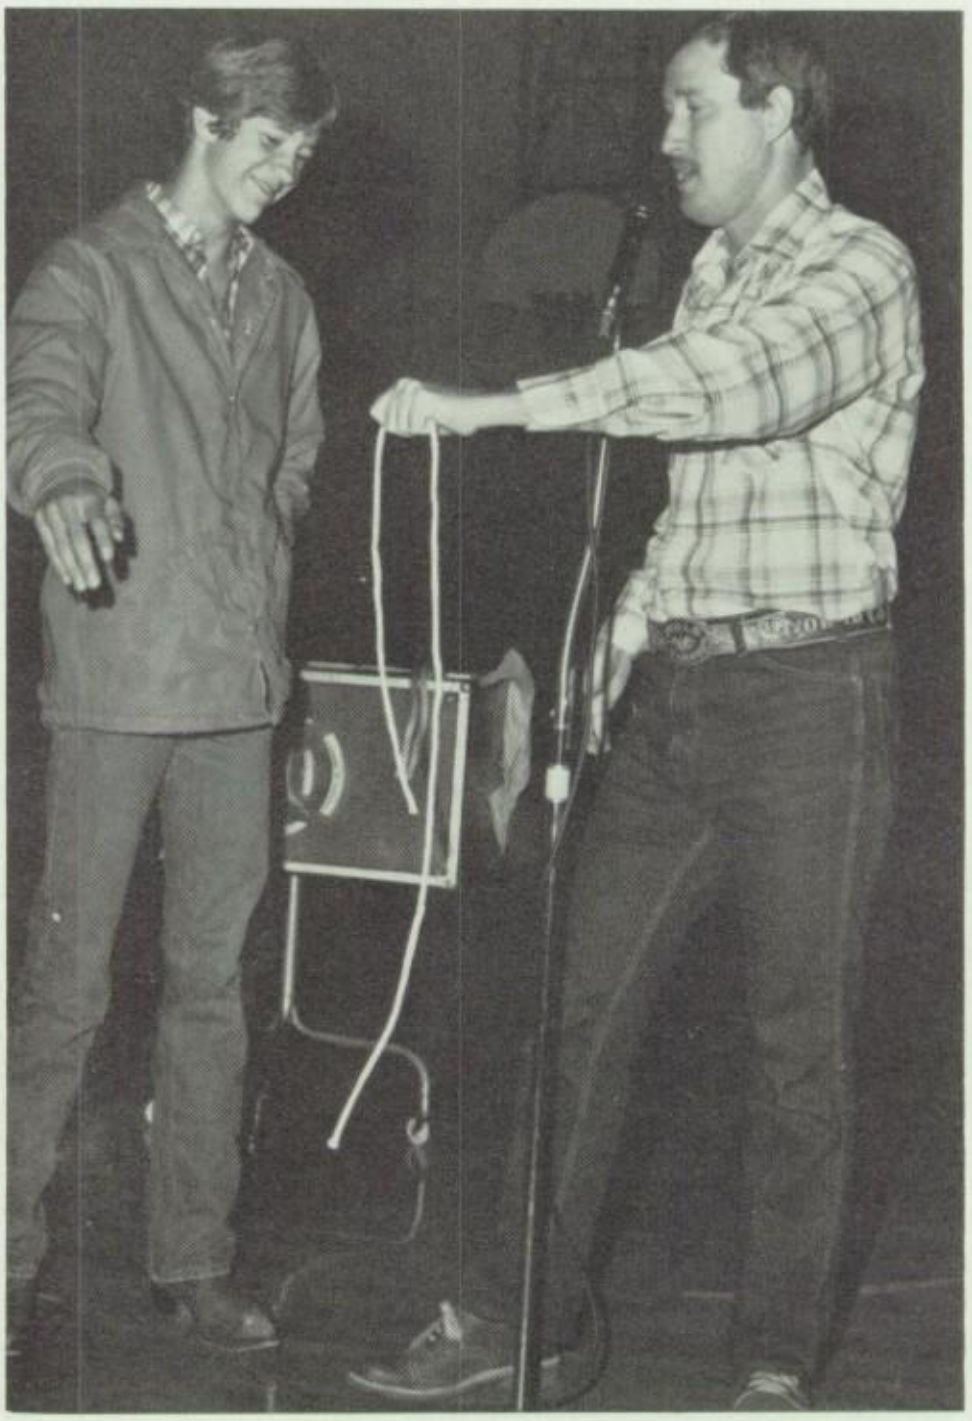
Amy Fitzmaurice-Editor

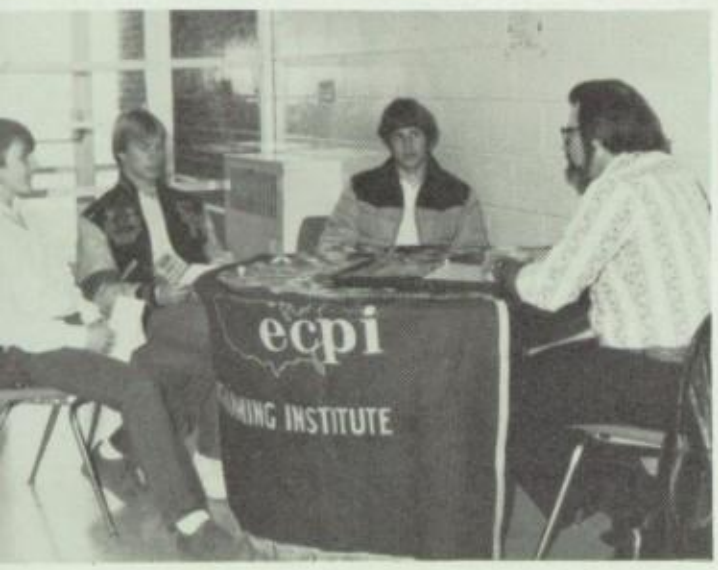
"The race doesn't always go to the swift, but to those who keep on running."

-Unknown

Above and clockwise: Albert Atkins receives an award from Dana Fink. Sam Wharton tapes DeWayne Carroll's wrist. Terry Ehlers psychs the players before a game. Larry Jones shows yet another duty of a coach, initiation into the school system. Craig Barker discusses the next play.

ENTERTAINMENT



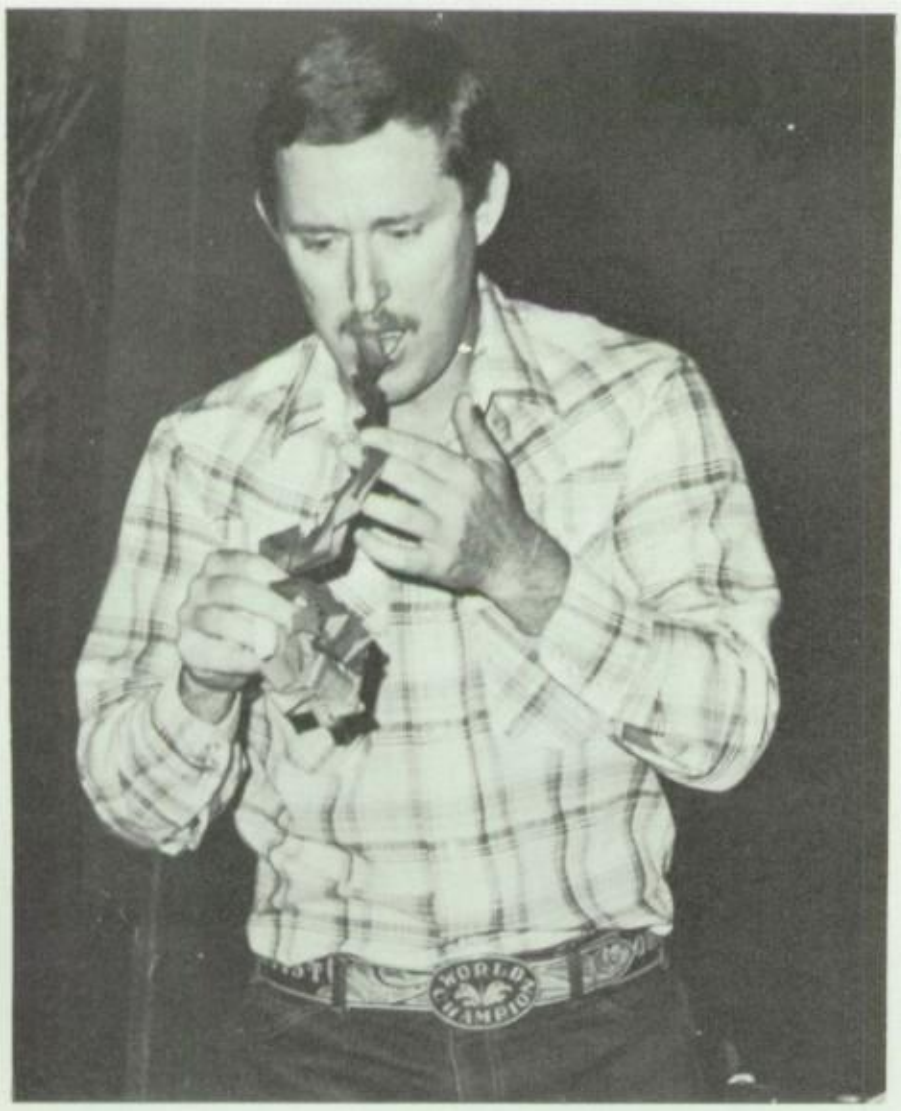


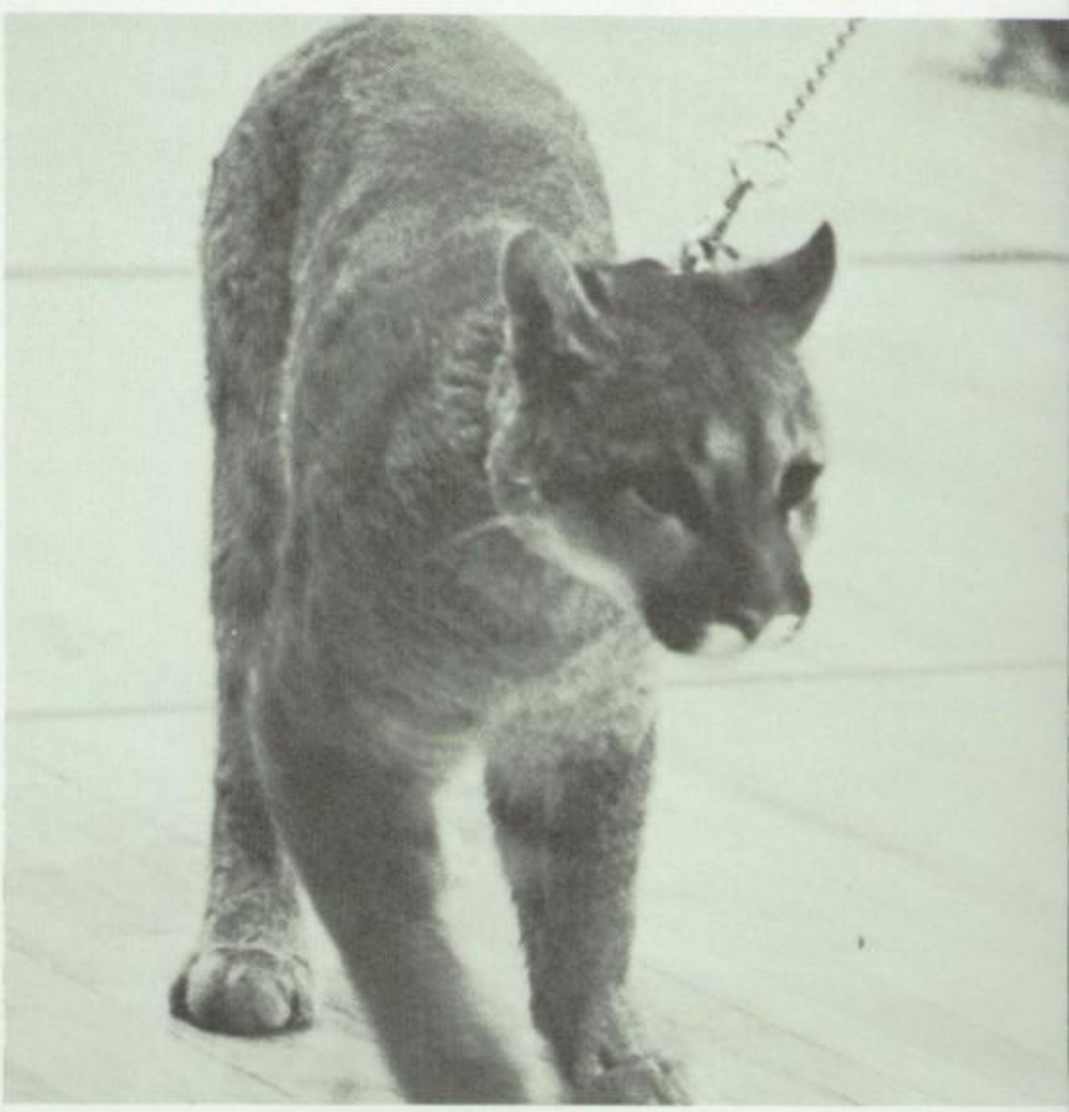
bove and clockwise: Roger Cromer and Jeff Rayhill ear from a representative from a college during career ay. A conservation agent plays with a porcupine uring an assembly. Danny Weber helps a magician ith his routine.

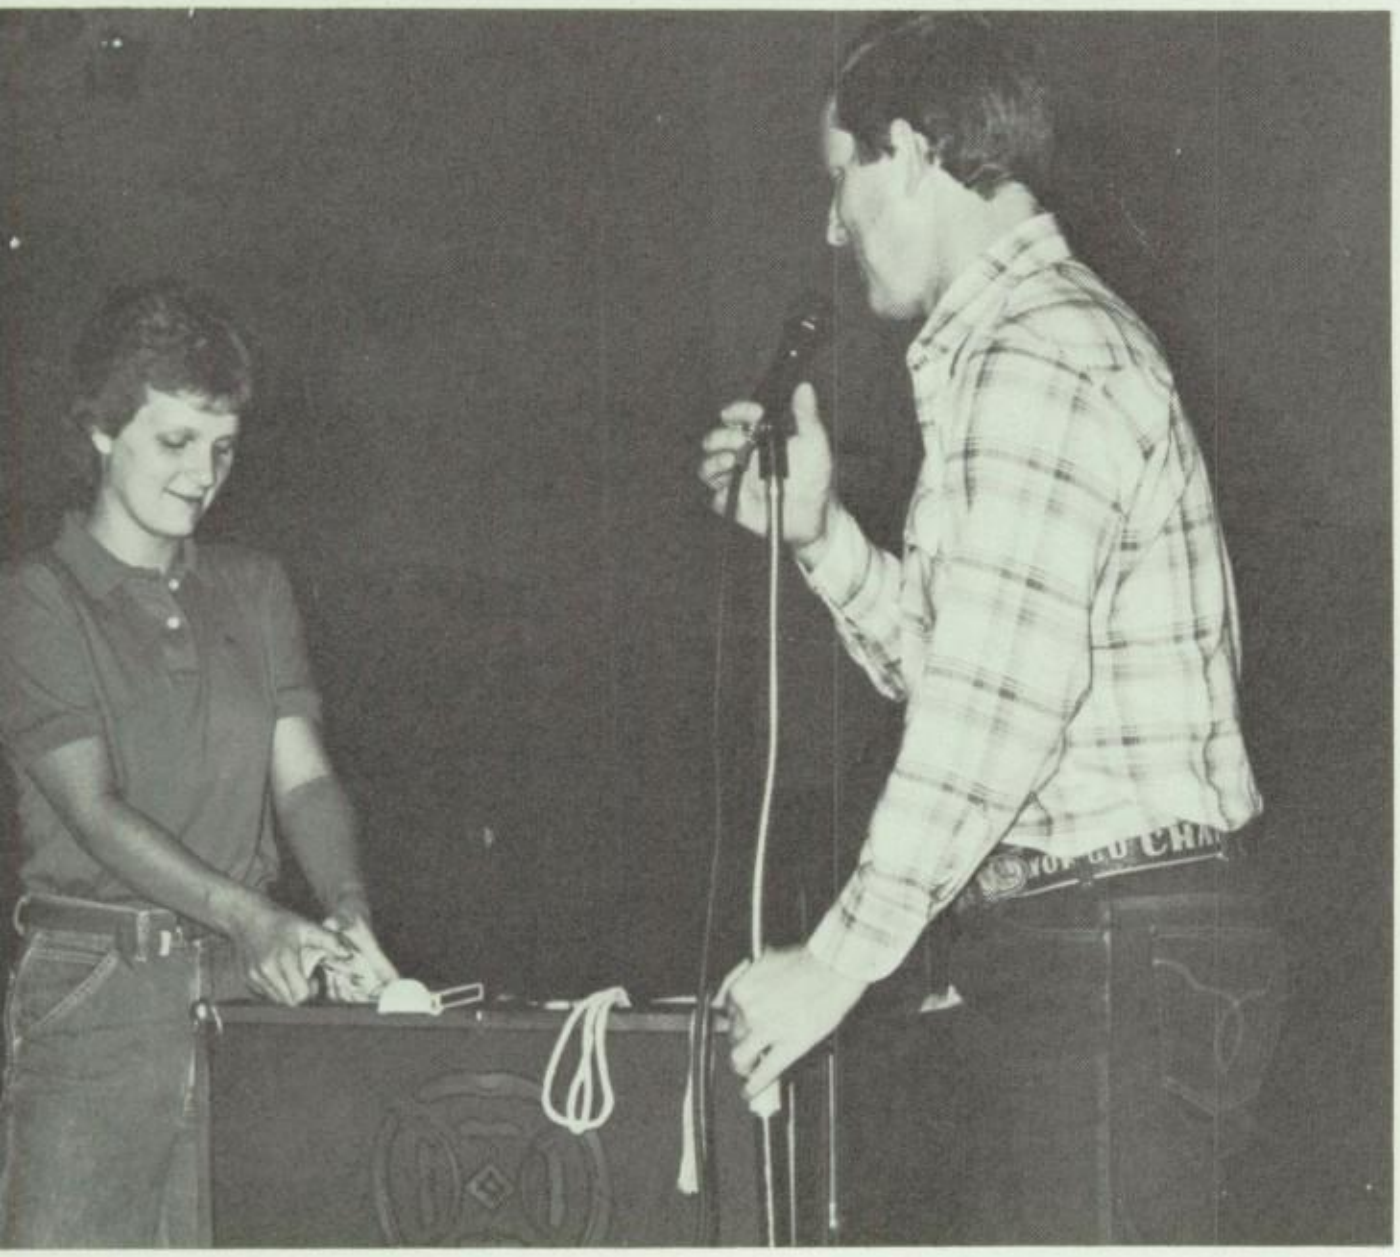
Fascinating Assemblies

Two assemblies were held during the 1982-83 year. The first was a fascinating performance by a successful magician. Several students were left in a state of awe. The second assembly provided the students with information about animals. The guest speaker was a conservationist.

Right and clockwise: The conservationist shows off his spider. The mountain lion struts in front of the students. The magician pulls kerchief from his mouth.







Left and clockwise: Dana Brunk assists a trick. The magician successfully escapes a straight jacket.

School Fun

Several sock hops were held in the progress of the 1982-83 school year. Many students would agree that they broke up the repetition of school life and above all gave the students the opportunity to socialize. The sock hops not only added to the enjoyment of the year but also added to the treasuries of those classes which were responsible for them.

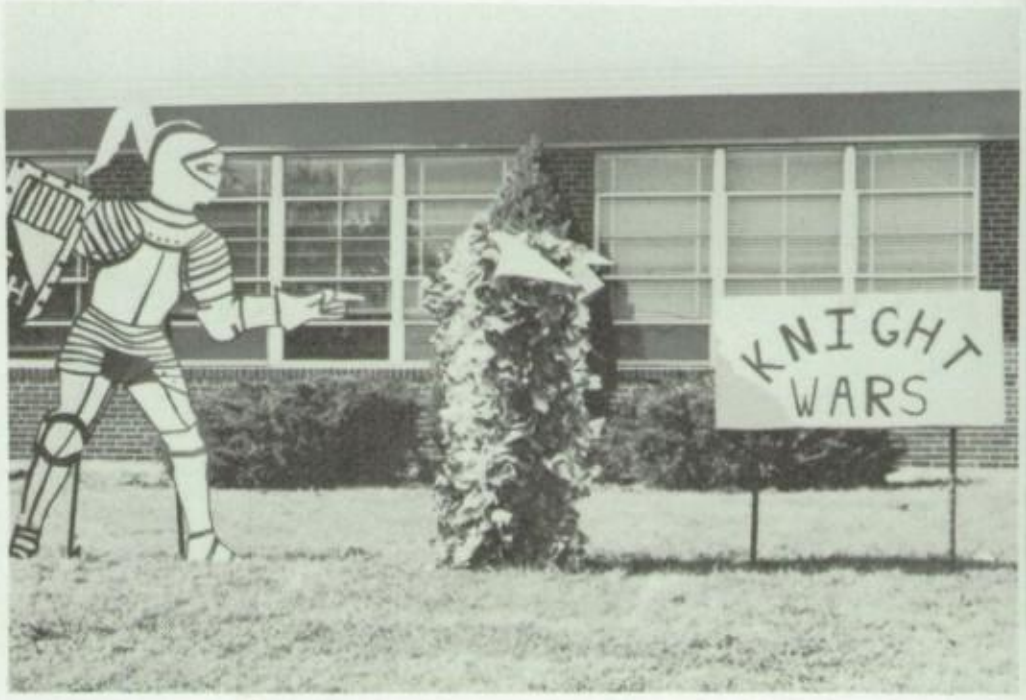
Below and clockwise: Russell Slusher diligently plays records for the sock hop. Gym floor is now the dance floor.

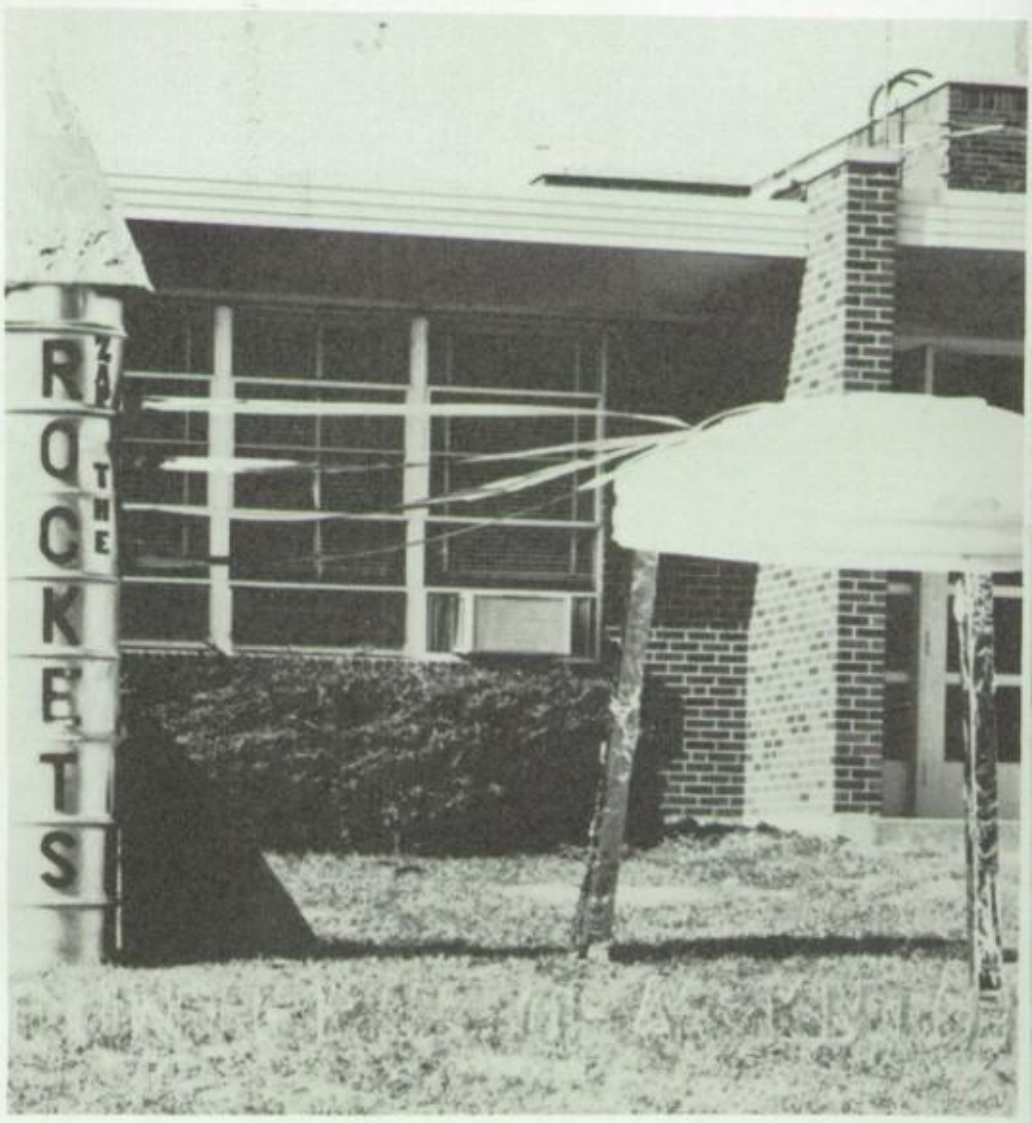
Left and clockwise: Dennis Prussman and Rhonda Hunziger enjoy a slow dance. Anna Book and Brett Derr like each other's company. The crowd takes a break. Left to right: Allison Plummer, Rhonda Hays, Linda Wilson, and Ronda Hughes going together for a picture.

Activities of Spirit Week

Spirit Week was an exciting week. Each day was a different mode of dress. Monday, Hat and T-shirt; Tuesday, Twin Day; Wednesday, Fifties; Thursday, Dress up Day; Friday, "Good Old Black and Gold Day."

Much time and energy went into the displays. The theme was "Movies Hits." The winning display went to the seniors. It was called Knight Shift.





Above and clockwise: Class displays: 'Knight Man' (faculty), 'Knight Shift' (seniors), 'From Here to Eternity' (sophomores), 'Knight Wars' (freshmen), 'Close Encounters of a Knightly Kind' (juniors).

Left and clockwise: Jenny Rayhill and Tracey Scroggins enjoying Hat and T-shirt Day. Sondra Snapp and Sherry Buckles dressed as Raggedy Ann and Andy on Twin Day. Coach Sam Wharton shows his cheerleading ability on Black and Gold Day. Carol Dudeck and Julie Hall dressed in "50s" style.

Amy Reigns Over Festivities

The 1982 Homecoming week was a super time for all.

This week of activities gives all a feeling of participating and having a good time feeling for each other. This is a way to help us cope with the pressures of school work. It is a great way to release your energy, all for the same goal — to Win — and have fun also.

The spirited cheerleaders led in the burning of the effigy on the football field Thursday evening. It fired up a lot of enthusiasm in all attending.

A tea was held Friday afternoon for the football mothers. It was hosted by the F.H.A. officers.

Also Friday the big pep rally was held uptown in the courtyard. Skits were presented by grades seven through twelve, football players and mothers were introduced. At this time Amy Fitzmaurice was announced the Homecoming Queen.

After winning the game against the West Nodaway Rockets 35 to 16, which was attended by a record crowd, the evening was climaxed by a dance for high school students and alumni. The theme for the dance was "Truly" by Lionel Richie.

It was a very successful week! And win, we did!

Above and clockwise: Queen candidates Lora Scroggins, Amy Fitzmaurice and Sue Cook wait for the big moment. Queen Amy Fitzmaurice. Winding the week down with slow dancing amid corn stalks and pumpkins.

Below and clockwise: A few of the juniors participating in a skit being assisted by Coaches Terry Ehlers, Larry Jones, and Craig Barker uptown at the pep assembly. Cheerleader Sondra Snapp looks on as fellow cheerleaders Carla Bender, Kristin Lark, Tracey Scroggins, and Rhonda Hunziger hold up the large spirit stick at the burning of the effigy. Junior Gillenwater goes with the ball. Sondra Snapp serving cake to football mothers at the tea.

Yuletide Cheer

Christmas is a time of fun and togetherness. That is just what the Christmas dance was, as the members of the South Holt High School and other outside dates gathered together on December 23.

The student council was responsible for preparation of the event. They decorated the gym and also hired the band Tempest to play during the dance. Refreshments were provided by the Home Economics girls. To top the evening off the well-known jolly fellow Santa Claus visited and helped the student council with the gift exchange.

Above and clockwise: John Sommer and Lisa Meyer enjoy a slow dance. Couples share the dance floor. Wyle Williams and Santa Claus share a laugh. Mark Howell passes out gifts. Two band members on stage.

FHA Spirit

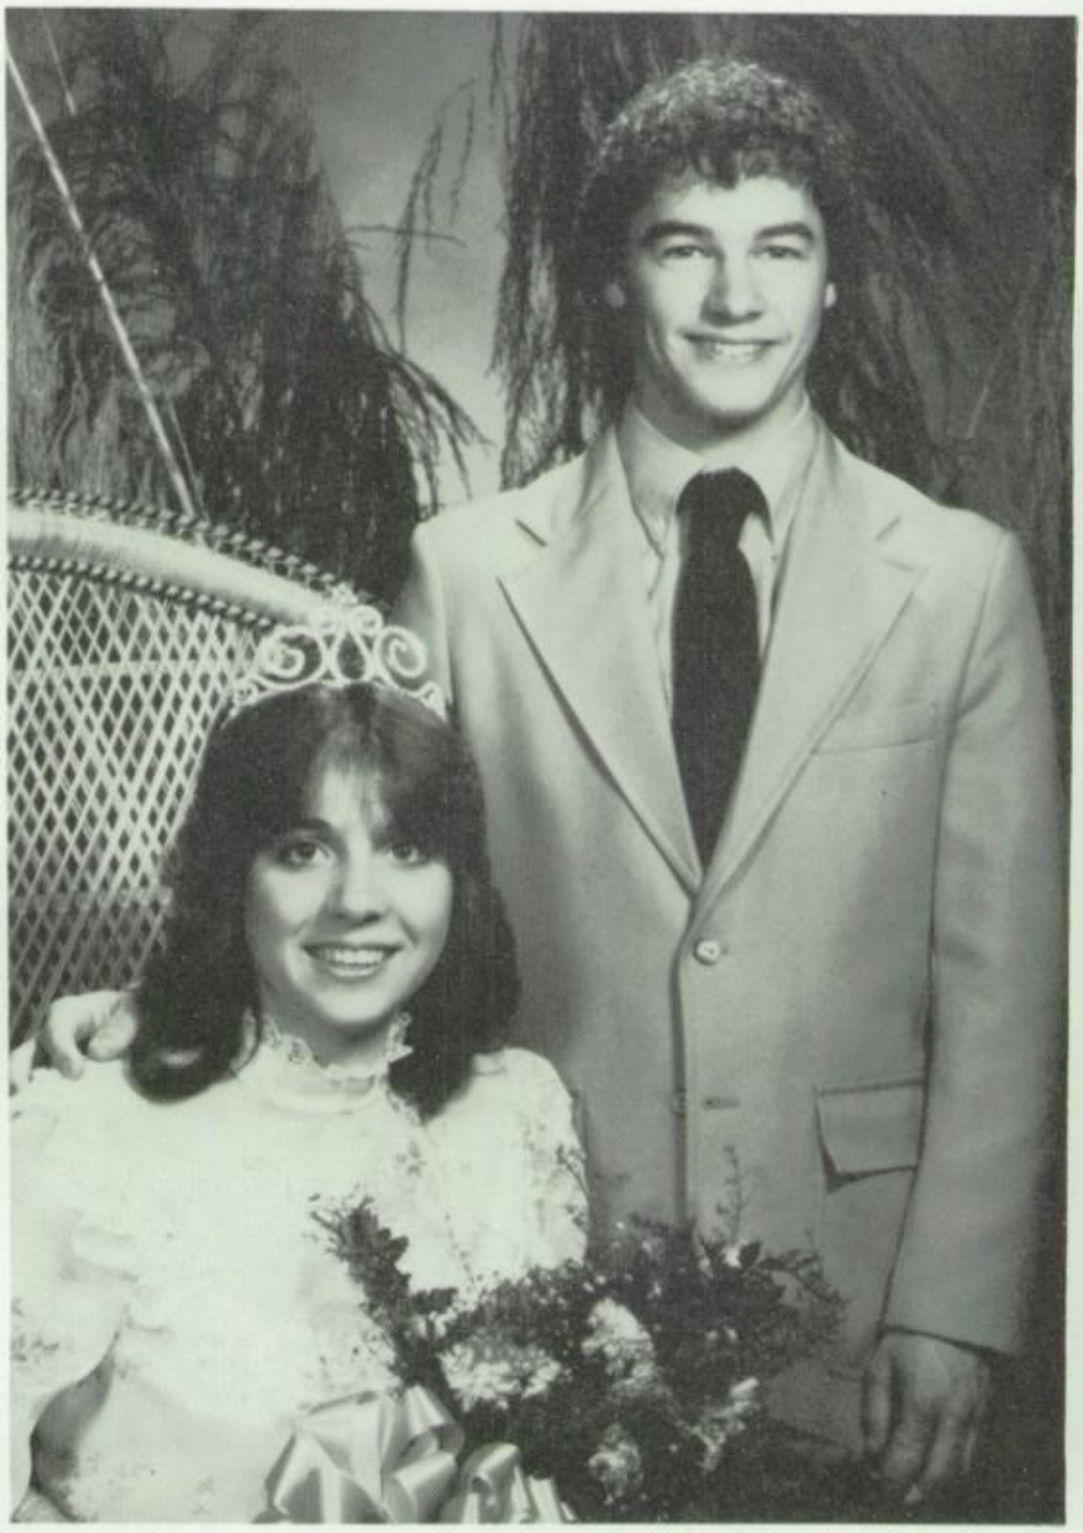
The FHA (Future Homemakers of America) had their own week this year. They dressed up differently each day of the week, showing their group spirit. Monday was dress down or sweats day, Tuesday was punk rock day, Wednesday was red and white day, Thursday was dress up day, and Friday was black and gold day.

Left and clockwise: Tracey Scroggins and Amy Fitzmaurice go all out for punk rock day. Sondra Snapp and Sherry Buckles pose in their mini skirts. Penny Kurtz and Carla Bender find something amusing in the day. Lisa Lark surprised by a snap shot.

A Dance In The Park

The Future Homemakers of America had a different idea for the gym this year; it was decorated like a park. The gym had park benches, trees, flowers, a bridge with a pond, pathways, and there was even a bird bath with doves.

The FHA sponsored the Sweetheart Dance held March 11. The theme for the dance was the song "Always" by Firefall. FHA chose the King and Queen candidates who were voted on by the student body the day before the dance, and made arrangements for the refreshments and also hired disc jockeys to play records during the dance. The crown bearers were Donny Medsker and Mandy Daise. The King and Queen were crowned by Russell Slusher, student body president, and Amy Fitzmaurice, Homecoming Queen.



Right and clockwise: King Dennis Prussman and Queen Kelly Steeby. Edwin Patterson and Sherry Buckles pose during a slow dance.

Above: King Dennis Prussman and Queen Kelly Steeby and their court. Crownbearers Donny Medsker and Mandy Daise. Left to right, back row: Sondra Snapp, Sherry Buckles, Amy Fitzmaurice, Russell Slusher, Edwin Patterson, and Wyle Williams.

The Junior Class of
South Holt R-I High School
Presents
"Golden Memories"
Friday Evening
April 22
Nineteen Hundred Eighty-Three
GOLDEN MEMORIES
APRIL 22ND 1983
'83
SHHS

Above and clockwise: Two members of the band Swift Kik get into a song. South Holt students enjoying the meal. Sherry Buckles dances to the music.

"Golden Memories" Will Last Forever

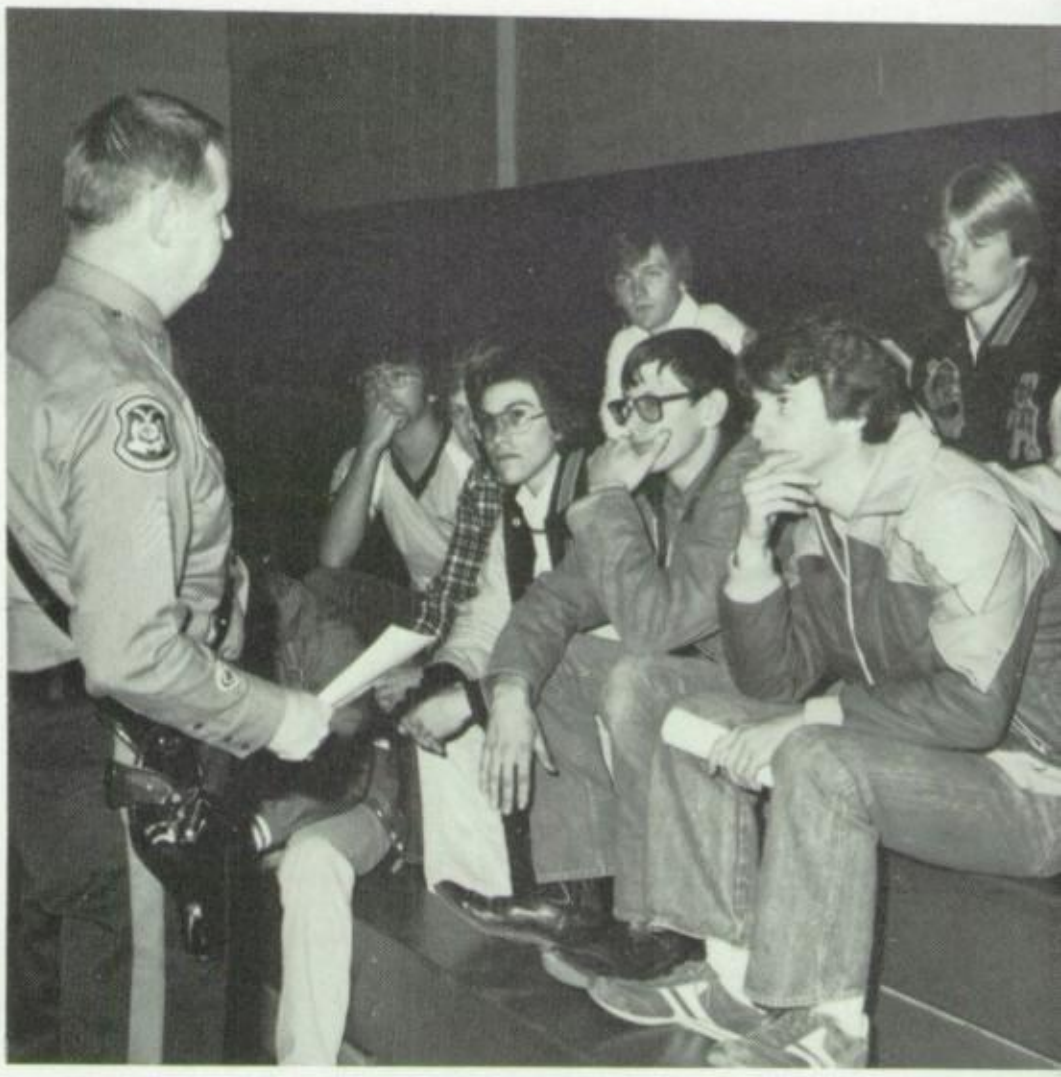
Hoof and Horn Restaurant in St. Joseph was the site of the 1983 junior-senior prom. Hosting the prom were the juniors, who had worked hard throughout the year to raise money and make everything just perfrect for the night of April 22. Everyone enjoyed the meal and the evening was topped off by dancing to the music of Swift Kik.

Left and clockwise: Kristin Lark and Todd Kunkel enjoy dancing to the music of Swift Kik. Bradley Kurtz and Tracey Scroggins try to have a conversation as they dance. Craig Buckles "bartends" after dinner refreshments.

Deciding The Future

Ten area high schools all participated in a Career Day at South Holt. Representatives from colleges, universities, and armed forces all helped in making the day a success. These representatives intelligently helped the seniors decide their future career or college.

Below and clockwise: Senior boys listen to a highway patrolman. Junior hostesses, front row: Kristin Lark, Penny Kurtz, Rhonda Hunziger, Dana Brunk, and Susie Steeby. Back row, Julie Hall, Tracey Scroggins, Mr. Connell, Carol Dudeck, and Anna Book. Sherry Mathews and Kelly Steeby listen politely.



JUNIOR HIGH

Above and clockwise: Darrick Scroggins, Bob Ottman, Matt Williams, and Randy Williams after winning the spirit stick at a pep assembly. Joe Ashlock learns to type. King and Queen of the Christmas dance, Brett Sipes and Marsha Meyer.

Celebrating Christmas

The eighth grade prepared for the Christmas Dance. The theme was "Hard to Say I'm Sorry;" the colors were white, baby blue, and lavender. King and Queen candidates were chosen by the class and voted on by the students in the junior high. The King and Queen were crowned by Andy Hall and Leandra Jones, the 1982 spring dance King and Queen.

Records were played. Refreshments were punch and cookies. The student council took care of the gift exchange.

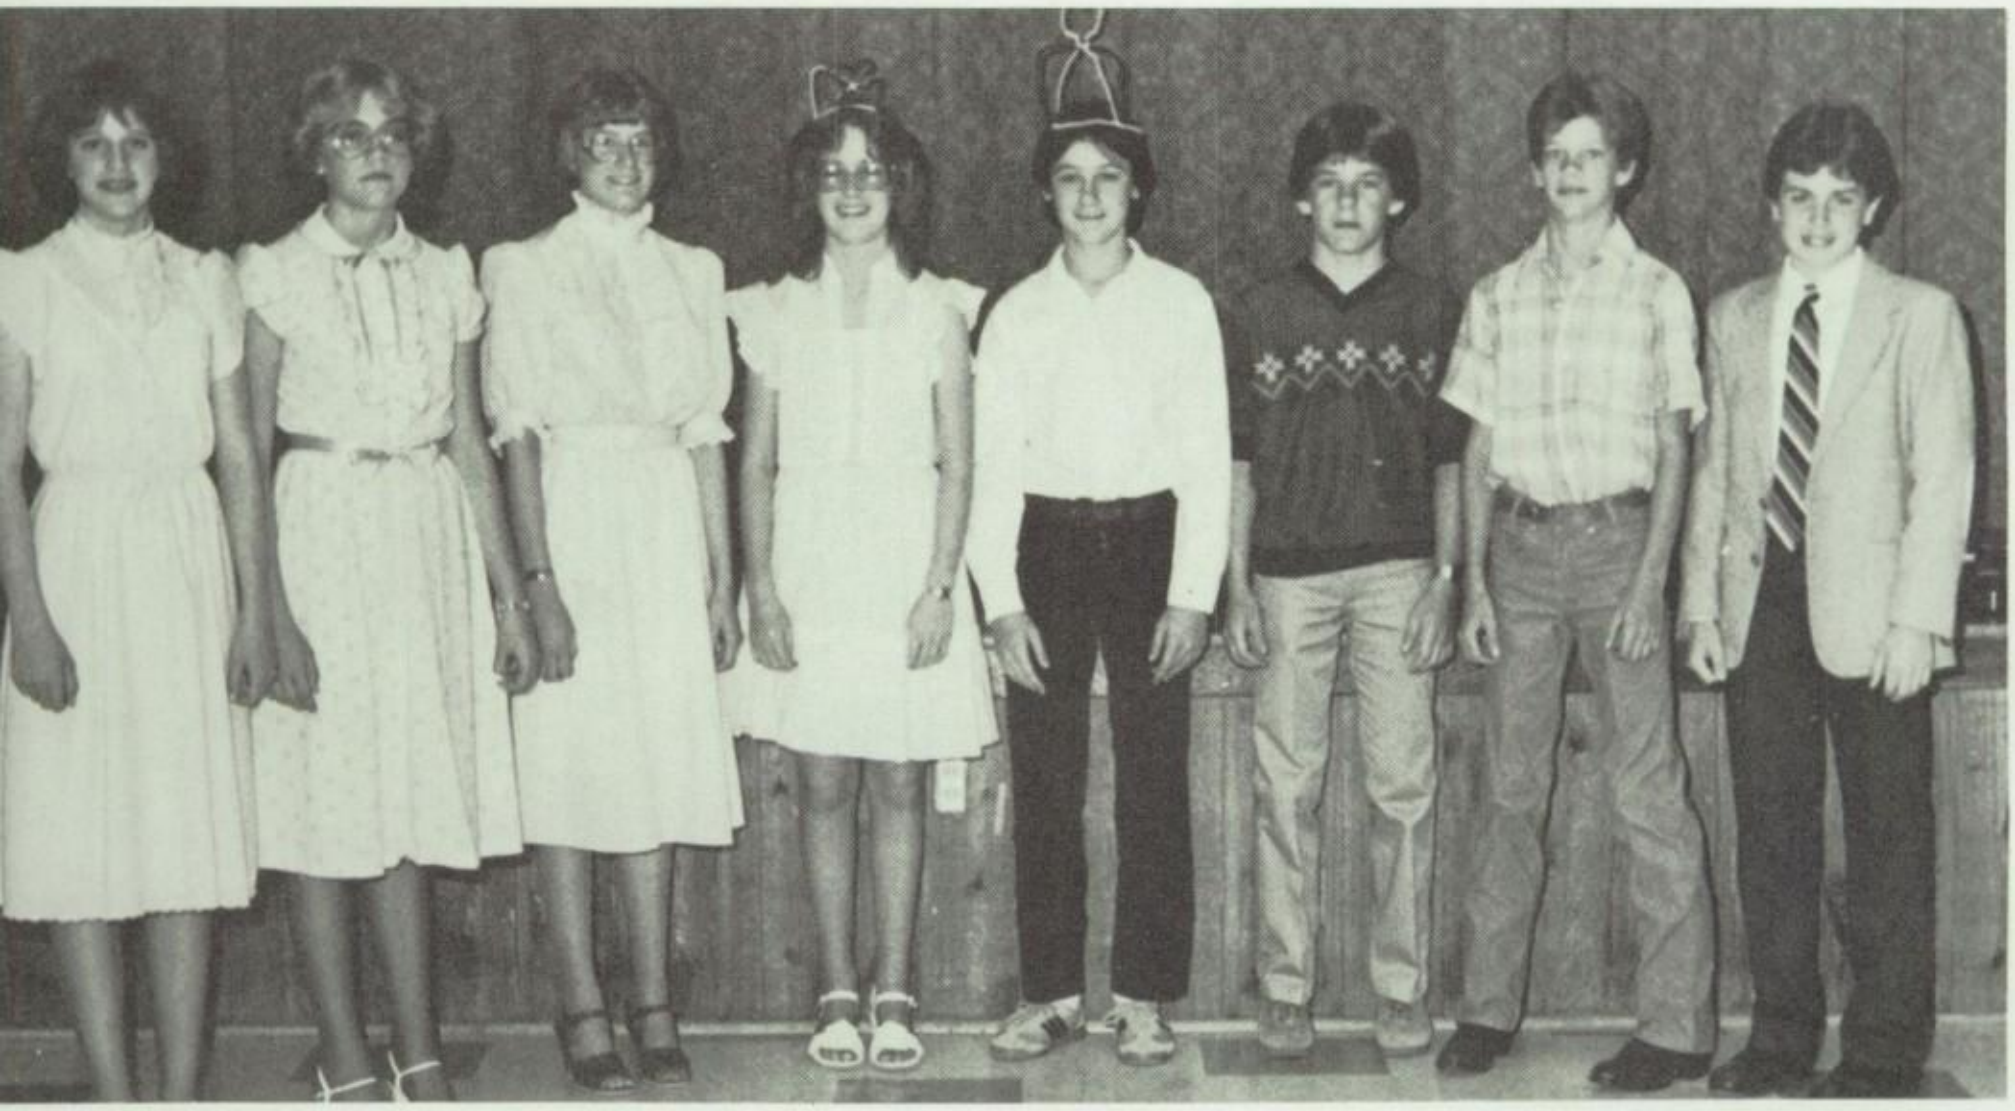
Below and left: Brian Normile helps pass gifts. Darrick Scroggins plays disc jockey at the dance.

Above: King and Queen and their court. Left to right: Denise Cromer, Debbie Weis, Lori Sommer, Leandra Jones, Queen Marsha Meyer, King Brett Sipes, Andy Hall, Mike Eiser, Bob Ottman, and Jimmy Riley.

Spring Brings A Dance

The song "Young Love" was the theme of the spring dance sponsored by the seventh grade. The seventh grade students decorated the band room in blue and yellow. They chose King and Queen candidates, who were voted on by the student body. Records were played by Ryan Scroggins. The King and Queen were crowned by Brett Sipes and Marsha Meyer, 1982 Christmas King and Queen.

Left: King and Queen, Jason Phelan and Lisa Plummer.



Above: King and Queen and their court. Left to right: Christi Elliott, Julie Hunziger, Pam Buckles, Queen Lisa Plummer, King Jason Phelan, Mark Cotton, Lonnie Weber, and Randy Williams.

Junior High Football Team. Front row, left to right: Jared Phelan, Bob Ottman, Terry Calhoun, Ryan Scroggins, Darren Markt, Timmy Hays, Darin Brock, Don Edwards. Second row: Chris Fink, Mark Cotton, DeWight Carroll, Darrick Scroggins, Brett Sipes, Matt Williams, David Dozier, Andy Hall. Third row: Aron Scroggins, Greg Cain, Randy Williams, Bradley Gillenwater, Lonnie Weber, Brian Normile, Brandon Collins, Brian Scroggins. Fourth row: Assistant Coach Sam Wharton, Aaron Parsons, managers Jason Phelan and Jared Scroggins, and Coach Albert Atkins.

Football Team Completes Perfect Season

The Junior High Football team, which was coached by Albert Atkins and his assistant coach, Sam Wharton, completed the 1982 football season with a perfect 4-0 record. Only one of the four teams they played (Nodaway-Holt) was able to score against them all season.

The team was honored for its success with a banquet presented by their parents and the coaches at the end of the season. Each player received a small trophy to help him remember this fine season.

Junior High Football Scores

South	Holt	Opponent
52	Nodaway-Holt	6
38	North Nodaway	0
36	Mound City	0
14	Rock Port	0

Left: The Junior High football team receives instruction from Coach Albert Atkins and his assistant, Sam Wharton, during halftime of a ball game.

Track Team Fields Thirty-Five

The Junior High track team, coached by Terry Ehlers, consisted of thirteen girls and twenty-two boys. Although the team got a late start due to rain and bad weather, it competed successfully in many area track meets.

Girls on the team included seventh graders Pam Buckles, Cynthia Burt, Christy Elliott, Diedra Harvey, Julie Hunziger, Margaret Ottman, Julie Meyer, Lisa Plummer, Sonja Sipes, Ellen Sommer, and Janelle Stock; and eighth graders Bridgit Derr, Marsha Meyer, and Debbie Weis.

The boys were seventh graders Joe Ashlock, Brandon Collins, Mark Cotton, Chris Fink, Brad Gillenwater, James Mackey, Jason Phelan, Aron Scroggins, Lonnie Weber, and Randy Williams; and eighth graders Terry Calhoun, Dewight Carroll, Don Edwards, Mike Eiser, Scott Kunkel, Darren Markt, Brian Normile, Bob Ottman, Aaron Parsons, Darrick Scroggins, and Matt Williams. No group picture was available.

Above and clockwise: Pam Buckles crosses the finish line. Mike Eiser hands off the baton to Don Edwards. DeWight Carroll leads other runners in a race.

Jr. High Boys Complete Outstanding Season

The Junior High boys basketball team compiled a record of 10 wins and 1 loss. Coached by Craig Barker and led by an outstanding group of eight starters, the team won the South Holt Junior High Invitational Tournament by beating Fairfax in the finals.

This group of players has a lot of talent and it will be doing a lot of big things for South Holt High in the years to come.

Pictured above is the 1982-83 junior high boys basketball team with its first place trophy from the South Holt Junior High Invitational Tournament. They are, front row, left to right: Lonnie Weber, Andy Hall, Chris Fink, Mark Cotton, Bradley Gillenwater, Dewight Carroll, Randy Williams, Darrick Scroggins, and Joe Ashlock. Back row, left to right: Scott Kunkel, Brett Sipes, Darren Markt, Greg Cain, Aaron Scroggins, Bob Ottman, Ryan Scroggins, Matt Williams, and Tiger Parsons.

JR. HIGH BOYS SCORES

SOUTH HOLT		OPPONENT
37	Rock Port	20
48	North Andrew	22
43	North Andrew (Tournament)	23
36	Rock Port (Tournament)	10
36	Fairfax (Tournament)	28
33	Tarkio	28
51	Nodaway Holt	15
29	Mound City	19
38	Fairfax	40
44	Craig	18
56	West Nodaway	33

Junior High Girls Have a Winning Season

The South Holt Junior High girls basketball team won seven games of their eleven-game season. They took second place in the South Holt Junior High Invitational Tournament.

JR. HIGH GIRLS SCORES

SOUTH HOLT		OPPONENT
15	Rock Port	16
23	North Nodaway	25
23	West Nodaway (Tournament)	20
25	Craig (Tournament)	8
11	Mound City (Tournament Finals)	21
23	Tarkio	12
39	Nodaway Holt	7
14	Mound City	22
33	Fairfax	23
29	Craig	6
33	West Nodaway	28

Below and clockwise: Pam Buckles, Christy Elliott, Debbie Weis, Diedra Harvey, Bridgit Derr, Ellen Sommer, Marsha Meyer, Janelle Stock, Sandy Dozier, Amy Meyer, Gina Woolsey, Margaret Ottman, Becky Freeman, Joy Eaton, Becky Gillenwater, Lisa Plummer, Leandra Jone, Julie Hunziger, and Coach Albert Atkins. Becky Gillenwater sets up a pick for Debbie Weis as she dribbles down the court.

Kevin Eiser
President
Mark Cotton
Vice-President
Bradley Gillenwater
Secretary

Lisa Plummer
Treasurer
Greg Cain
Reporter
Chris Fink
Student Council

Ellen Sommer
Student Council
Christy Elliott
Student Council
Lonnie Weber

Seventh Grade Shows Enthusiasm

These seventh grade students have shown a lot of enthusiasm this past year. They have been very active in all of these school activities: Football, basketball, track, and band. Many hard hours of work were spent making their annual Spring Dance a success.

With their ambition and class pride they should have many interesting school years ahead of them.

Right and clockwise: The seventh grade court, left to right; Christy Elliott, Julie Hunziger, Pam Buckles, Lisa Plummer, Jason Phelan, Mark Cotton, Lonnie Weber, and Randy Williams. Brian Scroggins and Julie Elder under the mistletoe. Chris Fink plays his baritone.

James Mackey
Brian Scroggins
Janelle Stock

Jason Phelan
Cynthia Burt
Joy Eaton

Randy Williams
Sonja Sipes
Jason Meyer

Margaret Ottman
Pam Buckles
Aron Scroggins

Joe Ashlock
Brandon Collins
Julie Elder

Julie Hunziger
Diedra Harvey
Julie Meyer

Eighth Graders Develop Leadership

Matt Williams
President

Marsha Meyer
Vice-President

Leandra Jones
Secretary

The eighth grade, led by President Matt Williams; Vice-President Marsha Meyer; Secretary Leandra Jones; and Treasurer Darrick Scroggins, has had a very memorable year.

The eighth graders have worked hard to develop leadership. Early in the year, they held a very successful skating party to raise money for their trip to World's of Fun in the spring.

Darrick Scroggins
Treasurer

Andy Hall
Student Council

Denise Cromer
Student Council

Brian Normile
Student Council

Darin Brock
Student Council

Jayleen Fansher

Scott Kunkel

Christina Hurst

Daniel Burton

Amy Meyer

Jimmy Eaton

David Dozier

Cheryl Davis

Becky Freeman

Above (top) Queen Marsha Meyer and King Brett Sipes pose for a picture after their coronation at the Christmas Dance. Cheerleaders Sandy Dozier and Leandra Jones give us a cheer.

Left and clockwise: Kevin Nowling and Darrin Brock put the finishing touches on their shop projects. Andy Hall passes out gifts at the Christmas Dance.

Don Edwards
Ramonda Cain
Timmy Hays
Kevin Nowling
Sandy Dozier
Aaron Parsons

Lori Sommer
Darren Markt
Michael Eiser
Debby Weis
Brett Sipes
Gina Woolsey

Terry Calhoon
Barbara Brock
DeWight Carroll
Ryan Scroggins
Michelle Hughes
Jared Phelan

Becky Gillenwater
Robert Ottman
Bridgit Derr
Jimmy Riley
Jenny Reynolds

Cheerleaders Promote Spirit; Purchase Uniforms

In May 1982, six girls were selected by a committee of teachers to represent the junior high football and basketball teams for the 1982-83 seasons. The girls were judged on their performance of a stunt, a jump, a group cheer, and an individual cheer, as well as eye contact, smiles, and voice projection.

The cheerleaders received new uniforms, which they each paid for themselves. They worked hard to plan effective pep assemblies and to lead cheers at ball games.

Their advisor was Miss Joan Russell.

Right: The Junior High Cheerleaders for the 1982-83 school year were: (left to right) Marsha Meyer, Leandra Jones, Christy Elliott, Lori Sommer, Sandy Dozier, and Bridget Derr in the splits.

Junior High Council Buys Video Game

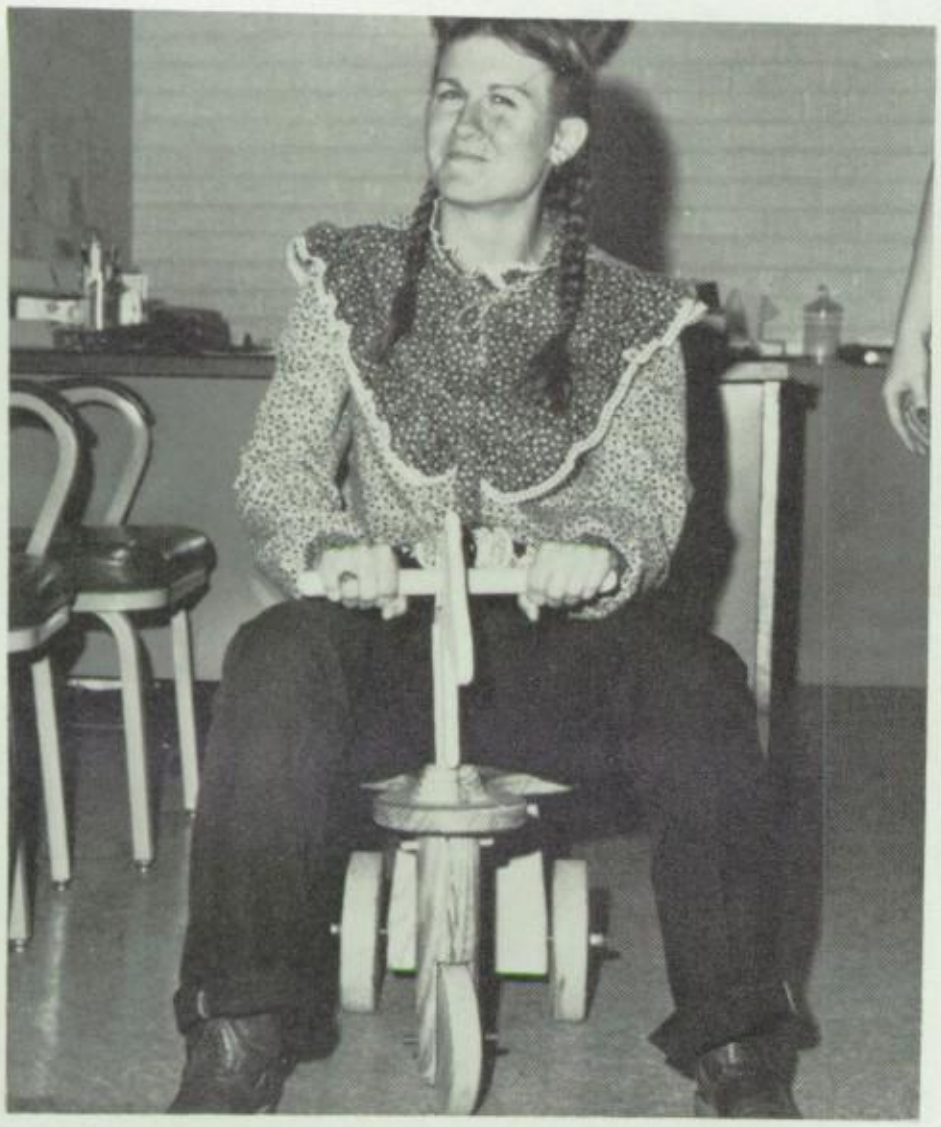
Shown above are three of the eighth grade members of the student council. From left to right are Andy Hall, Darin Brock, and Brian Normile. They are displaying the t-shirts the council sold to raise money at the beginning of the year.

Andy Hall, an eighth grader, was elected last spring by the entire junior high to serve as president of the Junior High Student Council for the 1982-83 school year.

Other members of the council were selected the first day of school by each class, and other student council officers were voted on by the council at its first meeting. Other members of the council included Brian Normile, vice-president; Pam Buckles, secretary; Ellen Sommer, treasurer; Denise Cromer, Darin Brock, and Chris Fink.

The council, sponsored by Mrs. Nancy Freeman and Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart, worked hard to raise money through pop and candy sale in the lounge and the annual t-shirt sales. The money raised through these projects was used to help finance the student council trip to St. Joe in the spring, and to purchase an Atari Video Game for the Junior High Lounge.

INSTRUCTORS



Above and clockwise: Mrs. Stuart sorts through shirts with some help from Penny Kurtz. Mrs. Milne finds a cheaper way to rodeo, a wodden horse. Mrs. Jasper points a well-known finger at the camera.

Personnel In Charge of Logistics

The six school buses used at South Holt were leased from DATRAN Inc. of St. Joseph, Mo. Each day the buses log a distance of miles to carry students to and from school. About 300 students are transported each day. If a bus has trouble a spare bus is on hand at the school and a service crew is on standby in a radio dispatched service truck.

Meals are served to about 300 students each day. Special people plan and serve the meal on a closely regulated schedule that allows all students to have twenty-five minutes for their lunch during a closed lunch period.

School maintenance is an ongoing process of sweeping, dusting, scrubbing, trash carrying, and doing minor repairs around the school. The three custodians are aided at times by students employed through the CETA program.

Left and clockwise: Custodian, Jim Pierson, with CETA helpers. Greg Delp (left) and Vincent Meyer. South Holt cooks (left to right) Billie Sommer, Irene Carroll - head dietitian, Betty Hays, and Mildred Adams. Judy Munro punching tickets in the lunch line. Bus drivers (left to right) Richard Brown, Albert Atkins, Virginia Oppenlander, Ronnie Kunkel, Hale Miller, and Glen Lippold. DATRAN South Holt Bus supervisor, Jay Buckles, and DATRAN mechanic, with the service truck which is radio dispatched.

Board of Education Guides South Holt

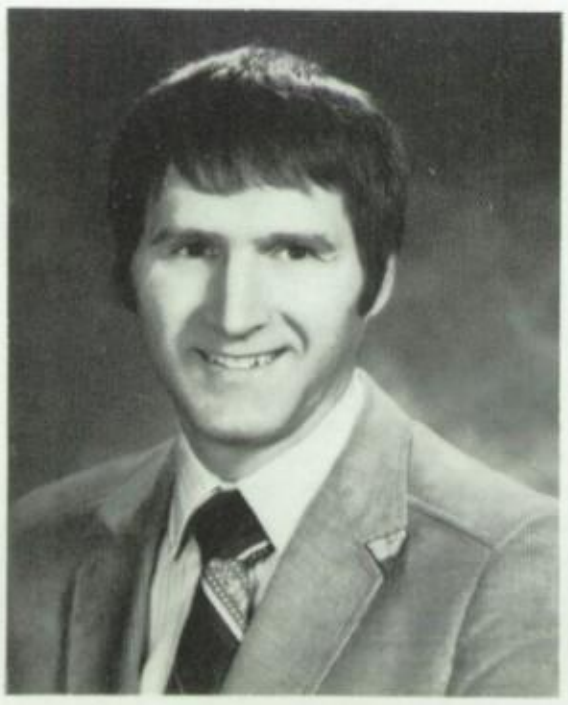
The South Holt R-1 Board of Education, made up of six local citizens, two of which are elected each year, serve a term of three years. The board has represented the interest of the community in operation of the school. Superintendent George Munro guided the board in line with the state educational requirements. South Holt is rated as a AA school.

Underclassmen watch as the seniors leave on their last day of school.

Irwin Sommer
President

Chester Kunkel
Vice-President

Joe Noellsch



Alvin Meyer

Don Buckles

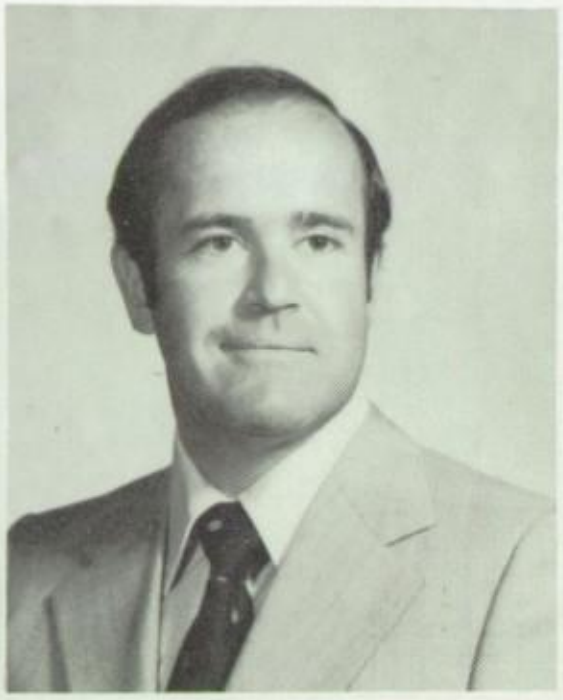
Bernard Delaney

Administration Directs Faculty

Superintendent George Munro and principal Richard Brown worked as a team to keep the educational process moving at South Holt.

Mr. Munro has completed five years as the head of South Holt R-1 School. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Memphis State University, Memphis, Tennessee. He has a master's degree and a special degree from the University of Missouri, Columbia, Missouri.

Mr. Brown has been at South Holt as principal for three years. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Industrial Arts and a Master of Science in Secondary Administration from Northwest Missouri State University, Maryville, Mo.



George Munro
Superintendent

Richard Brown
Principal

Mr. Munro and his secretary, Mrs. Ruth Kelly, inspect the payroll computer printout.

Mrs. Ruth Kelly
Secretary to the Superintendent and the School Board

Mrs. Ina Jo Barker
Secretary to the Principal

School Secretaries Invaluable

Mrs. Ruth Kelly has a double job in that she is both secretary to the superintendent and secretary to the Board of Education. She has been secretary to the superintendent for seventeen years and to the board for ten years.

Mrs. Ina Jo Barker has been secretary to the principal for two years. She has the varied tasks of keeping student records, selling lunch tickets, and collectiong for everything from letter jackets to pencils.

Faculty Student Ratio Is Good

The South Holt Junior and Senior High faculty for the school year 1982-83 consisted of nineteen teachers and two administrators. The group was made up of ten women and eleven men. With this staff and a student body number nearly 200, most classes were small presenting a desirable environment for learning.

Mr. Jim Carter
Typing, Vocational Clerical Procedures, Accounting, Typing 7
M.S. in Business Education
Northwest Missouri State University
Maryville, Missouri

Mrs. Jacque Defenbaugh
Beginning Art, Advanced Art, Art 7 & 8
B.A. in Applied Art Education
Iowa State University
Ames, Iowa

Mr. Kevin Connell
Director of Guidance
M.S. in Sedondary Education
Northwest Missouri State University
Maryville, Missouri

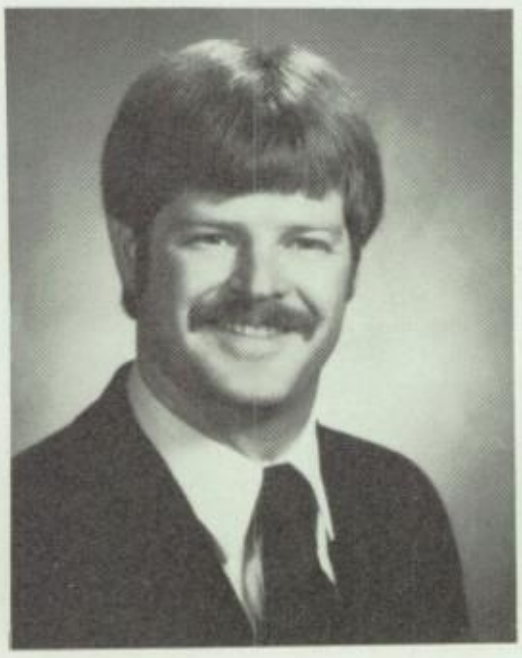
Miss Anne Innes
Vocal Music
Bachelor of Music Education
Oklahoma State University
Stillwater, Oklahoma

Mr. Charles Shanks
Instrumental Music, Marching Band, Concert Band, Music Theory, Junior High Band
B.S. in Education
Northeast Missouri State University
Kirksville, Missouri

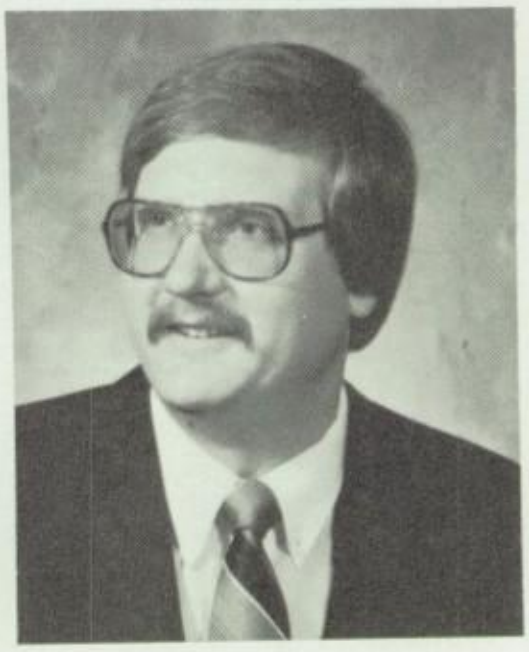
Mrs. Barbara Williams
Speech Correction, Cheerleader Sponsor
B.S. in Education
Moorhead State College
Moorhead, Minnesota

Below and clockwise: Roger Cromer studies the morning paper during contemporary issues class. Coach Terry Ehlers is interviewed by a KQTV reporter. Mrs. Defenbaugh shows a painting made by a student. Mr. Carter gives instructions to a typing class.

Mrs. Maralee Milne
English II, Girls Physical Education
Jr. and Sr. High
B.S. in English and Physical Education
Tarkio College
Tarkio, Missouri



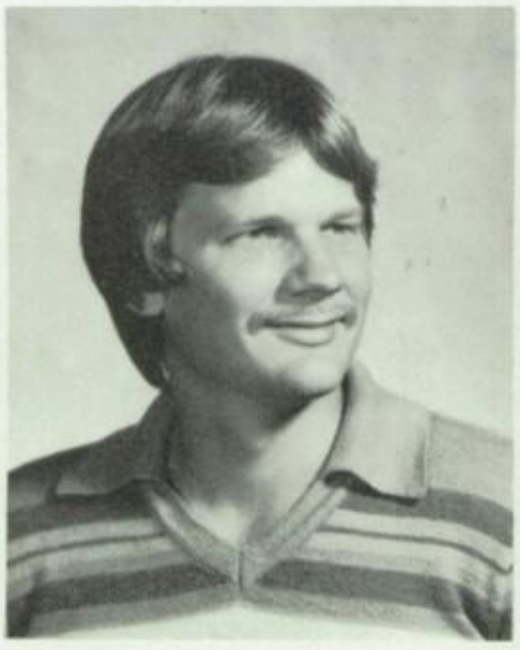
Mr. Larry Jones
World History/American Polical System, World Geography, Contemporary Issues, Sociology/ Psychology, Girls Basketball Coach, Assistant Football Coach
M.S. Secondary Education and Administration
Northwest Missouri State University
Maryville, Missouri



Mr. Terry Ehlers
Contemporary Issues, Sociology/ Psychology, American History, History 7, Head Football Coach, Junior Varsity Basketball Coach, Junior High Track Coach
B.S. Education
Concordia College
Seward, Nebraska

Faculty Sets Goals

Right: Mr. Wharton helping Timmy Hays and Brett Sipes as James Dudeck and Russell Slusher look on.

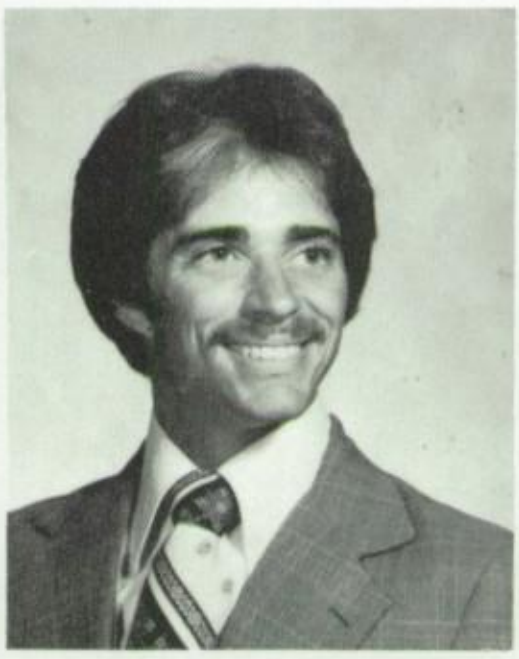


Mr. Sam Wharton
Comprehensive Shop, Advanced Woodworking, Welding/Small Engines, Drafting, Wrestling Coach
B.S. in Industrial Arts
Northwest Missouri State University
Maryville, Missouri

Mrs. Betty Ann McComb
Vocational Home Economics
F.H.A. Advisor, Home Economics 8
B.S. in Vocational Home Economics
Northwest Missouri State University
Maryville, Missouri

Albert Atkins
Student Council Advisor, Elementary and Junior High Physical Education
B.S. in Education
Northwest Missouri State University
Maryville, Missouri

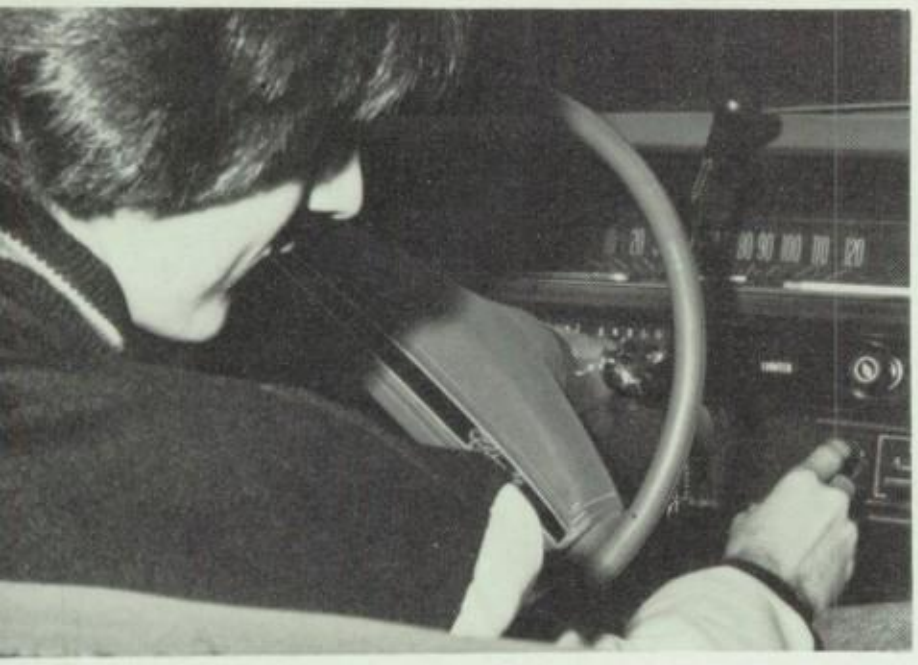
Mrs. Shirley Jasper
Basic Math, Geometry, Algebra I, Mathematics 8
B.S. in Education
Missouri Valley College
Marshall, Missouri



Mr. Craig Barker
Health, Physical Education
Drivers Education, Assistant Football Coach, Head Coach Boys Basketball, Boys and Girls Track Coach
B.S. in Education, Physical Education and Health
Missouri Western State College
St. Joseph, Missouri

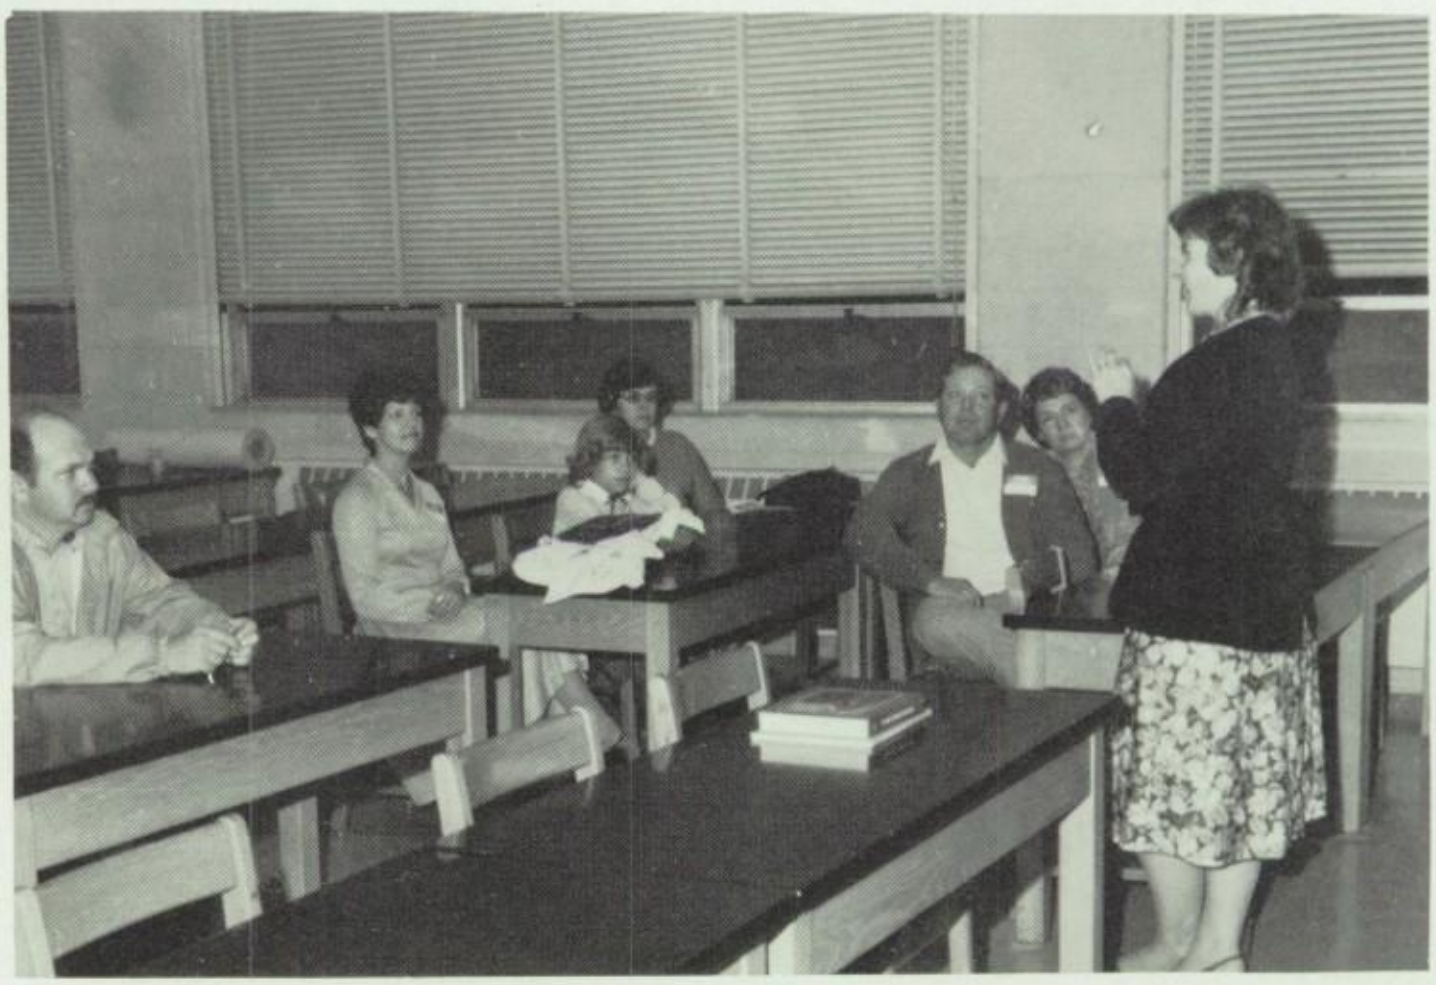
Mrs. Betty Waller
English III, English I, Journalism, English 7, KNIGHT TIMES advisor
Bachelor of Journalism
University of Missouri
Columbia, Missouri

Faculty Completes Goals

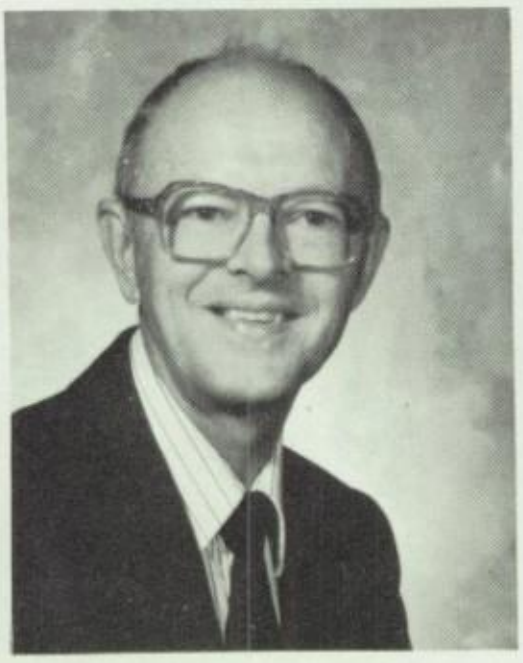


Below and clockwise: Mrs. Stuart explains her science classes to interested parents during the annual open house. Dennis Buckles starts the drivers education car as he practices his driving skills under the direction of Mr. Craig Barker. Albert Atkins presents an award to Andy Hall during the Junior High Football Banquet.

Mrs. Nancy Freeman
College Prep. English, English 8, English 7
M.A. in English
Northwest Missouri State University
Maryville, Missouri



Mrs. Phyllis Danner
Librarian
B.S. in Education
Northwest Missouri State University
Maryville, Missouri



Mr. Victor Buntz
Biology, Physics, CAVALIER Advisor
A.B. in Chemistry and Education
Tarkio College
Tarkio, Missouri

Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart
Chemistry, Physical Science
Science 7 & 8
B.S. in Education
Northwest Missouri State University

South Holt Has A Full Curriculum

The curriculum at South Holt reflects the belief that each person should have the opportunity to develop intellectually, physically, socially, and vocationally in keeping with his developmental ability. These opportunities should allow each individual to profit from appropriate educational experiences at South Holt.

English
- English I, II, III, IV
- Journalism
- Speech

Social Studies
- American History
- Geography
- World History/American Political System
- Physchology/Sociology
- Contemporary Issue

Mathematics
- Basic Mathematics
- Algebra I
- Algebra II/Trigonometry
- Geometry
- Advanced Mathematics

Natural Science
- Physical Science
- Biology
- Physics
- Chemistry

Fine Arts
- Band
- Chorus
- Art I, II, III, IV

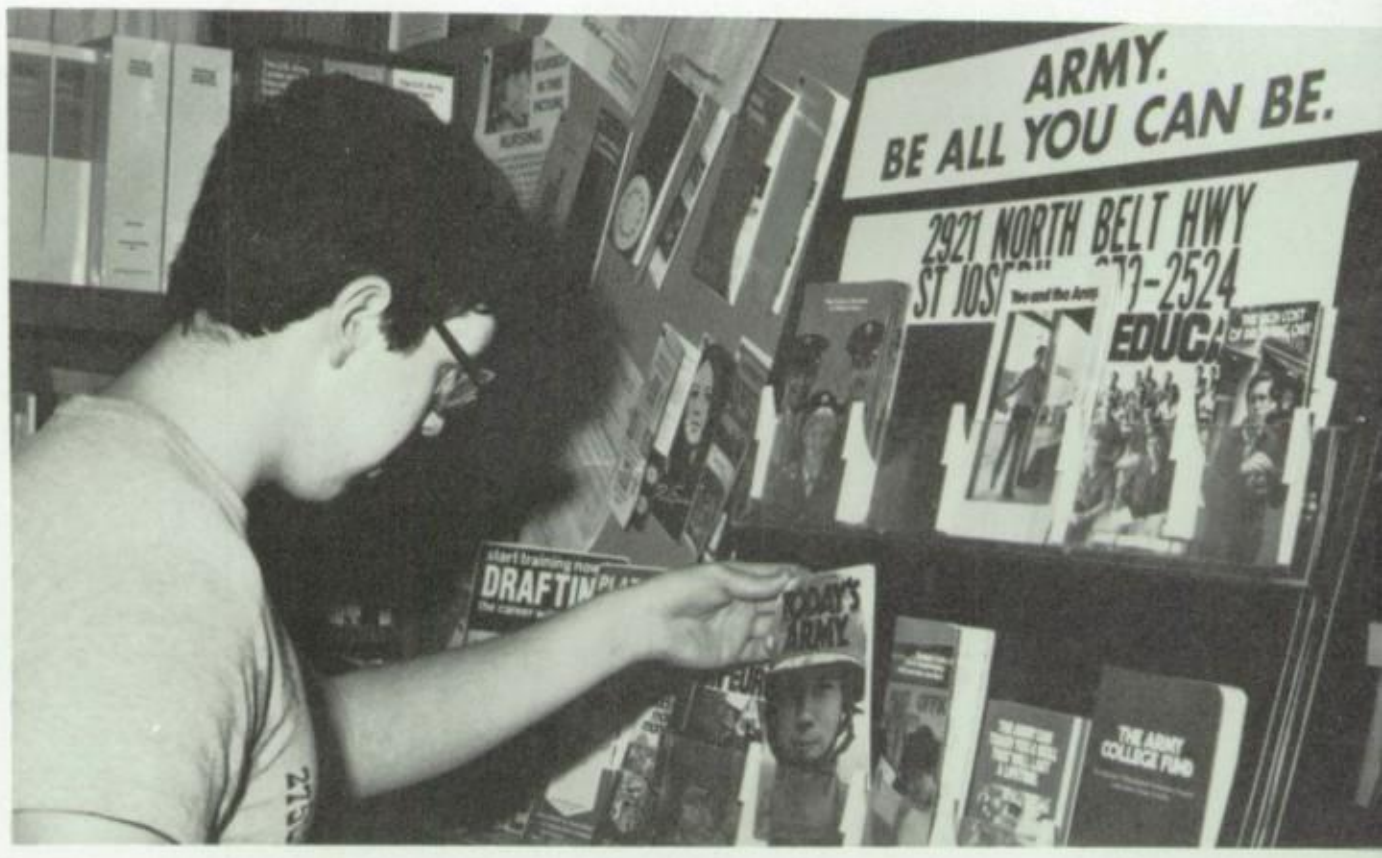
Home Economics
- Home Economics I, II
- (semester courses)
- Clothing/Personal Culture
- Family Relations/Child Development
- Tailoring/Family Foods

Busines
- Typing
- Accounting
- Vocational Clerical Procedures
- Shorthand

Industrial Arts
- Composite Shop
- Drafting
- Machine Shop
- Small Engines/Welding

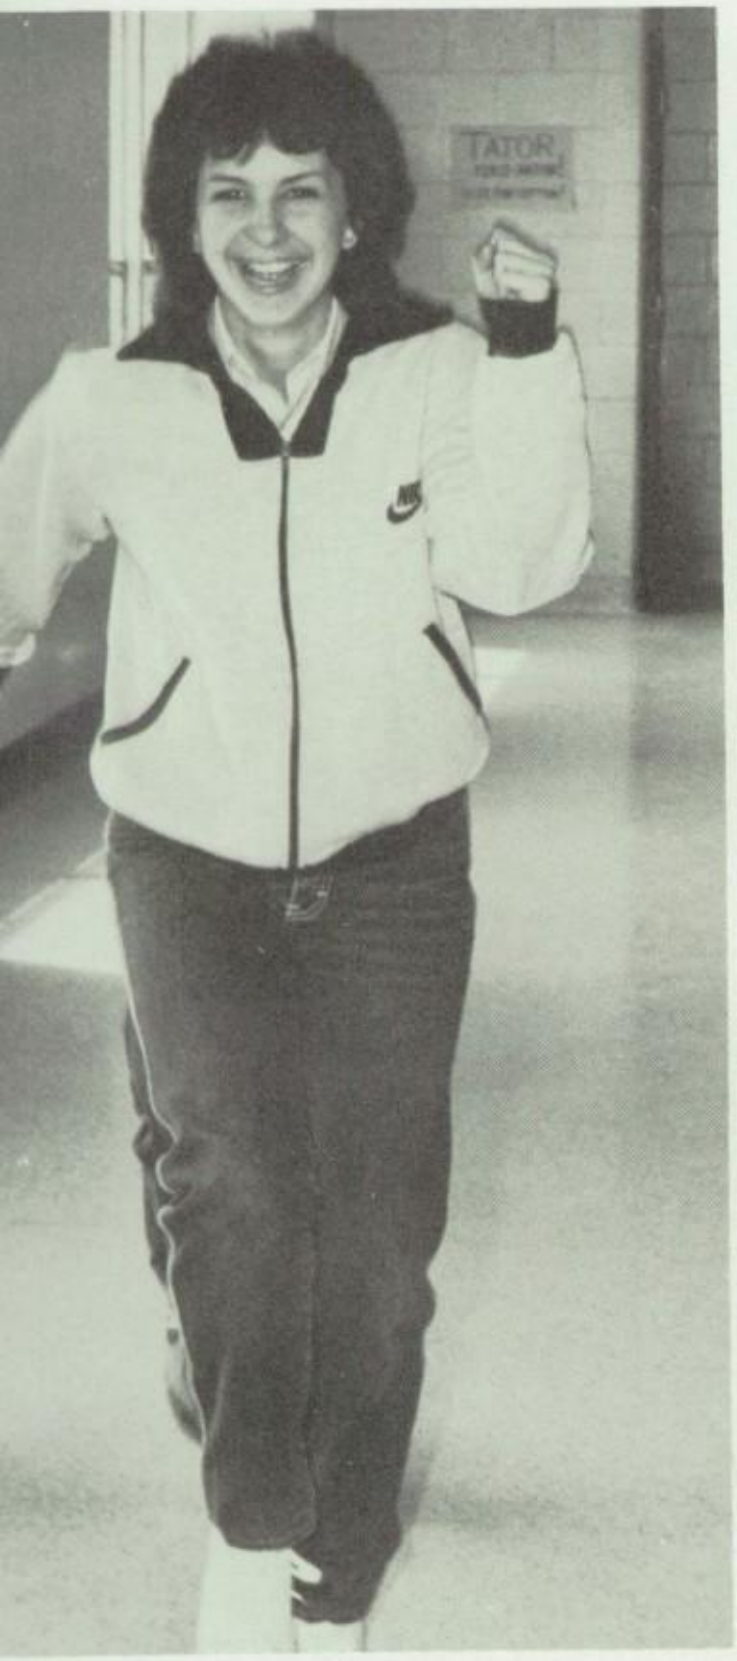
Physical Education and Health
- Drivers Education/Health
- Physical Education I, II
- Athletic Physical Education

N.S. Hillyard Area Vocational School
- Air Conditioning and Refrigeration I, II
- Auto Body Repair I, II
- Auto Mechanics I, II
- Building Trades I, II
- Drafting I, II
- Machine Shop i, II
- Welding I, II
- Electronics I, II
- Agri-Industrial Mechanis I, II
- Graphic Arts I, II
- Data Processing
- Health Technology



Above and clockwise: Mr. Connell counseling a student on the phone. Craig Buckles checks the military career shelf in the library.

PERSONALITIES



Above and clockwise: Kristin Lark jogs down the hall. Kelly Kunkel, Kelly Steeby, Spencer Sisk, and Dennis Buckles fooling around in the halls during Homecoming. Sharing a laugh during lounge are Craig Buckles and Richard Ottman.

Alex Fink
President
James Dudeck
Vice-President

Marcia Weber
Secretary
Colette Sommer
Treasurer

Mark Howell
Student Council
Julie Phelan
Student Council

Lynn Brock
Todd Hall

Chris Cromer
Amy Hughes

Freshmen Look Ahead

The freshman class of 1983 consists of only 21 students, but don't let the size of the class fool you. This year's freshmen have shown us that they are very eager and ready to accept the challenges of high school.

This year, as all freshmen have done in the past, they had the challenge of County Government Day. Each student has to write an essay about that day he spent at county government. All essays are judged and the top three essays are sent to district competition. This year as always in the past we have had a student's essay place in the top three. Alex Fink's essay placed third in competition in Holt County on County Government Day.

Right: Amy Hughes and Marcia Weber just standing around waiting for class to start.

Far left corner: Mark Howell working in the shop. Left: Donna Luce gives her campaign speech for county government. Below: Todd Hall and James Dudeck do a dance at Freshman Initiation.

Jimmy Elder
Kay Guyer
Eric Huntsman
Joyce Klaasmeyer
Ray Meyer
Linda Moody

Mona Markt
Spencer Sisk
Donna Luce
Jeff Hughes
Stacey House

Class of '85 Looks Toward Future

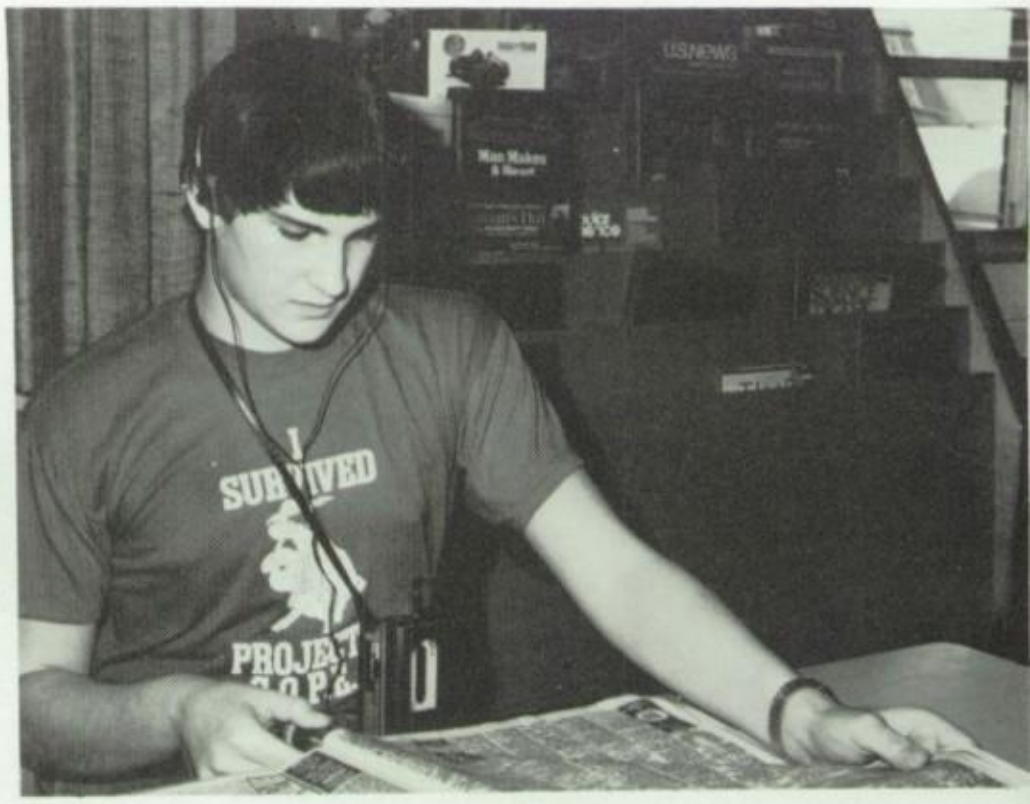
The sophomores were involved in many school activities throughout the year.

Nine members of the class were selected as provisionary members of National Honor Society and many students were also involved in sports, music and other school organizations. Maurice Noellsch was selected to attend the Sophomore Pilgrimage at Jefferson City.

In the fall the class took a trip to Hillyard Vocational Technical School in St. Joseph to tour the school's facilities and learn about the programs it has to offer.

Spring brought about a sock hop, which was sponsored to earn money for the 1984 prom.

The sophomore class looks forward to a bright future with enthusiasm and high hopes.



Above: Gary Kreek listens to the sound of his tape player as he reads the daily newspaper.

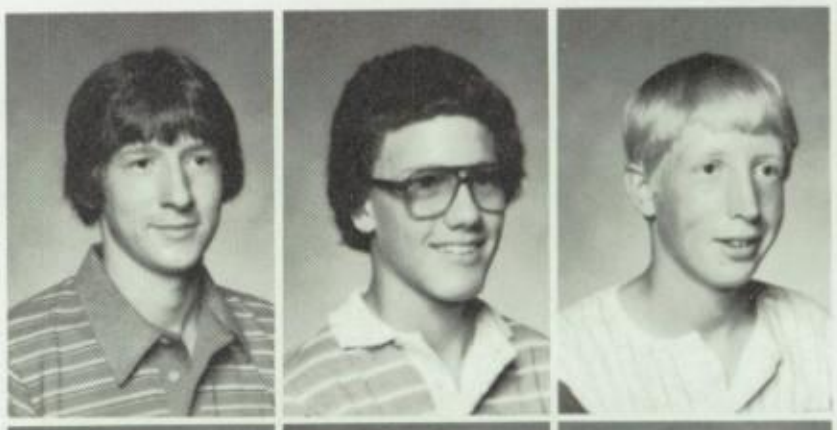
Teresa Crider
Kelly Kunkel
Debbie Hunziger
Aaron Luce
Keeisha Collins
Craig Lark

Russell Neiderhouse
Pam Elliott
Gary Kreek
Linda Burton
Shawn Guyer
Lisa Meyer

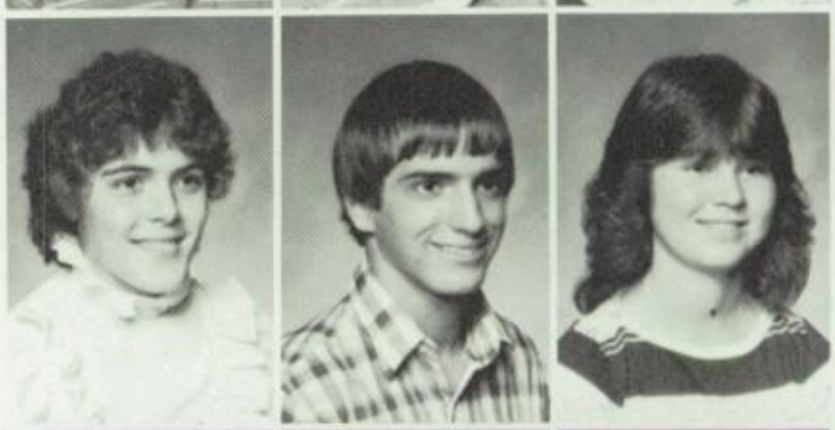
Carol Buckles
Keith Hurst
Carri Thompson
Richard Ottman
Becky Weis
Dwayne Carroll

Shelly Scroggins
Brett Scroggins
Jenny Rayhill
Shelly Grimm (Moved)
Patty Eggman (Moved)

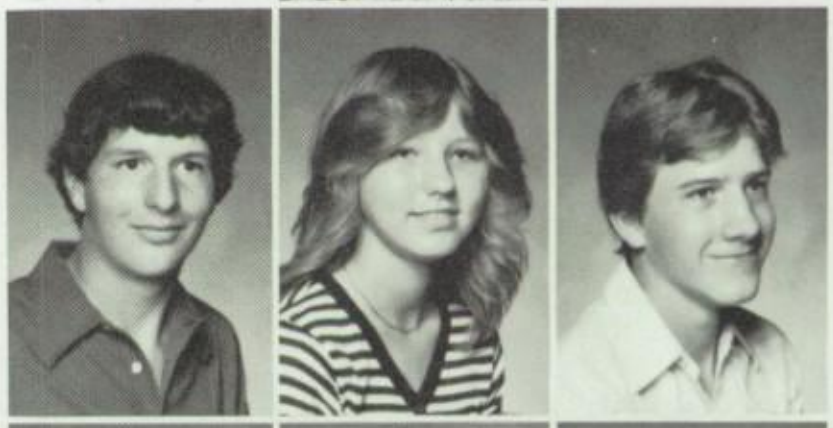
Dennis Buckles
President
Mark Nickols
Vice-President
Mitch Williams
Secretary



Diann Pierson
Treasurer
Maurice Noellsch
Student Council
Heidi Fitzmaurice
Student Council



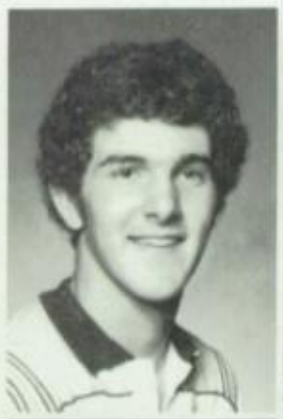
Steven Meyer
Joann Hoover
Andy Kurtz



Paula Hicks
Randy Hill
Mary Ann Howell

Carla Bender
John Dozier

Left and clockwise: Diann Pierson, Joann Hoover and Teresa Crider have a conference while they wait for the 3:15 bell to ring. Shelly Scroggins concentrates on her saxaphone solo at the pre-contest concert. The sophomores wait patiently on the bus before their trip to Hillyards.



Brad Derr
President
Carol Dudeck
Vice-President

Tracey Scroggins
Secretary
Anna Book
Treasurer

Jeff Cotton
Student Council
Dana Brunk
Student Council

Linda Wilson
Shane McWilliams

Tracy Hurst
Kyle Carmean

Juniors Strive To Be The Best

The Junior class, sponsored by Kevin Connell and Mrs. Phyllis Dannar, has worked extremely hard this year to be the very best in every area.

Members of the class worked together to earn money for the prom, which they held for the seniors in April, and to start saving for the senior trip.

The class was credited with being the class with the highest percentage of its members on the honor rolls for each of the four quarters.

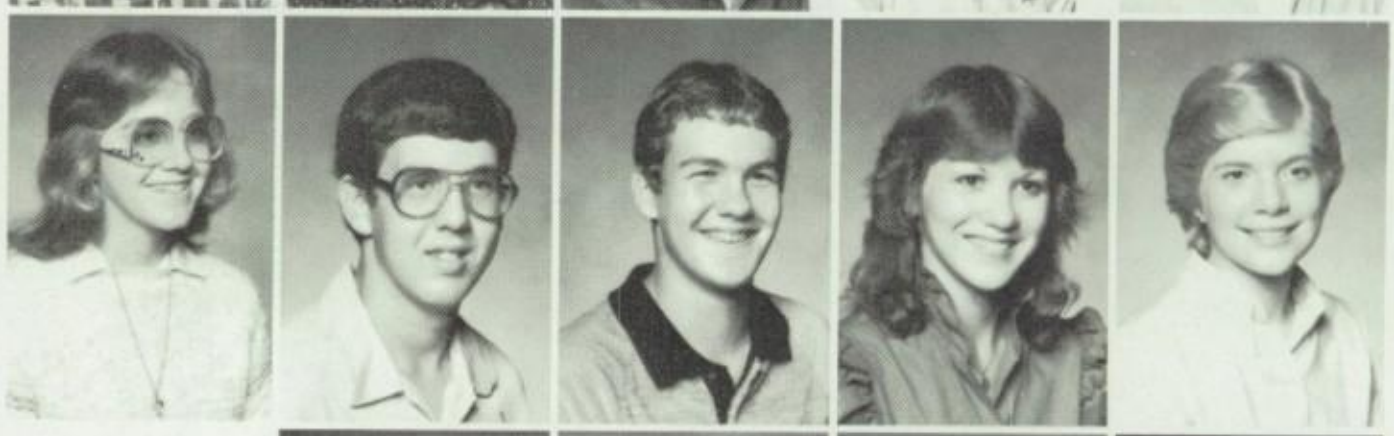
Almost every member of the class was involved in a club or extra-curricular activity, such as band, chorus, FHA, sports, or other organizations during the year. The Junior class was represented at the State Music Contest, the State Track Meet, and in all-conference teams in basketball.

Above and clockwise: Kyle Carmean is named "most improved wrestler" by Coach Wharton. Kristin Lark and Rhonda Hunziger do aerobic walking in the lounge. Jeff Cotton decorates the Christmas tree.

Below and clockwise: Anna Book and Dana Brunk, hosts for career day. Todd Kunkel, Stephen Hicks, Carol Dudeck and Julie Hall, the newly elected officers of the National Honor Society.

Rhonda Hunziger
Danny Weber
David Baker
Vincent Meyer
Kim Nowling

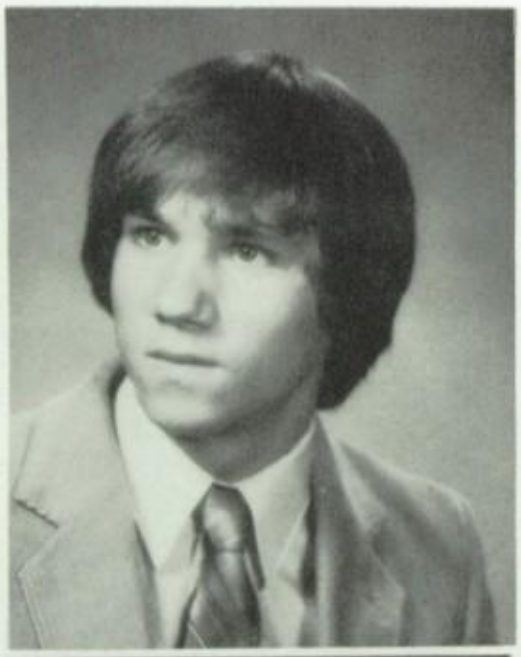
Darin Crider
Kristin Lark
Jeff Huntsman
Susie Steeby
Todd Kunkel



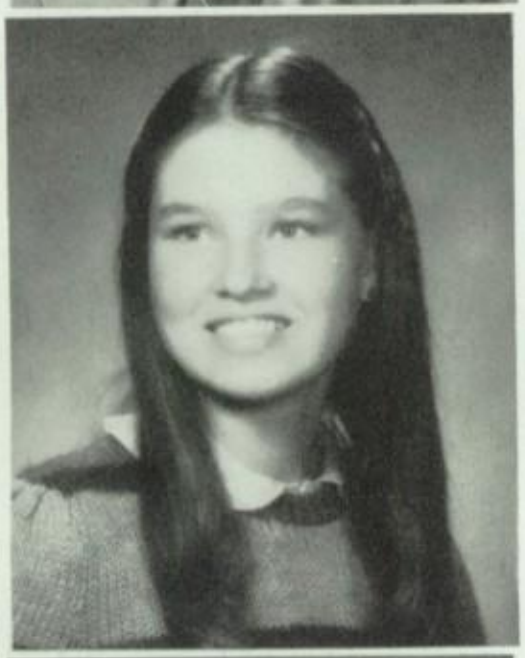
Rhonda Hughes
Craig Buckles
Stephen Hicks
Lori Cromer
Penny Kurtz

Paul Plummer
Rhonda Hays
Julie Hall
Ryan Radley

Not pictured:
John Harvey
Shelly VanTries

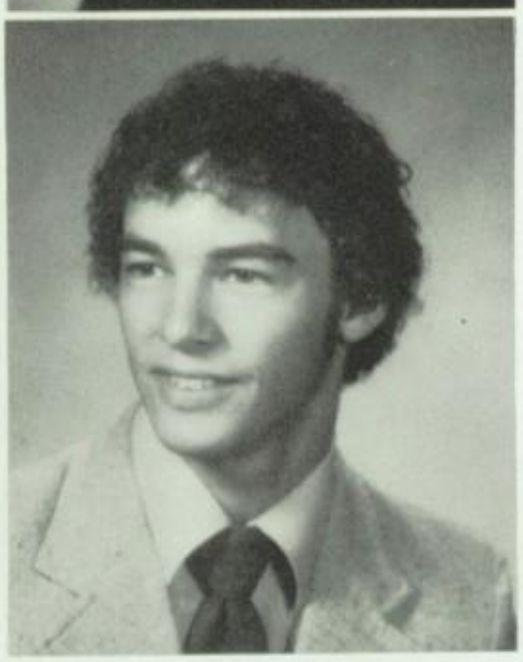


Edwin Patterson
President



Amy Fitzmaurice
Vice-President

Lora Scroggins
Secretary



Dennis Prussman
Treasurer

New Horizons Lie Ahead

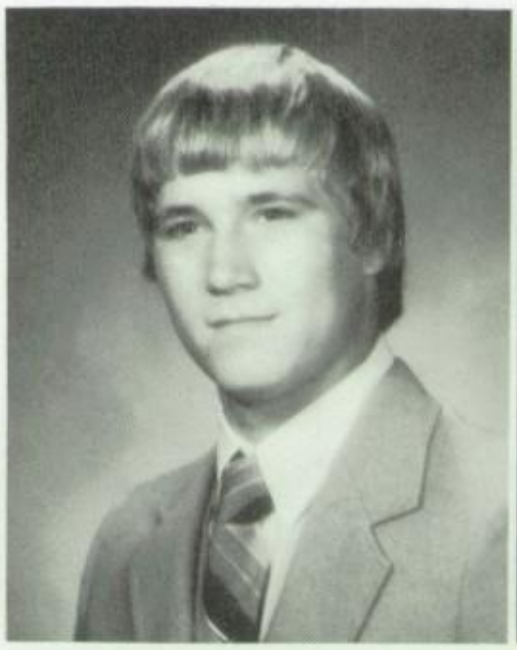
In future years these students will remember many unforgettable moments here at South Holt. They have shared these memories in many activities as well as in the classroom. Many will remain friends for a lifetime. This final year has probably been the busiest for them. Some making plans to further their education and others planning their future in other directions.

Keeping in mind all they have gained here at South Holt, these students look forward to the future with high hopes.

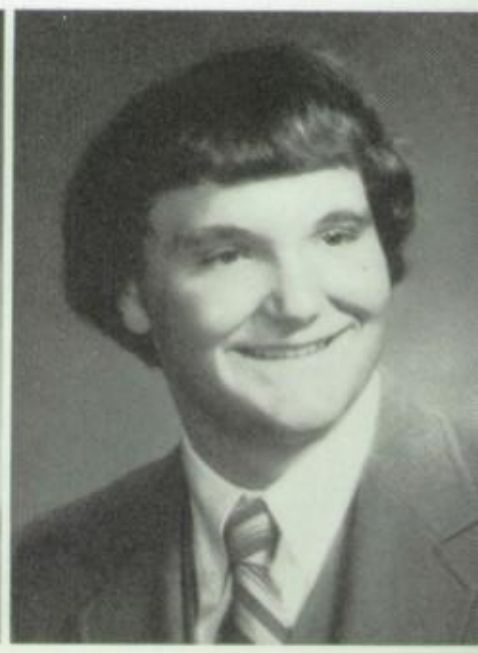
Whatever he or she does with their life they know they will do their best and do it well as they have here at South Holt.

GOOD LUCK SENIORS and we wish you much happiness and success in the future!

Above: Sue Cook and senior advisor Mrs. Shirley Jasper serving tea at the senior chili supper.



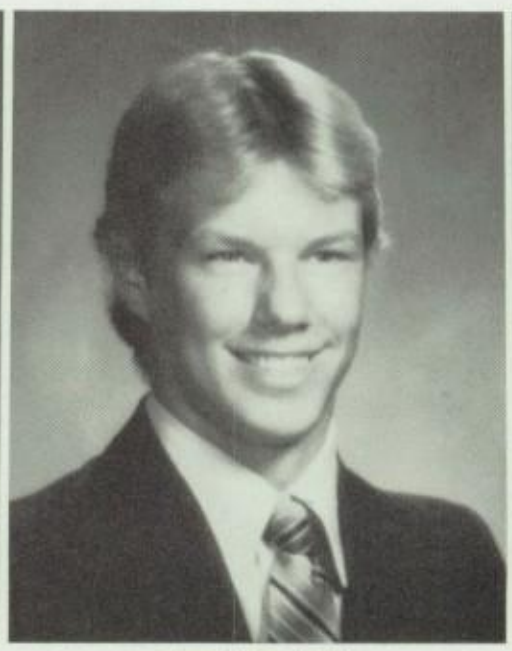
Russell Slusher
Student Council
President



John Sommer
Student Council
Vice-President

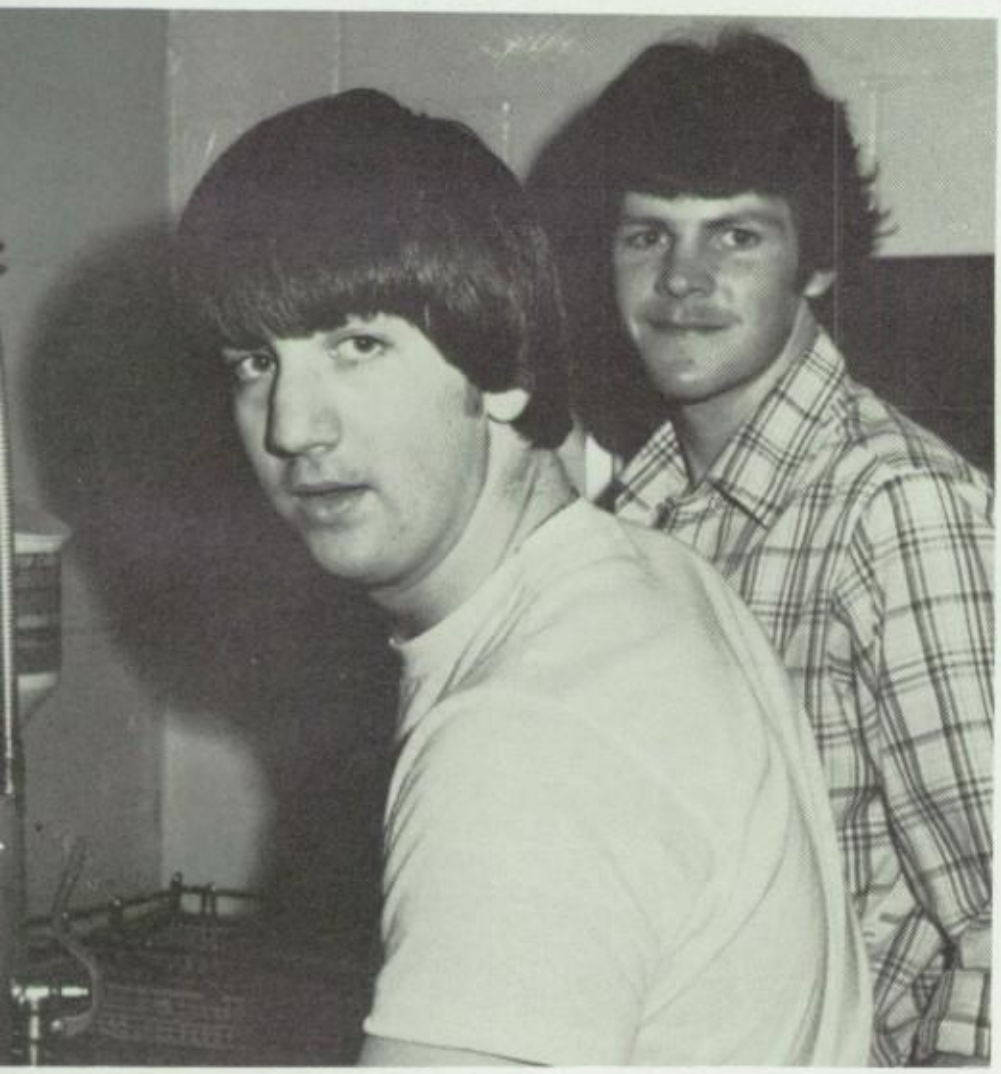
Junior Gillenwater

Cheryl Hicks



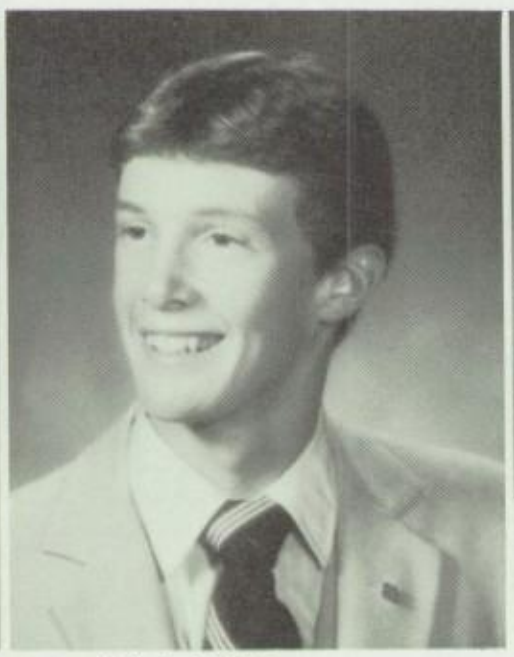
Jeff Rayhill

Paul Kurtz



Above and left: A poster that was hung on the wall in the high school. It was drawn by some seniors. Kirby Meyer and Brett Derr helping in the kitchen at the chili supper.

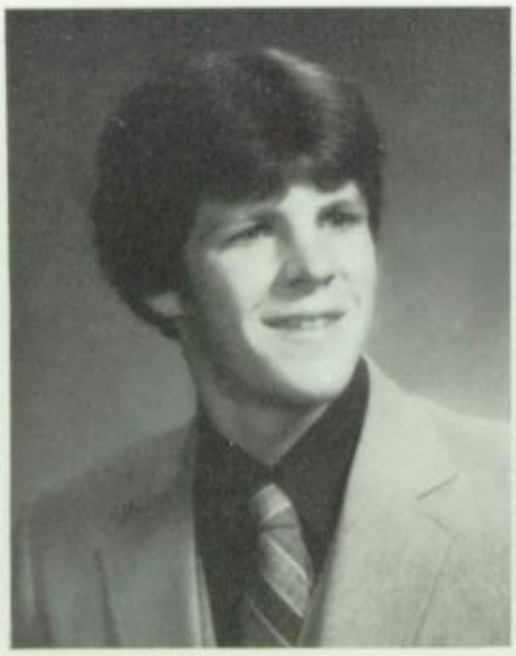
Sherry Buckles
Student Council
Secretary



Wyle Williams
Student Council
Treasurer

Kelly Steeby

Richard Wilson

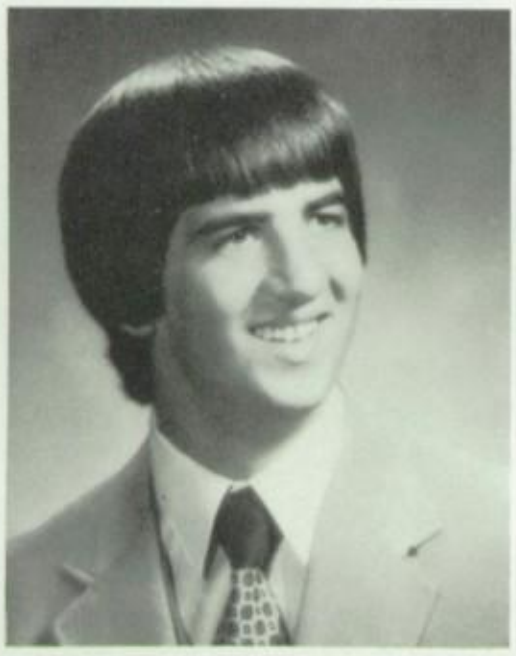


Brett Derr

Sue Cook

Seniors Reach Their Goal

Money making projects take a lot of time and effort. The seniors had their share of making money for their trip. They did this by having bake sales, car washes, cake raffles, sponsoring skating parties, chili suppers and concession stands.



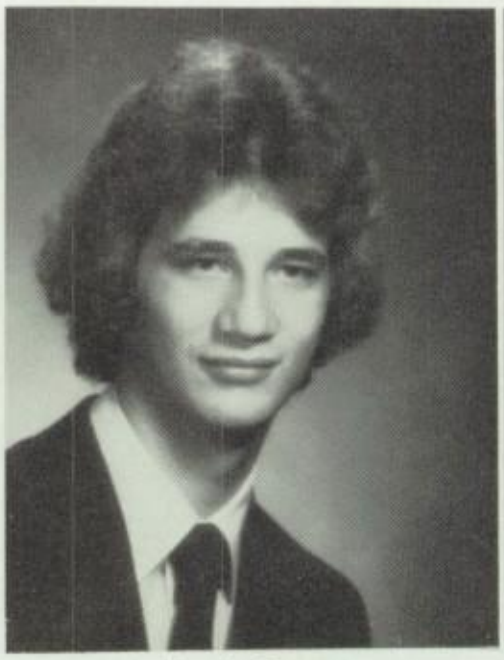
Kirby Meyer

All an Fansher

Roger Cromer

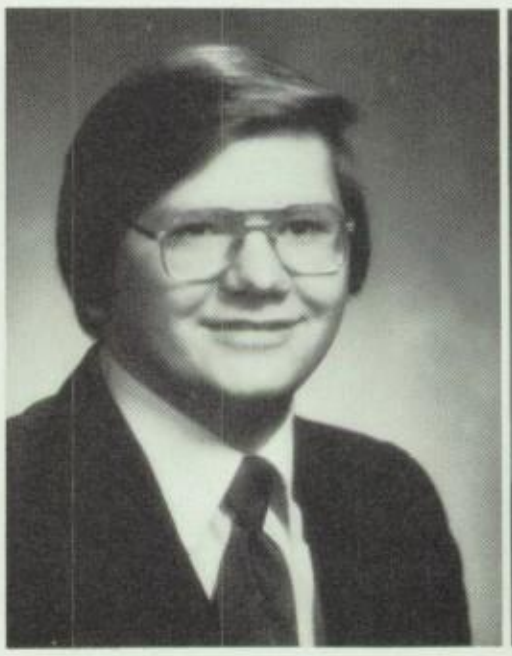
Below: Seniors earn money by working in the concession stand.

Patty Hunziger

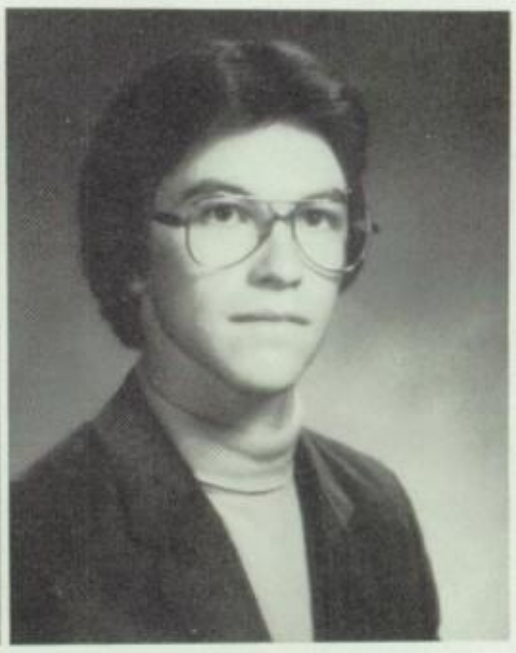


Kevin Burton

Sherry Matthews



Ray Stansbury



Jeff Phelan

Above and left: Lori McWilliams and Cheryl Hicks raffling off a cake. Steve Howell washing dishes at the chili supper.

David Fuller

Sondra Snapp

Tina DeVooght

Not Shown

A Miner's Breakfast

Mothers are always important parts of our lives. They hosted a delicious and unforgettable breakfast on the a.m. of the seniors' last day of school.

All seniors received a tin cup with his or her name engraved on it. They also received tin plates with all classmates' names engraved on them and a bandanna used as a napkin and a treasure jar filled with gold coins (chocolates).

Joyce Moore

Greg Delp

Above: Left to right: Dennis Prussman, Kevin Burton, and Sondra Snapp attend the early morning senior breakfast.

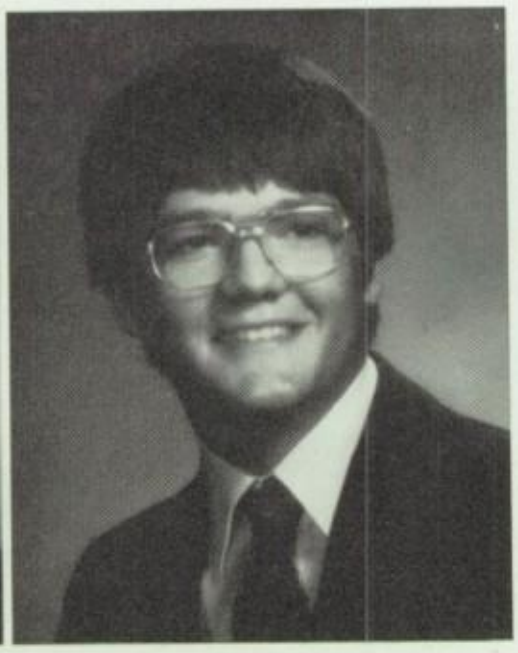
Lori McWilliams

Kirby Turner

Allison Plummer

Steve Howell

Lisa Lark

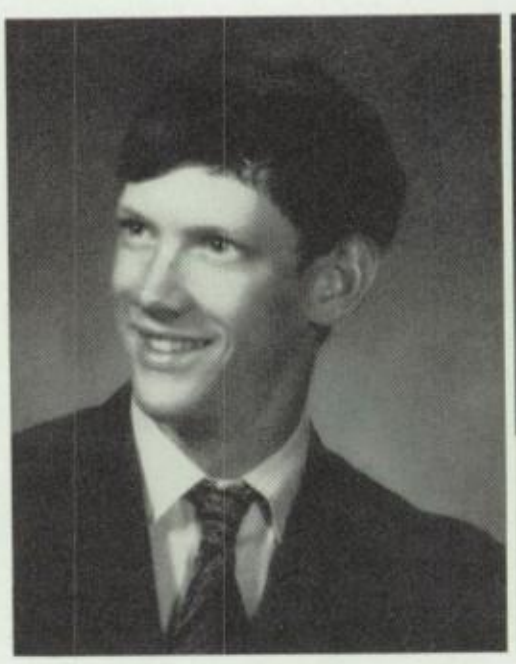


Richard Greene

Brett DeVooght

Rhonda Clinkenbeard

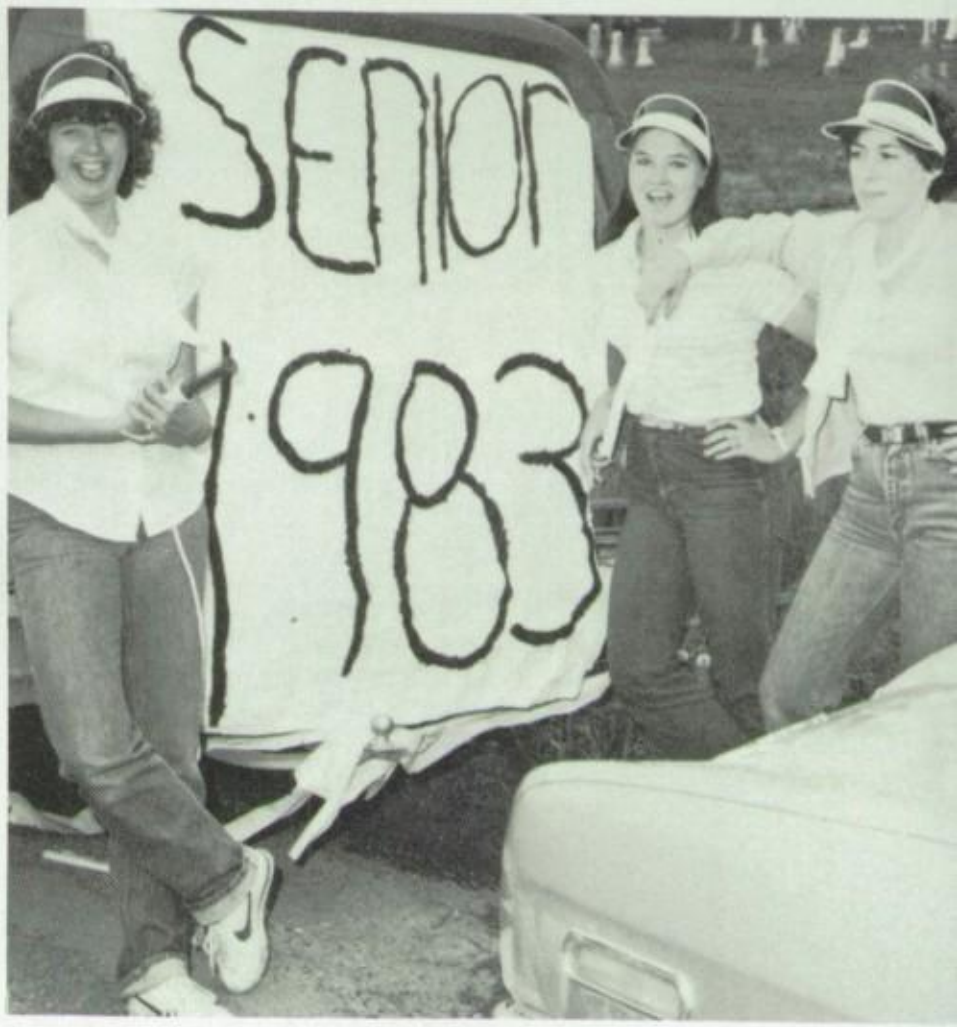
Left and clockwise: Roger Cromer and Richard Greene work on a transister radio. Greg Delp gets involved during Homecoming spirit week.



Robbie Cain

Becky Normile

Right and clockwise: John Sommer supervises, Patty Hunziger decorates Dennis Prussman for the senior parade. Sherry Buckles, Amy Fitzmaurice, and Lora Scroggins wait to hear their last school bell ring. Seniors Sue Cook, Lora Scroggins Sondra Snapp, Sherry Buckles, and Amy Fitzmaurice pose as cheerleaders after the senior-faculty basketball game. Seniors take part at pep assembly.



The Day Finally Came

The day finally came that they had waited on for so long. But it came with mixed feelings. Happiness for what they finally achieved and sadness for having to leave the familiar surroundings that they had with friends for most of their growing up days.

Below and clockwise: Roger Cromer gives a big smile. Richard Wilson does his homework during lounge. Seniors make a mad dash to their cars as the final bell rings. Allan Fansher proudly displays his gun case. Kevin Burton shows his artistic ability.

Seniors Unite For Last Time

After an all night bus ride we arrived at Pikes Peak at 10 a.m. It was spitting snow so our view was rather limited but pretty on the way up. At the top there was a gift shop and cafe, so we browsed for about 45 minutes then headed back down.

Our heads were spinning and we were dizzy because of the altitude, which was 14,110 feet above sea level.

Our next stop was Royal Gorge. We were awed by it's depth. After crossing it by foot, gondola, and riding to the bottom on a tram, we departed for our motel, the Mel Haven in Colorado Springs.

Awakening early the next morning we left at 8 a.m. to site see through the Garden of the Gods, Seven Falls, and the Cheyenne Mountain Zoo. On our return trip we made a short stop at the Alpine Slide. Everyone had a good time riding down a winding path on a board.

Amid the evening rush hour traffic we slowly inched our way to the Days Inn Motel in Denver long enough to unload the bus and be back on the road again to Casa Bonitas. We were impressed by its beauty and size as well as its ample portions on our platters.

We were surprised to find that its total worth was $13½ million and that each Saturday night they sell out their capacity of between 1,000 and 1,500 people five times.

Back at the motel we relaxed with a swim in the pool while it was raining.

It began to snow early the next morning. All roads leading above 6,000 feet were closed. This cancelled our trips to Central City and Cinderella City. After a short delay we decided to go to the Denver Museum and Planetarium. While there they put on a special Laserium show to the music of the Beatles. It was interesting to watch the beats of the music dance out with different laser light patterns. We also visited the Southwest Shopping Center, which is the largest between Denver and Chicago.

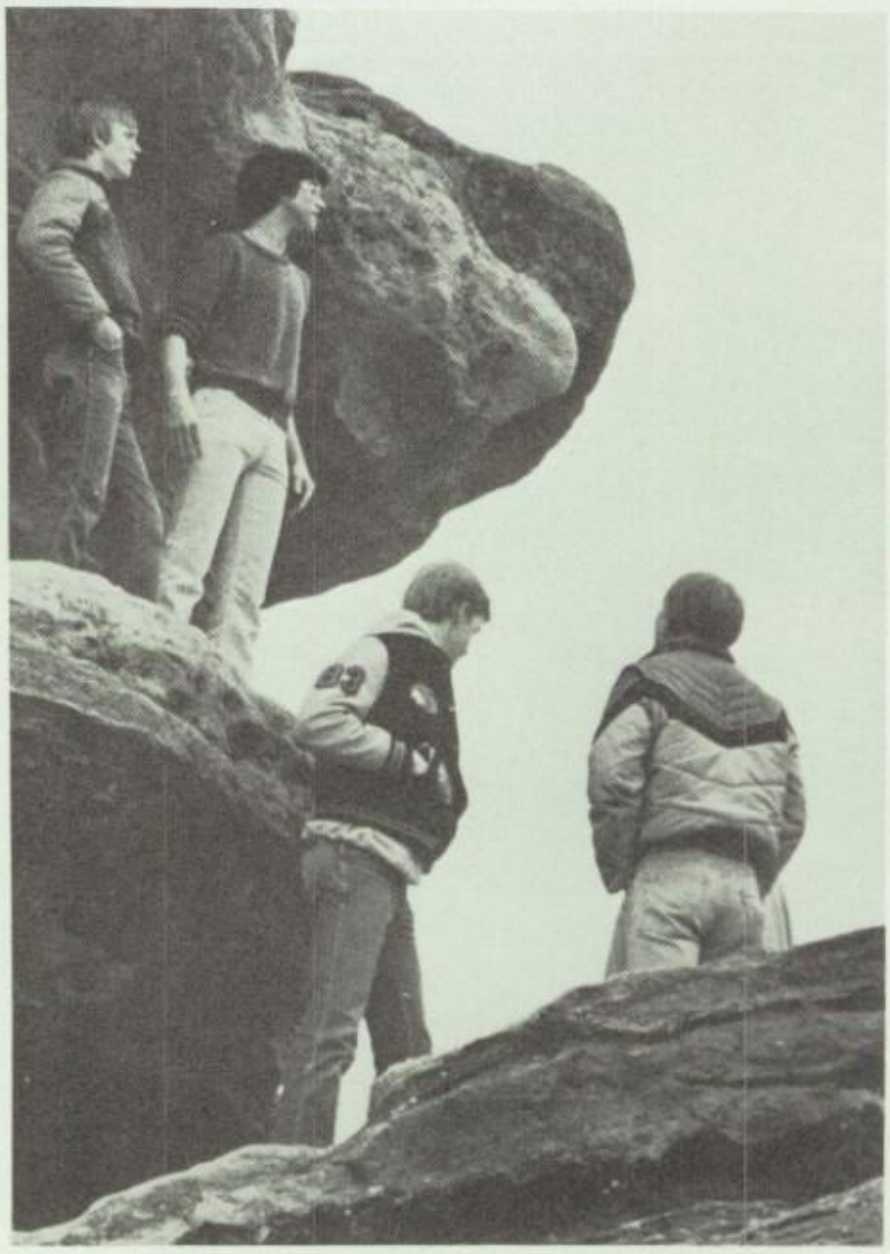
Some of us joined in on a snowball fight in the parking lot while waiting for the others, the main target being Mr. Munro. At 8:05 a.m. on Wednesday, 28 of the seniors of '83 plus five chaperones loaded the bus for the long ride home. It was slow but we passed the time with water fights, ice, and pillow fights, taking time out for an occasional restroom, gas and food stop.

In Holton, Kansas, we sat down together for the last time as a group for pizza at the Pizza Hut.

12:05 found us pulling into the parking lot of the school exhausted and ready for bed and the long awaited evening ahead, Graduation.

It's funny how close we all have become through the years. It's good that we have had a chance to spend some of our last days together as a group. There is no doubt that we will all miss each other in the future.

Above and clockwise: Seniors wait for the trip up Pikes Peak to begin. A sensational view from the train on the way to the top of Pikes Peak. The group stretches their legs by climbing on the rocks at the Garden of the Gods. The monkeys are the main attraction for some of the seniors.



Above and clockwise: Kirby Meyer, Mr. Connell, and Paul Kurtz relax outside their room at the Mel Haven Motel. In front of the bus, the seniors pose for a group shot at the Garden of the Gods. Roger Cromer reads a sign on the Royal Gorge Bridge showing where a Bunji jump was made for television. Roger Cromer, Jeff Phelan, Wyle Williams, and John Sommer stand on top of a rock at the Garden of the Gods.

Graduation Finally Arrives

Anita Kurtz played "Pomp & Circumstance" for the processional and recessional. Mr. Normile opened the program with the invocation and the senior choir sang "If Only You Believe."

Mr. Normile's sermon was preceded by the brass sextet playing "Overture for Brass." Members of the sextet are Jeff Cotton, John Sommer, Maurice, Noellsch, Todd Kunkel, Carol Dudeck and Jenny Rayhill.

After Mr. Normile spoke Richard Brown presented scholarships and awards.

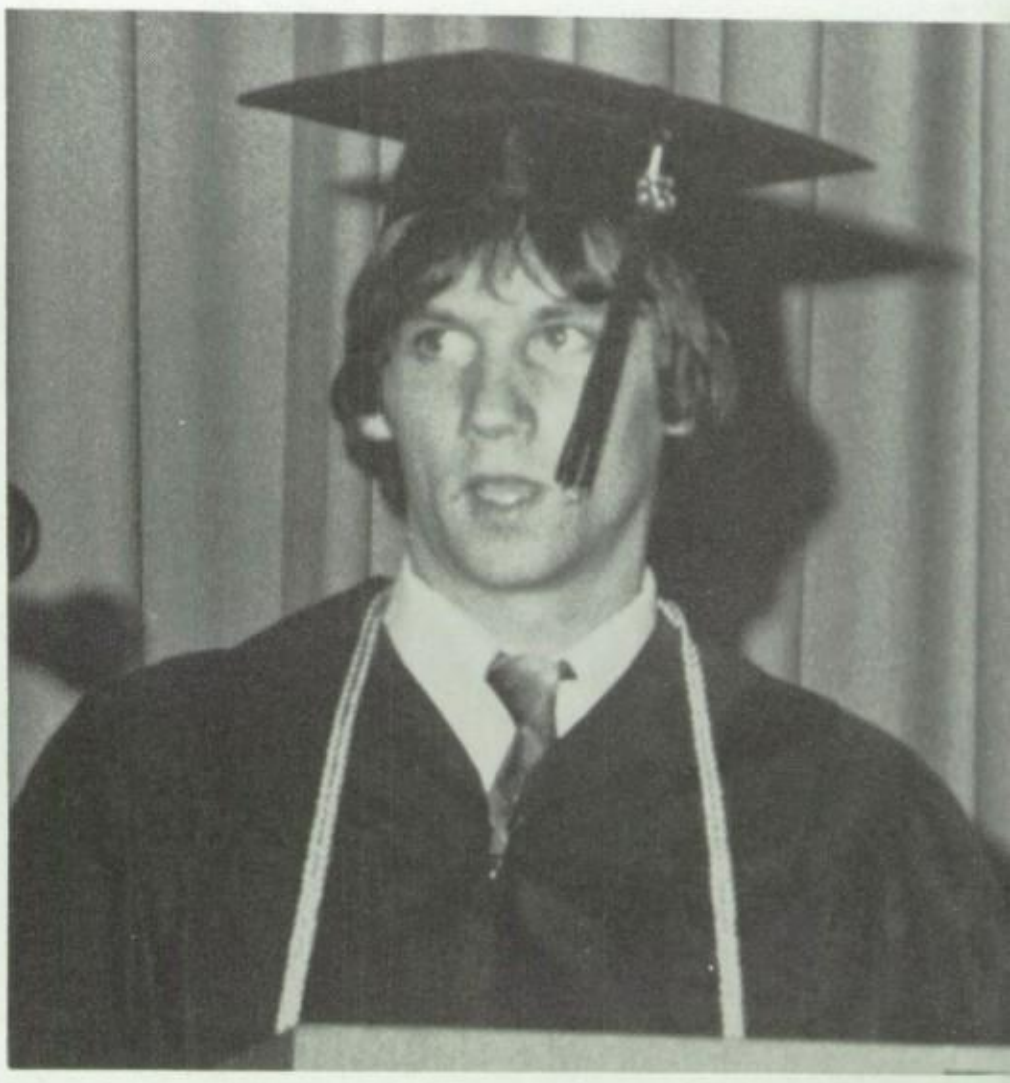
Then John Sommer, Sondra Snapp and Sherry Buckles sang "Walk Tall."

After Edwin Patterson's graduate address Patty Hunziger and Amy Fitzmaurice sang "It's Time for Moving On."

Superintendent George Munro introduced Mr. Allison for the Commencement speech.

After that Mr. Brown presented the graduating class and diplomas were presented by School Board members Irwin Sommer, Bernard Delaney and Don Buckles. Mr. Normile closed the program with the benediction.

The moment most seniors had waited for for a long time had finally arrived. Some left the gym a bit sad and teary-eyed, while others left smiling and happy. A couple of students even left "whooping and hollering." But however they left, they were all relieved that they had finally "made it."



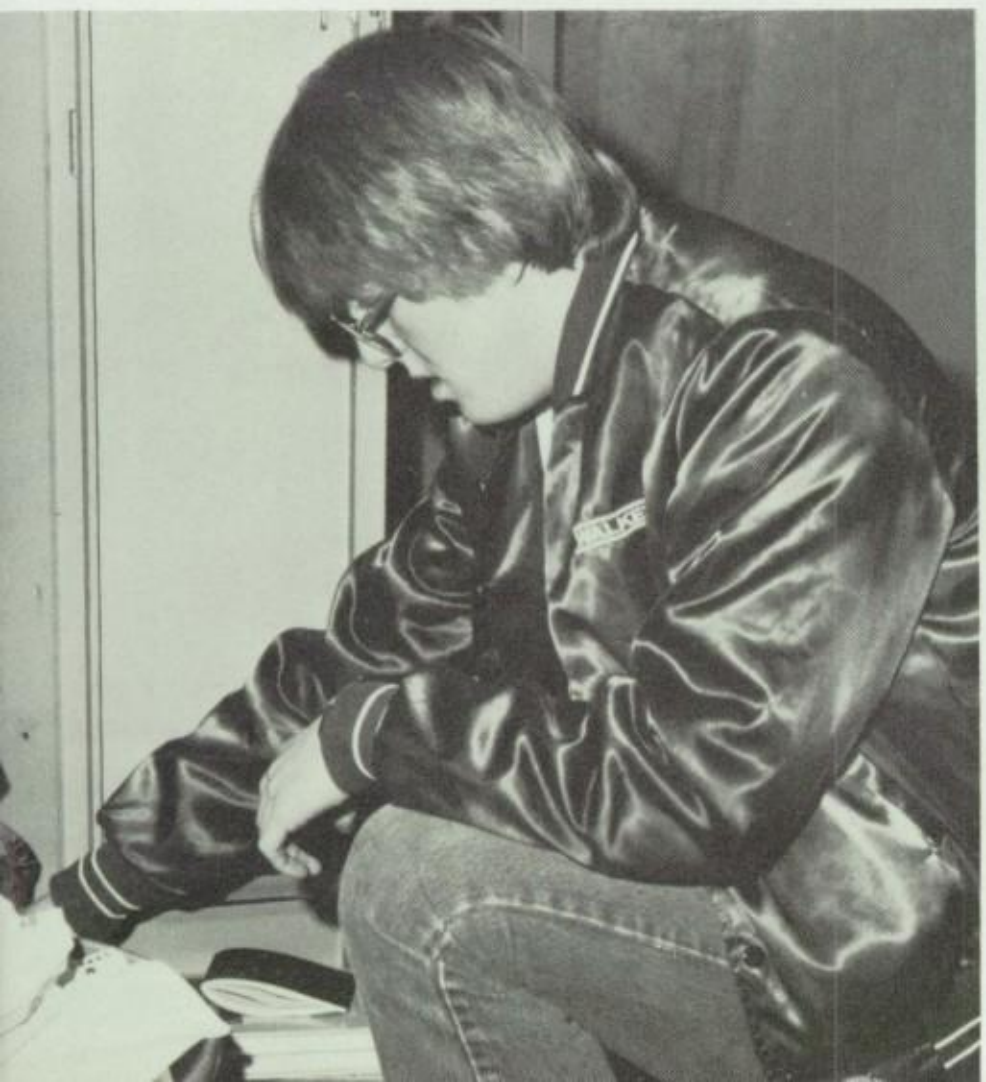
Right and clockwise: The Rev. Tom Normile gives the Baccalaureate address. Seniors in processional. Edwin Patterson addresses the Senior Class. Danny Weber and Dana Brunk lead the seniors in the processional.

Left and clockwise: Patty Hunziger receives her diploma from Board of Education member Don Buckles. Joell Allison gives the Commencement address. Senior choir at Commencement. Honor students from left: Amy Fitzmaurice, Cheryl Hicks, Sherry Matthews, Roger Cromer, Edwin Patterson, Wyle Williams, and Patty Hunziger.

As we search for new tomorrows...

Above and clockwise: Randy Hill 'concentrates' during a class. Amy Fitzmaurice puts the ball to the hoop for two during the senior faculty basketball game. Seniors enjoy their breakfast hosted by their mothers. Patty Hunziger models her hat for the camera. Lounge privileges are used by Brad Derr as he purchases some chips.

...Please, don't forget the yesterdays!



Above and clockwise: New members of the National Honor Society wait to be installed. Paul Plummer gives us a clue that the year is drawing to a close by emptying his locker. Late for class again is Kristin Lark after being tied to a pole outside the school. Marcia Weber doesn seem happy with having her picture taken. Heidi Fitzmaurice anxiously awaits the dismissal of school.

Sharing a tearful hug after graduation are Amy Fitzmaurice and Lora Scroggins.

As the doors close on the 1982-83 school year, we hope to have captured some of the faces, experiences, and good times spent participating in what has become the building blocks of the future. We hope to help you in remembering the individuals and the groups that helped you to become what you are today and who you will be tomorrow.

As we turn through the pages of life we must realize that we are not closing the book forever, only starting a new chapter. It is the desire of the staff to have caught and saved in pictures the memories that will help you to face the future. In closing we would like to leave you with this thought:

Life! We've been long together,
Through pleasant and through cloudy weather;
'Tis hard to part when friends are dear—
Perhaps 'twill cost a sigh, a tear;
Then steal away, give little warning,
Choose thine own time;
Say not good night—but in the brighter clime
Bid me good morning.

Anna Laetitia Barbauid

The Staff
Amy Fitzmaurice-Editor

The seniors race to their cars to begin the parade on their last day of classes.